SWEDEN sends an idea that interests builders and home-seekers. When concrete, a mixture of sand, gravel and cement, is still soft, just before it sets, gas is introduced into the mixture with the same effect as yeast on bread, fills the concrete with little holes, making it much lighter, less expensive, not diminishing its strength, requiring less weight of steel to hold it up. The result is a concrete like coral.

BRITISH scientists announce successful use of ultra violet rays in treatment of blindness, partial and incipient. Hundreds are applying for treatment and results are extremely good. That is progress.

IN THE next column of the same newspaper page you plunge back into the middle ages, reading of a Jewish pogrom in Vienna organized by the Hakenkreutzlers.

However, Jew baiters are not as powerful as they were in the day of blackest superstitions.

Sixteen of the Hakengreutzlers are in jail and 50 others arrested and under bail.

THE Rev. Dr. Pierce, President Coolidge's spiritual guide, says that a public official needs seven qualities, and Mr. Coolidge has all seven.

Men in public life must keep their promises. Coolidge does it.

No ostentation, hard work. That's Coolidge.

The right relationship with God, absolute honesty, performance of duty without evasion, power to recognize great issues, "clean, not only outside, but inside."

President Coolidge, says the Rev. Dr. Pierce, fills the bill absolutely. He might have added that President Coolidge knows when not to talk, which is most of the time. He didn't say anything about new ideas. They are important also.

THE outside world resents United States domination in moving pictures. Those pictures are marvelous salesmen, selling in all lands American clothing, automobiles, furniture, lamps, and especially the American idea of comfortable living.

SIX of the Indian princes that share with the British taxation of their subjects offer $5,000,000 to help British films displace American films.

As Mr. Mellon said when somebody offered him $70,000,000 cash for his oil company:

"That isn't enough.'

You can't make moving pictures with dollars only, any more than you can sing high C with dollars. You must know how.

GERMANY celebrates the birth of Goethe, calling him greatest of writers, next to Shakespeare. Italy says the greatest next to Shakespeare is Dante, Spain says Cervantes, Greece says Homer. Decide it for yourself.

RALPH MOORE INDICTED AT BEAVER, PA., FOR CHUM'S DEATH

Prisoner Charged With Slaying James Cairns of McDonald.

Police Say Accused Claimed He Fired in Self-defense.

An indictment charging murder was returned yesterday by the Beaver county grand jury, at Beaver, against Ralph Moore, 19, McDonald, Pa., who is alleged to have shot and killed James Cairns, 24, also of McDonald, a fellow camper, during a quarrel over a woman in what is known as "Hell's Half Acre," near the state line, on Tuesday night, June 8.

Story of Shooting.

Moore and Herbert Cook, 20, another chum, were arrested by local police after they had brought Cairns, suffering from a bullet wound in his chest, to the City hospital shortly after the shooting occurred. Cook has also been held as a witness against Moore, who, police says, signed a confession in which he admitted he fired after Cairns attacked him with a club.

The three men had established a camp near the old vehicle bridge west of Smiths Ferry. Moore and Cook claimed that Cairns became quarrelsome when they refused to accompany him to the home of a woman, who resided on the hillside above the creek, and started toward Moore with a club. Cook, they asserted, attempted to stop Cairns and the latter struck him.

Moore, fearing that he was about to be overtaken, stopped, pulled a gun from his pocket and ordered Cairns to halt. When Cairns raised his club to strike him, Moore said that he fired. The bullet passed

WELLER AND HILL, WET, IN NECK-AND-NECK RACE FOR TOGA IN MARYLAND

Senator Has Slight Lead as Rural Counties Offset Heavy Vote Given Congressman in Baltimore.

GROESBECK LOSES MICHIGAN FIGHT

Senator Broussard is Renominated by Louisiana Democrats, While Weeks Wins Vermont Governorship.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 15.—Senator O. E. Weller and Representative John Philip Hill, his "wringing wet opponent, were running a neck-and-neck race today for the Republican senatorial nomination, as late returns drifted in from outlying districts.

At an early hour this morning Weller had a slight lead and claimed the nomination, but the claim was disputed by the Hill leaders.

Hill carried Baltimore city by a wide margin, but the rural counties offset this early lead.

In the latest compilation of returns, Weller had a very narrow margin over Hill.

The figures for 854 precincts out of a total of 1,184 in the state showed: Weller, 23,615; Hill, 23,484.

Late returns emphasized the magnitude of Gov. Ritchie's victory. He carried every city ward and every county in the state, including his opponent's home district.

Green Wins in Michigan.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 15. — Fred W. Green, mayor of Ionia, winner of the Republican nomination for governor in yesterday's primary election, continued today to pile up his lead over Gov. Alex J. FOUR PASTORS WILL RETURN TO M. E. CHURCH CHARGES HERE

North-East Ohio Conference Will be Held in Elyria.

OPENS TUESDAY

Sessions Will be Held in Dr. Edwin Kirby's Church.

Four Methodist Episcopal pastors probably will be returned to their charges here at the annual seession of the North-East Ohio Conference which opens in the First Methodist Episcopal church at Elyria next Tuesday afternoon.

Rev. J. Lloyd McQueen, pastor of the Boyce church and Rev. S. Lee-Whitman, Sr., of the Orchard Grove avenue and Anderson churches, are now completing their first year's work in this city. Rev. George C. Westlake, who came here last April from the Epworth church, Canton, to succeed the late Rev. W. C. Stokes, was appointed for the conference year beginning October 1, 1926. Rev. Dr. Frank G. Fowler, pastor of the First church, came to East Liverpool from Ashtabula in the fall of 1924, to succeed Dr. Isaac L. Wood, who was named superintendent of the Barnesville district.

Bishop Theodore Henderson, Cincinnati, of the Ohio-Kentucky-Indiana area will preside at the conference which will be held in the church of which Dr. Edwin Kirby, formerly of this city, is pastor. Sessions will be conducted throughout the week, the conference ending on Monday, September 27, with the assignment of ministers.

Special meetings for lay delegates and junior representatives will be held on Friday and Saturday. Here are the representatives of the East Liverpool church:

First—Dr. Frank G. Fowler; lay delegate Fred Cartwright, alternate Wilson Smith; Juniors William Stevenson and Paul Dyke.

Newly Painted Y. & O. Cars Carry Crowds To Lisbon Fair

First of the newly painted Y. & O. cars passed through East Liverpool today, hauling crowds to the Lisbon fair.

The dark green color which the company has used for its rolling equipment since the line was first constructed has been abandoned in favor of bright orange with cream trimmings. The interior of the cars are also being redecorated.

Seven cars are to be repainted, J. S. Deweese, superintendent, said. The work will be completed within two months.

BRITISH VESSEL LOST IN TROPICAL STORM; AMERICAN SHIP AFIRE

Loyal Citizen Goes Down Off Florida Coast During Night, and Dutch Tanker Captain, Who Answers Distress Signal, Believes All on Board Were Drowned.

CAPSIZED LIFEBOAT IS SIGHTED IN SEA NEAR SCENE OF DISASTER

Coast Guard Cutters From Norfolk, Va., and Wilmington, N. C., Respond to S. O. S. Call From Robin Gray, Carrying 38 Men, as Blazing Craft Seeks Harbor.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The British freighter Loyal Citizen sank in a tropical storm off the Florida coast during the night and her crew of 30 are afloat in lifeboats or drowned, according to information received today by naval communications from the Dutch tanker Denhaag.

The tanker captain reported he answered the S. O. S. call from the sinking freighter but saw no sign of it when he reached her position given in the distress signal.

The Denhaag scoured the vicinity for lifeboats, its radio message said, but saw nothing but a black rolling sea.

Meanwhile, another S. O. S. call from the Robin Gray, of American registry, was answered by the coast guard cutter Manning from Norfolk and the cutter Medoc from Wilmington, N. C.

The Robin Gray, with a crew of 38, reported a fire in her hold and indicated she was racing toward Frying Pan shoals off the North Carolina coast. The vessel carried a general cargo and was bound from New York and Norfolk for the Pacific coast via the Panama canal.

Search Is Futile.

Belief that the Loyal Citizen had gone down with all hands was strengthened later today when the Independent Wireless company reported that the Denhaag had sighted a capsized lifeboat tossing in the stormy sea at approximately the point where the freighter was last heard from.

The message from the Denhaag stated that it was unlikely that any boats were successfully launched from the ship, as the sea was too heavy.

Two tankers in the same general position, the Lumina and the Fanad Head, reported that they had been unable to locate the Loyal Citizen despite a thorough search of the surrounding waters. The lost vessel which was built in 1906, was of 4,001 tons gross register.

The last S. O. S. call received said, "Number three hold full of water, rails awash, take to lifeboats soon."

Storm Passes Over Cuba.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—The tropical storm that has passed over Cuba has increased in intensity and is now central a short distance south of Nassau, apparently moving northeastward, the weather bureau announced today.

Two other serious disturbances were reported west of Bermuda and north of the Virgin Islands.

"Constitution Week" Program Tomorrow At Kiwanis Meet

"Constitution Week" program will be featured at the noon luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club in Larkins' annex, Market street, tomorrow.

The speaker will be W. F. Lones, of the Lones, Hill & Davidson law firm. His subject will be "Chief Justice Marshall and His Part in Building the Nation."

Child Victim of Auto Trailer.

MARYSVILLE, O., Sept. 15.—Viola Rogers, five years old, was believed dying in a local hospital here today of internal injuries suffered when she was run down by the trailer of a tourist's automobile. The driver was exonerated.

Power Company Adopts New System Of Mailing Bills

Effective with September bills, the Ohio Power company will use a continuous system of mailing light and power accounts to its patrons in the East Liverpool district, it was announced today.

A certain number of statements will be mailed each day instead of the last of the month. Bills will be payable not later than 10 days after they are sent out instead of the 10th of the month.

The new plan, officials point out, will enable the company to offer better service and also will be a convenience to power users inasmuch as congestion at the company office and collection agencies will be avoided.

EIGHT TRAPPED UNDER RIVER

Workmen Imprisoned in Tunnel When Blast Occurs.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 15.— Reports at noon today from rescue crews attempting to reach eight men imprisoned 300 feet below the bed of the Missouri river in a tunnel, indicated rescue of the men or recovery of them would not be accomplished before late this afternoon, according to Charles S. Forman, general superintendent of the city water department. Drillers had encountered heavy falls of rock.

The men were trapped when an explosion occurred where they were constructing a water main between Clay county and Jackson county.

The cave-in virtually sealed the portion of the tunnel into an airtight pocket in which the men are imprisoned.

Officials of the Smith Brothers, Inc., who were in charge of the construction, expressed doubt that their air supply would last eight men more than a few hours.

There is a strong possibility that the men are all dead, according to workers, either killed by the explosion, which was so powerful that it knocked workmen on the surface from their feet, or smothered.

Nevertheless, extra gangs are being pressed into service to clear away the debris which is the only way in which the men can be reached, due to the fact that the tunnel is under the river.

PEACE DECLAMATION CONTESTS PROPOSED IN COLUMBIANA COUNTY

Field Secretary of Ohio Council of Churches Visits Here to Outline Plans.

Immediate steps to organize "peace declamation contests" among young people of the churches of Columbiana county, to be conducted this fall, are to be taken as a result of a visit here today in the interest of the competition by Rev. H. E. Beckler, of Columbus, field secretary of the Ohio Council of Churches.

The local contests will be a part of the program for the second annual Prince of Peace declamation contest, to be carried out on a state-wide scale under the leadership of the Ohio Council.

Rev. Mr. Beckler said the competition, is open to boys and girls who on November 11 will be 14 or over and not yet 19, and who are not then and have never been enrolled as college students. Contestants will enroll through their respective pastors. Each will pick a selection from a booklet of material for the purpose compiled will deliver it as a declaration in

CITY COURT IS $5,647 AHEAD AFTER PAYING EIGHT-MONTH BILLS

Tribunal Liquidates Cost of All Equipment, Meets Salaries and Reports Profits.

After payment of all expenses, including court and office equipment, East Liverpool's municipal court, during the first eight months of its existence, cleared $5,647.74 for the city, it was announced today.

Collections from fines and costs in city criminal cases and costs in civil cases, all of which goes into the city's coffers, for the eight-month period totalled $13,862.42. Court room and office furnishings, including carpets, desks, typewriters, law library, book cases, chairs, files and other office equipment cost $2,768.46 while rentals, salaries, postage, stationary, bailiff's expenses, gas and light and other incidentals amount to $5,446.22, leaving a net profit of $5,647.74.

No report was made on the amount of money turned into the county treasury. Fines and costs in criminal actions brought for violation of state laws go to the county which contributes $1,600 of the salary of the judge and $300 of the salary of the clerk, or a total of $1,900 annually.

Newly Painted Y. & O. Cars Carry Crowds To Lisbon Fair

First of the newly painted Y. & O. cars passed through East Liverpool today, hauling crowds to the Lisbon fair.

The dark green color which the company has used for its rolling equipment since the line was first constructed has been abandoned in favor of bright orange with cream trimmings. The interior of the cars are also being redecorated.

Seven cars are to be repainted, J. S. Deweese, superintendent, said. The work will be completed within two months.

BRITISH VESSEL LOST IN TROPICAL STORM; AMERICAN SHIP AFIRE

Loyal Citizen Goes Down Off Florida Coast During Night, and Dutch Tanker Captain, Who Answers Distress Signal, Believes All on Board Were Drowned.

CAPSIZED LIFEBOAT IS SIGHTED IN SEA NEAR SCENE OF DISASTER

Coast Guard Cutters From Norfolk, Va., and Wilmington, N. C., Respond to S. O. S. Call From Robin Gray, Carrying 38 Men, as Blazing Craft Seeks Harbor.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The British freighter Loyal Citizen sank in a tropical storm off the Florida coast during the night and her crew of 30 are afloat in lifeboats or drowned, according to information received today by naval communications from the Dutch tanker Denhaag.

The tanker captain reported he answered the S. O. S. call from the sinking freighter but saw no sign of it when he reached her position given in the distress signal.

The Denhaag scoured the vicinity for lifeboats, its radio message said, but saw nothing but a black rolling sea.

Meanwhile, another S. O. S. call from the Robin Gray, of American registry, was answered by the coast guard cutter Manning from Norfolk and the cutter Medoc from Wilmington, N. C.

The Robin Gray, with a crew of 38, reported a fire in her hold and indicated she was racing toward Frying Pan shoals off the North Carolina coast. The vessel carried a general cargo and was bound from New York and Norfolk for the Pacific coast via the Panama canal.

Search Is Futile.

Belief that the Loyal Citizen had gone down with all hands was strengthened later today when the Independent Wireless company reported that the Denhaag had sighted a capsized lifeboat tossing in the stormy sea at approximately the point where the freighter was last heard from.

The message from the Denhaag stated that it was unlikely that any boats were successfully launched from the ship, as the sea was too heavy.

Two tankers in the same general position, the Lumina and the Fanad Head, reported that they had been unable to locate the Loyal Citizen despite a thorough search of the surrounding waters. The lost vessel which was built in 1906, was of 4,001 tons gross register.

The last S. O. S. call received said, "Number three hold full of water, rails awash, take to lifeboats soon."

Storm Passes Over Cuba.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—The tropical storm that has passed over Cuba has increased in intensity and is now central a short distance south of Nassau, apparently moving northeastward, the weather bureau announced today.

Two other serious disturbances were reported west of Bermuda and north of the Virgin Islands.

"Constitution Week" Program Tomorrow At Kiwanis Meet

"Constitution Week" program will be featured at the noon luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club in Larkins' annex, Market street, tomorrow.

The speaker will be W. F. Lones, of the Lones, Hill & Davidson law firm. His subject will be "Chief Justice Marshall and His Part in Building the Nation."

Child Victim of Auto Trailer.

MARYSVILLE, O., Sept. 15.—Viola Rogers, five years old, was believed dying in a local hospital here today of internal injuries suffered when she was run down by the trailer of a tourist's automobile. The driver was exonerated.

Power Company Adopts New System Of Mailing Bills

Effective with September bills, the Ohio Power company will use a continuous system of mailing light and power accounts to its patrons in the East Liverpool district, it was announced today.

A certain number of statements will be mailed each day instead of the last of the month. Bills will be payable not later than 10 days after they are sent out instead of the 10th of the month.

The new plan, officials point out, will enable the company to offer better service and also will be a convenience to power users inasmuch as congestion at the company office and collection agencies will be avoided.

EIGHT TRAPPED UNDER RIVER

Workmen Imprisoned in Tunnel When Blast Occurs.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 15.— Reports at noon today from rescue crews attempting to reach eight men imprisoned 300 feet below the bed of the Missouri river in a tunnel, indicated rescue of the men or recovery of them would not be accomplished before late this afternoon, according to Charles S. Forman, general superintendent of the city water department. Drillers had encountered heavy falls of rock.

The men were trapped when an explosion occurred where they were constructing a water main between Clay county and Jackson county.

The cave-in virtually sealed the portion of the tunnel into an airtight pocket in which the men are imprisoned.

Officials of the Smith Brothers, Inc., who were in charge of the construction, expressed doubt that their air supply would last eight men more than a few hours.

There is a strong possibility that the men are all dead, according to workers, either killed by the explosion, which was so powerful that it knocked workmen on the surface from their feet, or smothered.

Nevertheless, extra gangs are being pressed into service to clear away the debris which is the only way in which the men can be reached, due to the fact that the tunnel is under the river.

PEACE DECLAMATION CONTESTS PROPOSED IN COLUMBIANA COUNTY

Field Secretary of Ohio Council of Churches Visits Here to Outline Plans.

Immediate steps to organize "peace declamation contests" among young people of the churches of Columbiana county, to be conducted this fall, are to be taken as a result of a visit here today in the interest of the competition by Rev. H. E. Beckler, of Columbus, field secretary of the Ohio Council of Churches.

The local contests will be a part of the program for the second annual Prince of Peace declamation contest, to be carried out on a state-wide scale under the leadership of the Ohio Council.

Rev. Mr. Beckler said the competition, is open to boys and girls who on November 11 will be 14 or over and not yet 19, and who are not then and have never been enrolled as college students. Contestants will enroll through their respective pastors. Each will pick a selection from a booklet of material for the purpose compiled will deliver it as a declaration in

Tribunal Liquidates Cost of All Equipment, Meets Salaries and Reports Profits.

After payment of all expenses, including court and office equipment, East Liverpool's municipal court, during the first eight months of its existence, cleared $5,647.74 for the city, it was announced today.

Collections from fines and costs in city criminal cases and costs in civil cases, all of which goes into the city's coffers, for the eight-month period totalled $13,862.42. Court room and office furnishings, including carpets, desks, typewriters, law library, book cases, chairs, files and other office equipment cost $2,768.46 while rentals, salaries, postage, stationary, bailiff's expenses, gas and light and other incidentals amount to $5,446.22, leaving a net profit of $5,647.74.

No report was made on the amount of money turned into the county treasury. Fines and costs in criminal actions brought for violation of state laws go to the county which contributes $1,600 of the salary of the judge and $300 of the salary of the clerk, or a total of $1,900 annually.

Jock obeyed. "Now, about talking. You'll simply have to sit down and think out a line for yourself. That's one thing you absolutely can't do without. And by 'a line' I don't mean a string of stereotyped remarks you're going to make to every man you meet, regardless. I mean a—way of talking. Different words to different men, but the same spirit, if you get me. The same light touch. Try not to say the obvious thing, but say something only a little different from the obvious—if it's too different they'll brand you as brainy, and then you'll be done for for fair."

"Talk about the man you're with, Cecily. Make 'you' your word-of-all work. And always, when you meet any one or any group, make a remark during the first minute after you've been introduced. Let them know you're there. It doesn't matter what you say—anything'll do—but say something. For instance; remember yesterday, when Dopey introduced Bones and me to you in the hall? You said 'How-do-you-do' and let it go at that. You should have wise-cracked something or other—something like, 'Oh, now I know why I came!'—that's not a very good example but it's the best I can think of right now. It's what I heard Gloria Martin say to somebody yesterday."

"Your girl Molly," put in Cecily at this juncture, "kissed all the men when you presented them. Was that—is that a good plan? I should think—"

"No!" cried Jock emphatically. "No, it's not. Don't pattern after Molly, Cecily, for heaven's sake, except perhaps in the matter of clothes. She's a trifle—well, don't pattern after her, that's all. Now, this kissing business is another thing. Don't deal 'em out broadcast, so that they're about as hard to procure as—as potatoes, and about as inspiring. Hang onto them. Remember there's a terrible wallop in unattainable things." He stopped meditating. "About pep—I'd say be peppy if you can, but don't try to be. I don't think there's anything worse than forced pep. Vivacity is spontaneous, or it's nothing. The things these girls do, for instance—things you've seen them do in the last 24 hours around here — are forced, to me. They're stunts, carefully thought out beforehand to attract attention. My idea of pep is always having something to say, and never appearing bored no matter who you're with, and always being ready to step out somewhere at a moment's notice—things like that. Not necessarily jumping around like a maniac, shouting and shimmying and all that exaggerated jazz-baby stuff—"

Sudden commotion interrupted him. Rattle of the front door knob, footsteps and voices in the hall—then Molly and Dopey Lane came in, seemingly blown in on a great frosty sigh of November air. Jock saw in a single glance that Dopey was quite drunk—he swayed from heels to toes and back again like a balancing toy as he stood here—and that Molly was very angry.

"S'big idea?" Dopey demanded, attempting a frown but achieving only a sort of grimace. "Li'l twoshome? Woman—" he indicated Molly with a jerk of this thumb—"in hysterics about shoes."

Molly's countenance bore out this statement, although she said nothing.

Jock rose hastily. "Wait, I'll get 'em," he said. "Cecily and I were having a little gab session, and I forgot."

He bounded up the stairs, and down again a minute later bearing the silver slippers. Dopey and Cecily were standing in the hall, he with an arm laid across her shoulders in a gesture that appeared intimate but was probably merely for the sake of equilibrium. "She's not going back," he declared to Jock. "She's going bed. She's all in, aren't you Sheshly?" He was flagrantly gratified about it.

"I am. I'm dead," Cecily said.

She shook hands with Jock, glancing up at him shyly. "Goodnight. And oh, thank you!"

"Goodnight," Jock echoed.

He watched her cross the hall and start up the stairs. Half way she hesitated, faced about. "Now I know why I came!" she quoted softly. . . .

VIII.

Jock saw Dopey depart in glee for the gymnasium again. Then he walked back into the living room.

Molly was sitting rigidly in a chair. She had removed the offending slippers, and her slippered toes were sunk for greater comfort into a sofa cushion thrown on the floor. She clenched the arms of the chair convulsively, like a person at the dentist's. Anger had drained all the natural color from her face, so that her rouge resembled circles of rosy paper pasted on.

Jock felt a little penitent. There was something about those small stockings digging into the cushion that pricked his conscience. "I'm sorry, Molly," he said humbly. "Really I am. I meant to come right back, but I found Cecily bawling her eyes out and I had to stay here until the poor little kid felt better. Come on now, Molly. Forgive me this once, and let's jump back to the gym." He stood beside here, patting her hand.

Now, Molly's feet ached throbbingly. Her head ached. Her back ached from bending at the unnatural dance-angle of the age. She had had five hours' sleep in 48, and she saw herself a woman scorned in favor of a dowdy child. . . . The combination was almost more than flesh and blood could be expected to bear.

"Shut up!" she choked. "Don't speak to me! Don't you ever speak to me again!"

Then Jock felt penitent no longer; only wearied and disinterested. He shrugged his shoulders. "Just as you say."

He sat down several yards from her and, picking up a magazine, began to rustle through it. He thought, "She'll snap out of it in a minute or two. She always does." Presently a page of poetry caught his attention. He hunched forward, his elbows on his knees and his head thrust toward it as though he would dive straight into the printed words. He became absorbed. His eyes grew luminous. Now and then his lips moved, and once they twitched up in his crooked smile, murmuring, "This fellow Sandburg!" He had quite sincerely and artlessly forgotten that Molly was there.

She sat watching him.

After a long time she said, "Jock," and he looked up.

"You're pretending, aren't you?" he asked. Begged, almost.

But Jock's eyes were still luminous and faraway. "Humm?" he said.

And she knew he had not even heard her.

"Oh-h!" A queer rattle in her throat. Then swiftly she was leaning over him, striking at him like a little savage, raining small stinging blows on his face and head, on his chest. "I hate you—oh—you—"

The blade of indifference, sawing away at the cord, had severed it at last.

Jock caught her wrists and held them. Her frantic words continued. "I hate you—oh how I hate you—you asked me here and then treated me like this—"

A pause. Molly's face became less livid. Relaxed. She turned away. She picked up the silver slippers Jock had brought, and put them on, and tied the little tassels over the insteps. "All right," she said tonelessly. "We'll go back. A prom's a prom, and I won't let you spoil it for me. But I meant what I said. I do hate you—now. I never want to see you again."

IX.

Upstairs, in the quiet dark, Cecily Graves was whispering, "I love him! I love him so! Oh, make me the way he likes girls to be . . ."

"SON OF SHEIK" IS FILM HIT

American Audiences Laud Valentino's Last Picture.

Audiences who viewed Rudolph Valentino's last film, "The Son of the Sheik," at the American theatre Monday and Tuesday, demonstrated anew that the screen's greatest lover had made no mistake in giving his public again a thrilling desert film, in which he plays the sheik role that fits him so snugly.

It was like Babe Ruth hitting a home run,—doing that thing which people like best to see him do.

Valentino has progressed remarkably since the earlier day when he startled film-goers with a new type of screen lover, "The Sheik." There is more fire and dash and sureness in the loving and hating he brings to the role of Ahmed, "The Son of the Sheik." There are fine touches that show his development into one of the leading actors of the screen today.

Then, too, this tale of the crown prince of the desert who thinks he is duped by the dancing girl, offers full sway to Valentino and the very distinguished cast of players. Exterior and interior settings are handsomely arranged by the same William Cameron Menzies who was responsible for the much-liked backgrounds employed in the screen version of "The Bat." Valentino and Vilma Banky, exotic Hungarian beauty, who is ideally cast in the part of the dancing girl, lead the supporting cast through the developments of a plot which includes love and hate between Ahmed and Yasmin, struggles for possession of the girl between loyal followers of the sheik and robber brigands, separation of the lovers through their own misunderstanding, an intrigue of renegade mountebanks to a climax so dramatically staged that the audience yesterday sat stilled for that eloquent moment before the applause. Then it came.

Agnes Ayres, charming lady of "The Sheik," returns to the screen in "The Son of the Sheik" for "falsh-backs" to that earlier picture. Her acting proves anew that she is a sensitive and intelligent performer. Karl Dane, the gum-chewing Slim of "The Big Parade," goes further along the highway to success by his rendition of the role of Ramadan, giant friend of Ahmed. Montague Love is as villainous a Moor as ever hurled a knife, and thoroughly satisfies the exacting demands of his role. And, believe it or not, Bull Montana appears in turban and awning-striped robes!

ALL-STAR CAST IN "BIG PARADE"

John Gilbert and Renee Adoree in Chief Roles.

It was a representative lot of folk who labored together to make "The Big Parade," Metro Goldwyn-Mayer's special picture which comes to the Ceramic for three days, beginning Thursday, Sept. 23, with matinees Friday and Saturday. Seats go on sale Tuesday. Their widely diverse origins, their numerous lingoes and argots, fitted, so to speak, the "theatre" of Laurence Stallings and King Victor, with its spectacle of polyglot America falling in step and joining the Big Show overseas.

John Gilbert hailed from Utah, Karl Dane from Copenhagen, Tom O'Brien's address in Adventure Street, corner of Hazard Way, in many lands, and Renee Adoree is a French woman. Of the other principals in the cast, Hobert Bossworth is Ohioan by birth and San Francisco and Los Angeles by adoption, Robert Ober was born in St. Louis, Claire Adams is a native of Winnipeg, Claire McDowell is a New Yorker, while Rosita Marstini, who plays the part of Miss Adoree's mother in her production, was born in Belgium of Belgian and French parentage.

Of the director's military helpers, Major James Basevi, a brave Canuck who distinguished himself at Ypres, fought in the Canadian Second Division overseas. Lt. Charles B. Griffin was a volunteer successively in the foreign legions of France and Italy before joining the U. S. forces. Lt. James E. Ewens was with the 28th Division, W. S. A., and badly wounded at Chauteau Thierry. Each had risen from the ranks in the war and they all, therefore had a keen knowledge of the lot of the doughboy.

French, German, Italian, Spanish, Yiddish and even the Scandinavian tongues were heard on the "battle locations" intermixed with English. 'Twas as polyglot as a Roman Army of the fifth century, but no more so than some of the regiments recruited by America in her foreign population centers in 1917-18. And this strange mixture went far to making that army on the screen in "The Big Parade" seem the real thing.

Drill Two Large Gas Wells.

CAMBRIDGE, O.—Two of the largest gas wells ever drilled in Ohio have been added to the unequaled number of big producers in the Cambridge gas field within the past few days. A well drilled on the Fred Turner farm east of Claysville is producing between 15 and 20 million cubic feet of gas daily. It is said to be the second largest gasser east of the Mississippi river being rivaled only by the well on the Cornelius farm in Knox township, near here. The other big well is producing 11,750,000 feet.

"SON OF SHEIK" IS FILM HIT

American Audiences Laud Valentino's Last Picture.

Audiences who viewed Rudolph Valentino's last film, "The Son of the Sheik," at the American theatre Monday and Tuesday, demonstrated anew that the screen's greatest lover had made no mistake in giving his public again a thrilling desert film, in which he plays the sheik role that fits him so snugly.

It was like Babe Ruth hitting a home run,—doing that thing which people like best to see him do.

Valentino has progressed remarkably since the earlier day when he startled film-goers with a new type of screen lover, "The Sheik." There is more fire and dash and sureness in the loving and hating he brings to the role of Ahmed, "The Son of the Sheik." There are fine touches that show his development into one of the leading actors of the screen today.

Then, too, this tale of the crown prince of the desert who thinks he is duped by the dancing girl, offers full sway to Valentino and the very distinguished cast of players. Exterior and interior settings are handsomely arranged by the same William Cameron Menzies who was responsible for the much-liked backgrounds employed in the screen version of "The Bat." Fall Registration Days

The Columbiana county board of deputy state supervisors of elections today designated Friday and Saturday, Oct. 15 and 16, as registration days for the November 2 election.

New electors as well as voters who neglected to qualify at the quadrennial enrollment immediately preceding the presidential balloting, or subsequently, must register in their home precincts if they expect to exercise the suffrage privilege in the selection of state, district and county officials.

And, too, voters who have changed their places of residence must apply for transfers to their new precincts. Transfers will be issued on the two registration days and also on November 1, the eve of the election.

Interest in the fall balloting should be intensified by the submission of two local issues and one proposed constitutional amendment. The school district will ask approval of a 2.4 mill tax levy to provide revenue to meet operating expenses, thus averting possible curtailment of the 1926-27 term from nine to six months. The city seeks the judgment of the electorate on a proposed $225,000 bond issue for the purpose of erecting a municipal building, while the constitutional proposal calls for revision of the Ohio primary system.

Don't deprive yourself of a voice governmental business. If you are not qualified to vote, make a mental note of the registration days, then enroll.

Billionairedom

So America, and the world, has its first "billionaire." That notable distinction is given to Henry Ford. There is said to be statistical evidence drawn from government sources.

And what is it to be a billionaire?

The ordinary reply, perhaps, would be that it is to have everything you want; to command all the luxuries of the world; to live in splendor and ease. At least, that is the primitive, old-fashioned view.

But evidently Henry Ford does not answer this description. If he had everything he wanted, would he continue enlarging his business, seeking out new industrial methods and fields of enterprise?

True, he can satisfy all personal wants that money can provide for. But his personal wants do not seeme great. He makes no lavish display. He flaunts no more luxury than many a mere millionaire. He eats no more costly food, wears no finer clothes, drives no better car, than many a man with only a few thousands of income. And what expenditure he does make on himself and his family seems intended to keep him fit for further work rather than to give him pleasure or ease.

It has been that way with nearly all the men grown very rich in this great industrial and commercial age.

Power it gives him, to be sure—vast power. And perhaps the sense of power is the greatest reward of our captains of industry and finance. Yet in his case, as in the case of most men of his kind, it is power used less for self-aggrandizement than for social service.

Even the personal impression made by these men of great wealth is not what might be expected. An American play called "The Billionaire" which was popular a couple of decades ago represented the leading character as a man of strenuous personal force, a dynamo of energy, radiating power and dominating everyone who come into his present. Actually, our Fords and Rockefellers and Carnegies and Mellons are found to be rather quiet, mild, shy persons, almost overwhelmed by the weight of their wealth, and not quite understanding it.

Library Films

Why should a library contain only books? Why should knowledge of the past be gleaned only from the printed page, when there is now available a method of recording and perpetuating information which the eye can grasp more quickly and surely than writing or print?

So we are going to have library films. Will Hays has taken the matter up with the president, suggesting that films of historical value be stored in the new Archives building at Washington, just as books and papers are stored. There may be vault space reserved there for as many as 50,000 films. The big picture producers are willing to co-operate in carrying out the plan.

It would be a great thing for posterity, if the films were made well and filed wisely, and if they were really used for public enlightenment as books are.

And why should posterity have all the benefit? A time will doubtless come soon when every good public library will have its film department, consisting not only of film storage space but a movie theatre, where varied groups of people may gather regularly to "read" films in which they are especially interested, whether of history or science or drama or literature or any other picturable phase of human life?

Kind-hearted reformers in Berlin want to give delivery horses three weeks' vacation, with feed as usual. Better go slow. First thing they know, those horses will be demanding two-day weekends in the country.

There is a tide in the affairs of men" which is as baffling as the tide in the English channel. And yet every little while now some nervy man or woman crosses it.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Manhattan with the first hoary breath of frost seems to congeal and stand out in proud, brittle and dog-tooth outline. In the summer heat it sags with its asphalt and droops with its awnings. Fall recharges it with eager vitality.

The crowds come swooping back. Great mansions are unboarded to twinkle with lights. Impudent shoulders are extravagantly furred. Glittering autos purr at the curb. Shop windows sparkle with new frippery. The town becomes a radiant nightmare of materialism.

Songbirds trill at opera rehearsals. The Rialto glows with new promises. The effrontery of bad manners becomes more acute. Fifth Avenue exchanges tweeds and caps for frock coats and silk hats. Club windows fill with rows of leaden faces. And gouty feet.

The town sweeps along in a proud, light gait. Tomorrow is far away and who cares? As a matter of fact New York has but one season. It begins the first of October and dies with the birth of the New Year when the hegira to sunny climes begins.

There is something sportive, pagan and delightful in the spinning tempo. The derelicts and beggars seep back to their stands for they know it is a season of open-pursed generosity. The metropolitan mood is that of the skylark in the Fall.

Society preens its wings. Jewels are removed from safety vaults to spread their gossamer sheen in Horse Shoe Circle. Vanity rides high. The butter and egg man finds himself parked behind the palms in the supper club. The town belongs to New Yorkers.

I know of no place in New York that seems to go its unruffled way so detached as Patchin Place. It is more of an alley than a street. It has at various times been the home of the city's most important intellectuals, great writers, artists and sculptors found in its commonplace atmosphere a charm and peace no other section offered. No social tyrannies were imposed. A poet could gaze at the moon all night without being thought dotty.

Men and women who talk to themselves along New York streets pass along unnoticed. It is a curious New York trait that might be considered elsewhere as mild insanity. Men who have lost heavily in Wall Street often soothe themselves in this way. Then there are others who are merely responding to an ache of loneliness. It is told of one young man several years ago who walked across a square with a bloodshot glare muttering "I'll kill him tonight." No one paid attention to him and a half hour later he killed his man.

A well known Broadwayite hobbled across Times Square the other afternoon on two canes. "What's happened to you?" a friend called out. "Nothing," he said, "just young whisky and old age."

There is a section above 11th street on the East Side that is the center of the cork trade. In one block there are seven stores dealing solely in corks. They supply the bootleg industry.

Atlantic City started the kite craze for grownups and Riverside Drive took it up. During the last days of summer the park along the Drive was filled with grown men flying gaudy kites. It not only provided excellent exercise but amusing entertainment for the children. Heretofore New York "kiting" has been confined to Wall Street. Copyrighted, 1926, by the McNaught Syndicate, Inc.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

A Year of Flying.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 15.—The real value of the recent Ford Tour as leaders in the flying world now see it was its demonstration of the remarkable progress that has been made in the past year in this country toward practical commercial aviation, and the effect of this demonstration upon the public. Within another year, it is predicted, people generally will realize that flying is no longer merely a sport, and a hazardous one at best, but has become an efficient, business-like means of transportation.

The tour, known officially as the Second Annual Commercial Airplane Reliability Tour, lasted two weeks, during which time twenty-three planes flew more than a million passenger miles without a serious accident. Nineteen of the planes covered a route of slightly over 2,500 miles, visiting fourteen cities in ten States of the Middle West.

Quite as important as the showing made of improvements and greater efficiency in the planes was the revelation of what municipalities are doing to prepare for air transportation on a big scale. Cities that a year ago had poor airports or none at all now have fine ones or are building them.

Cleveland and Detroit have splendid airports. Lincoln, Wichita, Kansas City, St. Joseph, and Moline have improved theirs greatly. Chicago has a municipal airport on the southwest side of the city, and is erecting another on the lake front in the very heart of the city. A similar situation exists at Milwaukee. St. Paul has recently appropriated $295,000 to build a municipal airport, and Kalamazoo that had none at all a year ago is now building a $100,000 airport. In Indianapolis funds are being raised to convert the inside area of the famous motor Speedway into an airport. Cincinnati has the Luken airport, and Ft. Wayne is enlarging and improving its municipal flying field. Other cities are giving similar evidence of being up-to-date. Within another year or two those that haven't the best there is in the way of airports will not even be mentioned on maps or in guidebooks.

How Contest Was Conducted.

The 1926 winner, Walter H. Beech, of Wichita, Kansas, received as his reward a leg on the Edsel Ford $700 trophy and a large slice of the $20,000 in cash prizes that were offered, each of the cities on the route having contributed $1,000. Each airplane was required to fly at a speed of 80 miles an hour, to carry a commercial load proportionate to its engine displacement, to take off and to land to a standstill within a certain number of seconds, and to meet sundry other conditions, all of which are deemed essential to an airplane that is designed and built to haul freight and passengers. The big idea, of course, was to prove that a large number of airplanes could fly a distance almost the equivalent of a flight across the continent, do it speedily and safely, and combat adverse weather conditions.

The tour was from Detroit to Kalamazoo, to Chicago, to Milwaukee, to St. Paul, to Des Moines, to Lincoln, to Wichita, to Kansas City, to Moline, to Indianapolis, to Cincinnati, to Cleveland, to Ft. Wayne, to Detroit. The average hop was 182 miles, while the longest was that between Milwaukee and St. Paul—approximately 300 miles. The shortest was that of 60 miles between Chicago and Milwaukee, and the next, that of 100 miles between Indianapolis and Cincinnati.

Millions of people, of course, viewed the planes in flight and had their attention called to what is going on in the world of aviation, and it is said that more than one million people inspected the planes at close range. The railroads ran excursions to all the cities along the route, and everything possible was done to stimulate popular interest in the affair.

Some of the people who turned out had never seen an airplane before. And just as in the old days of the Glidden Tours that did so much toward the development of automobiles, these spectators were altogether naive in their comments. In fact, one of the stories told is reminiscent of the early days of transportation by rail when the yokel viewing his first engine predicted that "thy'll never start her!" and then, after seeing the strange countraption pulse into life, said, "By heck, they'll never stop her!"

At Lincoln an old farmer looked over all the ships on the line and finally stopped in front of a great, three-engined plane. "The rest of 'em may have flew here,' he said, "but you can't fool me about this big one. It came by train. It couldn't fly." His appearance indicated, it is reported, that he did not believe his eyes even when he saw the big ship leave the ground in less than eight seconds.

Compared With Last Year.

Last year the Ford Tour was over a course of 1900 miles, as compared with 2,500 miles for this year's demonstration, and of the seventeen planes entered—sixteen finishing—very few could be said to be of the commercial type. Practically all of this year's entries were of the commercial type, and some of them were navigated from as far west as Denver and as far east at New York City to the starting field at Detroit.

Beech, the pilot who won, was credited with 4,043.4 points as against the 2,972.1 points scored by L. G. Meister, of Detroit, who placed second. The points were figured according to a system or formula that was worked out that would be fair to every plane, whatever its load-carrying capacity and its speed. The load, times the miles per hour of the plane, divided by the number of seconds it required to take off from the ground and to land, divided by the motor displacement equalled the points.

THE PROPER END OF A CADDY.

In a Southern town is a lady, socially prominent, who enjoys the reputation of being a modern Mrs. Malaprop. She is credited with having said once that she intended to hire a local clay modeler to make a bust of her hand. On another occasion, referring to a trip she had taken in an aeroplane, she said that she certainly was glad when the machine descended and she set her foot once more on terra cotta. The latest speech attributed to her had to do with the ancient game of Scotia.

"I've often thought," she said to a friend, "that I'd like to tack up golf, but somehow I have never gotten 'round to it; and, besides, I don't understand the first thing about playing it. Why, if I wanted to hit the ball I wouldn't know which end of the caddy to take hold of."

One Secret of Long Island's Prosperity Is Out

Over the roads and streets of Nassau and Suffolk Counties, Greater New York floods Long Island with traffic. It is probably the heaviest traffic in the world, outside of the larger cities.

These two counties and their cities are solving the problem of having good roads, permanent roads, low-maintenance-cost roads and streets by paving with concrete. Values are on a steady upward curve. Property owners, business men, officials say these fine concrete roads and streets are helping do it.

Starting in 1917, Nassau and Suffolk Counties—and their towns—have laid concrete pavement every year. Today they have a total of nearly 2,000,000 square yards of safe, clean, cheaply-maintained concrete roads alone.

Concrete is safe pavement for traffic in any weather. It is also a safe investment for any community anywhere.

No wonder more than 1,000 cities and towns laid concrete streets in 1925.

Fall Registration Days

The Columbiana county board of deputy state supervisors of elections today designated Friday and Saturday, Oct. 15 and 16, as registration days for the November 2 election.

New electors as well as voters who neglected to qualify at the quadrennial enrollment immediately preceding the presidential balloting, or subsequently, must register in their home precincts if they expect to exercise the suffrage privilege in the selection of state, district and county officials.

And, too, voters who have changed their places of residence must apply for transfers to their new precincts. Transfers will be issued on the two registration days and also on November 1, the eve of the election.

Interest in the fall balloting should be intensified by the submission of two local issues and one proposed constitutional amendment. The school district will ask approval of a 2.4 mill tax levy to provide revenue to meet operating expenses, thus averting possible curtailment of the 1926-27 term from nine to six months. The city seeks the judgment of the electorate on a proposed $225,000 bond issue for the purpose of erecting a municipal building, while the constitutional proposal calls for revision of the Ohio primary system.

Don't deprive yourself of a voice governmental business. If you are not qualified to vote, make a mental note of the registration days, then enroll.

Billionairedom

So America, and the world, has its first "billionaire." That notable distinction is given to Henry Ford. There is said to be statistical evidence drawn from government sources.

And what is it to be a billionaire?

The ordinary reply, perhaps, would be that it is to have everything you want; to command all the luxuries of the world; to live in splendor and ease. At least, that is the primitive, old-fashioned view.

But evidently Henry Ford does not answer this description. If he had everything he wanted, would he continue enlarging his business, seeking out new industrial methods and fields of enterprise?

True, he can satisfy all personal wants that money can provide for. But his personal wants do not seeme great. He makes no lavish display. He flaunts no more luxury than many a mere millionaire. He eats no more costly food, wears no finer clothes, drives no better car, than many a man with only a few thousands of income. And what expenditure he does make on himself and his family seems intended to keep him fit for further work rather than to give him pleasure or ease.

It has been that way with nearly all the men grown very rich in this great industrial and commercial age.

Power it gives him, to be sure—vast power. And perhaps the sense of power is the greatest reward of our captains of industry and finance. Yet in his case, as in the case of most men of his kind, it is power used less for self-aggrandizement than for social service.

Even the personal impression made by these men of great wealth is not what might be expected. An American play called "The Billionaire" which was popular a couple of decades ago represented the leading character as a man of strenuous personal force, a dynamo of energy, radiating power and dominating everyone who come into his present. Actually, our Fords and Rockefellers and Carnegies and Mellons are found to be rather quiet, mild, shy persons, almost overwhelmed by the weight of their wealth, and not quite understanding it.

Library Films

Why should a library contain only books? Why should knowledge of the past be gleaned only from the printed page, when there is now available a method of recording and perpetuating information which the eye can grasp more quickly and surely than writing or print?

So we are going to have library films. Will Hays has taken the matter up with the president, suggesting that films of historical value be stored in the new Archives building at Washington, just as books and papers are stored. There may be vault space reserved there for as many as 50,000 films. The big picture producers are willing to co-operate in carrying out the plan.

It would be a great thing for posterity, if the films were made well and filed wisely, and if they were really used for public enlightenment as books are.

And why should posterity have all the benefit? A time will doubtless come soon when every good public library will have its film department, consisting not only of film storage space but a movie theatre, where varied groups of people may gather regularly to "read" films in which they are especially interested, whether of history or science or drama or literature or any other picturable phase of human life?

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Manhattan with the first hoary breath of frost seems to congeal and stand out in proud, brittle and dog-tooth outline. In the summer heat it sags with its asphalt and droops with its awnings. Fall recharges it with eager vitality.

The crowds come swooping back. Great mansions are unboarded to twinkle with lights. Impudent shoulders are extravagantly furred. Glittering autos purr at the curb. Shop windows sparkle with new frippery. The town becomes a radiant nightmare of materialism.

Songbirds trill at opera rehearsals. The Rialto glows with new promises. The effrontery of bad manners becomes more acute. Fifth Avenue exchanges tweeds and caps for frock coats and silk hats. Club windows fill with rows of leaden faces. And gouty feet.

The town sweeps along in a proud, light gait. Tomorrow is far away and who cares? As a matter of fact New York has but one season. It begins the first of October and dies with the birth of the New Year when the hegira to sunny climes begins.

There is something sportive, pagan and delightful in the spinning tempo. The derelicts and beggars seep back to their stands for they know it is a season of open-pursed generosity. The metropolitan mood is that of the skylark in the Fall.

Society preens its wings. Jewels are removed from safety vaults to spread their gossamer sheen in Horse Shoe Circle. Vanity rides high. The butter and eg gman finds himself parked behind the palms in the supper club. The town belongs to New Yorkers.

I know of no place in New York that seems to go its unruffled way so detached as Patchin Place. It is more of an alley than a street. It has at various times been the home of the city's most important intellectuals, great writers, artists and sculptors found in its commonplace atmosphere a charm and peace no other section offered. No social tyrannies were imposed. A poet could gaze at the moon all night without being thought dotty.

Men and women who talk to themselves along New York streets pass along unnoticed. It is a curious New York trait that might be considered elsewhere as mild insanity. Men who have lost heavily in Wall Street often soothe themselves in this way. Then there are others who are merely responding to an ache of loneliness. It is told of one young man several years ago who walked across a square with a bloodshot glare muttering "I'll kill him tonight." No one paid attention to him and a half hour later he killed his man.

A well known Broadwayite hobbled across Times Square the other afternoon on two canes. "What's happened to you?" a friend called out. "Nothing," he said, "just young whisky and old age."

There is a section above 11th street on the East Side that is the center of the cork trade. In one block there are seven stores dealing solely in corks. They supply the bootleg industry.

Atlantic City started the kite craze for grownups and Riverside Drive took it up. During the last days of summer the park along the Drive was filled with grown men flying gaudy kites. It not only provided excellent exercise but amusing entertainment for the children. Heretofore New York "kiting" has been confined to Wall Street. Copyrighted, 1926, by the McNaught Syndicate, Inc.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

A Year of Flying.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 15.—The real value of the recent Ford Tour as leaders in the flying world now see it was its demonstration of the remarkable progress that has been made in the past year in this country toward practical commercial aviation, and the effect of this demonstration upon the public. Within another year, it is predicted, people generally will realize that flying is no longer merely a sport, and a hazardous one at best, but has become an efficient, business-like means of transportation.

The tour, known officially as the Second Annual Commercial Airplane Reliability Tour, lasted two weeks, during which time twenty-three planes flew more than a million passenger miles without a serious accident. Nineteen of the planes covered a route of slightly over 2,500 miles, visiting fourteen cities in ten States of the Middle West.

Quite as important as the showing made of improvements and greater efficiency in the planes was the revelation of what municipalities are doing to prepare for air transportation on a big scale. Cities that a year ago had poor airports or none at all now have fine ones or are building them.

Cleveland and Detroit have splendid airports. Lincoln, Wichita, Kansas City, St. Joseph, and Moline have improved theirs greatly. Chicago has a municipal airport on the southwest side of the city, and is erecting another on the lake front in the very heart of the city. A similar situation exists at Milwaukee. St. Paul has recently appropriated $295,000 to build a municipal airport, and Kalamazoo that had none at all a year ago is now building a $100,000 airport. In Indianapolis funds are being raised to convert the inside area of the famous motor Speedway into an airport. Cincinnati has the Luken airport, and Ft. Wayne is enlarging and improving its municipal flying field. Other cities are giving similar evidence of being up-to-date. Within another year or two those that haven't the best there is in the way of airports will not even be mentioned on maps or in guidebooks.

How Contest Was Conducted.

The 1926 winner, Walter H. Beech, of Wichita, Kansas, received as his reward a leg on the Edsel Ford $700 trophy and a large slice of the $20,000 in cash prizes that were offered, each of the cities on the route having contributed $1,000. Each airplane was required to fly at a speed of 80 miles an hour, to carry a commercial load proportionate to its engine displacement, to take off and to land to a standstill within a certain number of seconds, and to meet sundry other conditions, all of which are deemed essential to an airplane that is designed and built to haul freight and passengers. The big idea, of course, was to prove that a large number of airplanes could fly a distance almost the equivalent of a flight across the continent, do it speedily and safely, and combat adverse weather conditions.

The tour was from Detroit to Kalamazoo, to Chicago, to Milwaukee, to St. Paul, to Des Moines, to Lincoln, to Wichita, to Kansas City, to Moline, to Indianapolis, to Cincinnati, to Cleveland, to Ft. Wayne, to Detroit. The average hop was 182 miles, while the longest was that between Milwaukee and St. Paul—approximately 300 miles. The shortest was that of 60 miles between Chicago and Milwaukee, and the next, that of 100 miles between Indianapolis and Cincinnati.

Millions of people, of course, viewed the planes in flight and had their attention called to what is going on in the world of aviation, and it is said that more than one million people inspected the planes at close range. The railroads ran excursions to all the cities along the route, and everything possible was done to stimulate popular interest in the affair.

Some of the people who turned out had never seen an airplane before. And just as in the old days of the Glidden Tours that did so much toward the development of automobiles, these spectators were altogether naive in their comments. In fact, one of the stories told is reminiscent of the early days of transportation by rail when the yokel viewing his first engine predicted that "thy'll never start her!" and then, after seeing the strange contraption pulse into life, said, "By heck, they'll never stop her!"

At Lincoln an old farmer looked over all the ships on the line and finally stopped in front of a great, three-engined plane. "The rest of 'em may have flew here,' he said, 'but you can't fool me about this big one. It came by train. It couldn't fly." His appearance indicated, it is reported, that he did not believe his eyes even when he saw the big ship leave the ground in less than eight seconds.

Compared With Last Year.

Last year the Ford Tour was over a course of 1900 miles, as compared with 2,500 miles for this year's demonstration, and of the seventeen planes entered—sixteen finishing—very few could be said to be of the commercial type. Practically all of this year's entries were of the commercial type, and some of them were navigated from as far west as Denver and as far east at New York City to the starting field at Detroit.

Beech, the pilot who won, was credited with 4,043.4 points as against the 2,972.1 points scored by L. G. Meister, of Detroit, who placed second. The points were figured according to a system or formula that was worked out that would be fair to every plane, whatever its load-carrying capacity and its speed. The load, times the miles per hour of the plane, divided by the number of seconds it required to take off from the ground and to land, divided by the motor displacement equalled the points.

THE PROPER END OF A CADDY.

In a Southern town is a lady, socially prominent, who enjoys the reputation of being a modern Mrs. Malaprop. She is credited with having said once that she intended to hire a local clay modeler to make a bust of her hand. On another occasion, referring to a trip she had taken in an aeroplane, she said that she certainly was glad when the machine descended and she set her foot once more on terra cotta. The latest speech attributed to her had to do with the ancient game of Scotia.

"I've often thought," she said to a friend, "that I'd like to tack up golf, but somehow I have never gotten 'round to it; and, besides, I don't understand the first thing about playing it. Why, if I wanted to hit the ball I wouldn't know which end of the caddy to take hold of."

Bride-elect Honor Guest at Pretty Bridge-dinner Here

In honor of Miss Agnes O'Hanlon, bride-elect of Ralph Villers, of Steubenville, whose wedding will be solemnized late in September, Mrs. F. R. O'Hanlon entertained members of the Tuesday Evening Bridge club with a prettily appointed bridge-dinner at her home, 752 Minerva street, last night.

A color scheme of yellow and white was carried out in decorations of the table and home. Coriopsis and asters centered the table, which was arranged for 14 persons, while at each end were lighted yellow candles. The place cards were adorned with miniature wedding bells. Favors were given each guest.

Slapiglossis was used as the floral effect on the tables for bridge, the after-dinner diversion. Trophies were awarded Mrs. Lewis Wright and Miss Ann Johnston, club members, while a guest prize was given Miss Virginia Hamilton.

Following bridge, the club presented Miss O'Hanlon, a member, with a beautiful lamp, while she also received a gift from the hostess.

Special guests were Miss Catherine Brady, of Steubenville; Mrs. J. B. O'Hanlon, of Wellsville; Mrs. Glen Galloway and Misses Bertha Savage and Virginia Hamilton of East Liverpool.

Mrs. Neil Cronin assisted the hostess.

When You Cramp Your Toes

. . . you cramp your activities. Walking becomes a task instead of a pleasure. Smiles do not come readily; but wrinkles do.

Which are some of the reasons why so many active women wear comfortable oxfords with modishly rounded toes like these:

In these trim oxfords, all your ten toes are at ease and your feet enjoy real natural freedom. And, like your feet, they are flexible from toe to heel.

The snug, all-leather arches give restful support without restriction. And the moderate, well placed heels swing the body weight evenly over the foot. You can enjoy walking in a pair of Cantilever oxfords and they encourage a springy, tireless step.

Don't ever bet you can beat a Chandler up a hill

19 finer new models, loaded to the muzzle with smooth, soundless power!

YOU realize the vivid difference between Chandler performance and ordinary performance when you take a Chandler over the road . . .

When you meet some skyscraper hills, the taller the better, and skim swiftly up them "in high"—right past other cars growling along "in second" . . .

When you feel the car's instantaneous surge of smooth, soundless power every time you tickle the accelerator!

Steering is marvelously easy. Safe stops in any weather are assured by Chandler's perfect-action 4-wheel brakes. And due to inherent engine design, plus an oil purifier and an air cleaner, draining the oil in the crankcase is now necessary only a few times a year.

What's more—all you have to do to lubricate the entire chassis is press your heel on the little plunger of Chandler's "One Shot" system of centralized lubrication.

There are nineteen brilliant models to choose from—all lower than ever in price—and every one a distinct credit to a company that occupies one of the strongest positions in the industry—a company with no bonded indebtedness, no mortgages or liens, no bank loans, no outstanding notes—a company with assets 20 to 1 over liabilities.

Own a car of quality, luxury, big value, and real championship performance!

Nineteen Finer New Models $945 to $1795

Don't ever bet you can beat a Chandler up a hill

19 finer new models, loaded to the muzzle with smooth, soundless power!

YOU realize the vivid difference between Chandler performance and ordinary performance when you take a Chandler over the road . . .

When you meet some skyscraper hills, the taller the better, and skim swiftly up them "in high"—right past other cars growling along "in second" . . .

When you feel the car's instantaneous surge of smooth, soundless power every time you tickle the accelerator!

Steering is marvelously easy. Safe stops in any weather are assured by Chandler's perfect-action 4-wheel brakes. And due to inherent engine design, plus an oil purifier and an air cleaner, draining the oil in the crankcase is now necessary only a few times a year.

What's more—all you have to do to lubricate the entire chassis is press your heel on the little plunger of Chandler's "One Shot" system of centralized lubrication.

There are nineteen brilliant models to choose from—all lower than ever in price—and every one a distinct credit to a company that occupies one of the strongest positions in the industry—a company with no bonded indebtedness, no mortgages or liens, no bank loans, no outstanding notes—a company with assets 20 to 1 over liabilities.

Own a car of quality, luxury, big value, and real championship performance!

Nineteen Finer New Models $945 to $1795

The beautiful new Metropolitan Sedan, the great leader, is reduced $360, from $1955 to $1595!

COUNSEL FEES ARE PROTESTED

Notice Served on City Officials by J. R. Mosby.

Announced as a preliminary move to prevent the municipality from paying counsel fees in the removal fight against Chief of Police John Fultz, notice was served upon City Auditor Fred Eckfeld and City Treasurer Wilbert Dales today to stop payment of any fees not provided for by appropriation.

The notice was served personally upon the city officials by J. R. Mosby, taxpayer.

Mosby announced that, in view of the city's limited finances, he will go into court to prevent payment of the fees.

Auditor Eckfeld and Treasurer Dales were awaiting the advice of City Solicitor S. W. Luccock.

Mosby's notice reads as follows:

"The supreme court in the case of the city of Findlay verus Heddleston and Whitney, partners, held that a contract made by the city with attorneys for legal service is void unless the auditor or clerk first file a report, or certificate, as required by section 2707 of the general code of Ohio.

"The case of Pittenger versus the city of Wellsville, also decided by the supreme court of Ohio, held no debt shall be incurred for ordinary expenses of the corporation unless appropriation to meet it has been made by city council and the city auditor and clerk have first certified to council that the money is in the treasury.

"In view of the needs of the city and anxious to protect citizens from a wrongful, illegal and imprudent use of public funds, I hereby give you written notice as required by law that you, as a representative of the people, shall not pay any of the items of expense growing out of the suit of the city of Wellsville against J. H. Fultz, being a suit to dismiss said Fultz as chief of police.

"Should you pay said illegal items of expense, action will be taken to compel you to reimburse said city.

"Respectfully yours,

"J. R. MOSBY."

MISS MICHAELS WEDS JAS. SCOTT

Announcement was made here today of the marriage of Miss Alice Michaels, daughter of E. W. Michaels, of Fourteenth street, to James Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Scott, of Aten avenue.

The ceremony was performed this morning in the parsonage of the United Presbyterian church here by the pastor, Rev. Robert W. Ustick.

Both Mr. Scott and Miss Michaels have been employed at the Howe Dry goods store here.

RAIL ACCIDENT PROVES FATAL

H. G. Jeffries, Brakeman, Succumbs in Hospital.

As a result of injuries suffered in Cleveland Sunday night when he slipped from a freight car beneath the wheels of a moving train, H. G. Jeffries, 22, former resident of Wellsville, died yesterday in St. Luke's hospital in the Forest City.

Jeffries was found alongside the track, with both legs mangled, other members of his crew being attracted by his cries.

Jeffries lived here until about two years ago when his family moved to East Liverpool. Since then his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Jeffries, went to Newell to live.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by five brothers and three sisters.

The body was brought to the Haugh funeral home here this morning. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at the Jefries home in Newell, in charge of Rev. J. C. Andre, pastor of the Free Methodist church here. Burial will be made in Spring Hill cemetery.

SEEK HIGHER-UP IN MURDER OF CANTON EDITOR

Vice Crusader Roach Confers With Federal Officials.

RUM CONSPIRACY

Louis Mazer Will be Taken to Stark County Jail.

CANTON, O., Oct. 15.—Following a conference between Prosecutor McClintock and Detective Ora Slater Wednesday morning, it was announced the reward offered for the arrest of Patrick McDermott wanted in the murder of Don R. Mellett, had been increased to $10,000. The reward is offered to any person who gives information causing the arrest alone of McDermott.

The former reward was for the arrest of and conviction and was for $5,000.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 15.—A campaign against "higher ups" in a huge liquor conspiracy which operated in Canton, whose members are believed to have had some connection with the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher, was launched here today with the arrival of Joseph R. Roach, Chicago attorney, one of the chief investigators into the murder plot.

Roach called upon United States District Attorney A. E. Bernsteen and laid before the federal official all data connected with the alleged conspiracy, it was learned.

The Chicago attorney declared that he has ended his efforts in the murder case as that phase of the Canton situation virtually has been cleaned up. He announced that he would concentrate upon liquor violations.

He recently returned from Washington where, it is said, he conferred with high federal officials.

Lengel Files Appeal.

CANTON, O., Sept. 15.—There is small likelihood that Louis Mazer, who is to be turned over by federal authorities at Cleveland, today to the Stark county authorities to answer a charge of first degree murder, will reach this city before this evening. This will result in delaying arraigning Mazer and Ben Rudner in open court until sometime on Friday.

As soon as Mazer is landed in the Stark county jail he will be served a copy of the indictment found against him by the Stark county grand jury and 24 hours must elapse after such service before he can be arraigned in court to enter his plea. Therefore, it is unlikely that the arraignment of Mazer and Rudner, also indicted for murder in the death of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher, will take place before Friday.

Prosecutor C. B. McClintock said today that he will lose no time in trying the cases and expects to have the entire matter disposed of before expiration of his term of office on the first Monday in January, 1927.

S. A. Lengel, ousted police chief, has filed an appeal from the ouster order of Mayor M. S. Swarts, sustained by the civil service commission, and says if he loses his case in common pleas court he will carry his appeal to the supreme court. He was "fired" on a charge that he "bungled" the Mellett murder investigation.

BOBBY JONES MATCH WINNER

Obscure Namesake Stages Close Fight in Golf Tourney.

SHORT HILLS, N. J., Sept. 15.—Bobby Jones, greatest of all golfers, won his first round match this morning in the National Amateur Golf championship, but not before his more or less obscure namesake, Dick Jones, had made him know that he was in a golf contest.

Dick carried Bobby all the way to the home green before he yielded to the inevitable by one up.

Rudy Knepper, Sioux City, won a great match from Dexter Cummins, Chicago, by one up, the play being carried right up the club house green.

Another first round match was decided in favor of J. Wood Platt, Philadelphia, who beat Keefe Carter, Oklahoma City, 4 up and 3 to play.

Another overtime match went all the way to the twenty-second hole before Maurice McCarthy, Brooklyn, could beat Max Marston, Philadelphia, a former champion. McCarthy gained his victory in spite of hooking his tee shot out of bounds at the first extra hole. Playing "three" on his next shot, he still was able to halve the hole.

Another titanic struggle saw Francis Ouimet, open champion in 1913 and amateur title holder in 1914, finally prevail over the 21-year-old Roy Moe, Portland, Ore., by one up on the eighteenth green.

George Dawson, Chicago, defeated M. L. Massingill, Fort Worth, by one up eighteen holes, in another first round match. Others were decided in favor of Eddie Held, St. Louis, by two and one over D. Clark Cochran, Philadelphia; Eustace Storey, England, by one up over Denman Shute, Huntington, W. Va.; Fred Wright, Boston, by one up over Lauau Upson, Englewood, N. J., and Chick Evans by two and one over Bill Wownes, Pittsburgh.

TODAY

ONE thing that Goethe says in "Wilhelm Meister" interests us all, namely that thinking is difficult, and to act, according to your thoughts, is uncomfortable.

One hundred in ten thousand think. One in a hundred of those that think translate the thought ito action. That is why the world moves upward so slowly. Perhaps that is how it should move. With two, or three hundred million more years of life ahead of it, old earth is not in a hurry.

IT IS said automobiles keep half the voters away from the polls, and "absentee balloting" is suggested.

Also, "golf keeps men away from the church."

The [illegible]s to make politics as interesting as motoring, religion as interesting as golf. With Henry Ward Beecher in a big church, or Billy Sunday in a revival tent, the caddies, not the clergymen, would complain.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Industrial stocks promptly resumed their forward price movement in the early trading today. In addition to the continuation of short covering, buying was stimulated by the extremely favorable and brilliant report of railroad freight loadings. In the week of September 4 revenue freight loadings aggregated 1,151,346 cars, the largest in the history of American railroading, and exceeding by 50,000 cars the record of the same week last year.

Transactions for the treasury involving nearly a billion and a quarter dollars tied up a considerable volume of bank funds and call loan renewals remained at 5 per cent. Industrial rather than railroad stocks were the chief beneficiaries of the bullish report on freight traffic, the inference being a huge increase in domestic business of all kinds.

Through the leadership in the industrial group was assumed by General Motors and United States Steel, the stocks of the moving picture enterprises attracted considerable attention by their strength and activity. Fox Film sold above 79, while Pathe, Famous Players and Warner Brothers were actively turned over at or near the highest prices of the year to date.

General Motors pushed up close to 150 in extremely heavy trading, this price being equivalent to 225 for the stock before selling ex-dividend 50 per cent stock. United States Steel gained more than a point at 149¾. American Smelting sold in volume above 150. Copper and oil stocks continued firm but railroad and equipment stocks were inactive and slightly irregular. Commodity markets were steady in the early trading.

OUTLINE PLANS FOR CERAMICS COURSE STUDY

Kenneth M. Smith Again in Charge of Classes.

ADULTS ENROLL

Sixteen Youths Make Great Progress Last Year.

Development of the district's clay resources is sure to follow the introduction of the course in ceramics in the East Liverpool public schools, Kenneth M. Smith, ceramic engineer, in charge of the study added to the high school curriculum, last year, said today.

Sixteen youths were registered for the course last year and a still larger enrollment is promised this fall. Students last term installed machinery and motors, performed pipe fitting jobs, poured concrete, designed and made pottery moulds, compounded bodies and glazes and in a general way studied the fundamentals of the industry.

This year the classes will go a little deeper into the study. Further improvements and additions to the course are proposed by Prof. Smith for students in this department, which is maintained in one of the basement rooms of the Central school building.

"Ceramics has taken its place as a highly developed special form of science," said Smith. "This science needs new blood to help its growth. It needs young men who are trained to full positions of responsibility."

The ceramics course is not confined to high school students but a separate course will be offered for adults. These classes will meet at night and are intended primarily for those now employed in the pottery industry and who wish to obtain a wider knowledge of the trade in which they earn their livlihood. Plans for the night school will be announced within the next few days.

Wealthy Spinster Leaves $1,100,000 to Youngstown Charity

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 15.—Charity will profit by approximately $1,100,000 through the will of Lucy R. Buechner, pioneer of this city, who died last week. Her will was filed for probate here today. This represents here entire estate.

The wealthy spinster bequeathed $500,000 to the Youngstown hospital, $500,000 for the establishment of a home for working and student girls and $100,000 to be divided between churches, missionary societies and other local charities.

EMBARGO ON ARMS TO NICARAGUA

WHITE PINE CAMP, N. Y., Sept. 15.—An embargo on shipment of arms and ammunition to Nicaragua was ordered by President Coolidge today because of revolutionary conditions in the Central America republic. The proclamation was issued effective today and will remain in force until order has been restored.

by the Ohio Council of Churches and competition with other entrants.

Initial contests will be held by the local churches separately and a bronze medal will be awarded by the Ohio Council of Churches to the winner in each church that has three or more contestants.

Winners of local church contests will then meet in a county contest for a silver medal. County champions will next meet in a congressional district contest with a gold medal as the award. Finally the gold medal winners of the entire state will meet in Columbus in the state contest, with three cash prizes totaling $1,000 and three college scholarships offered to the winners.

Opening contests in the churches are planned as a feature of the observance of Armistice Sunday, November, 7.

More than 335 of the churches that took part in the first annual contest re-enrolled for the second immediately, said Rev. Rr. Beckler, and this number is rapidly increasing. He urged enrollment of churches, in order that the boys and girls may have as much time as possible to select and study their declamations.

The First Annual Prince of Peace Declamation Contest was held last spring. The change to autumn dates was made to avoid conflicts with high school commencement activities in the late spring and to link the contest with the widespread observance of Armistice Day and Armistice Sunday as peace festivals.

EXCEEDS PARKING LIMIT, FINED $1

Thomas Paterson was fined $1 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of violation of the traffic ordinance upon arraignment before Municipal Judge Hanley this morning. Paterson, according to Patrolman Haley, who arrested him, parked his auto for four and one-half hours in a 30-minute parking zone on St. Clair avenue.

the past a Groesbeck stronghold) with a majority of 127,000 and was holding it as the vote was being tabulated slowly.

The vote in 2,196 precincts out of 2,935 is: Green, 298,755; Groesbeck, 171,310.

Representative Frank Scott, of Alpena, who figured several months ago in a sensational divorce suit, apparently has been defeated for re-nomination by Dr. Frank H. Bohn, of Newberry.

Congressman Grant M. Hudson, dry leader, decisively whipped the Rev. J. Bradford Pengelly in the sixth district. Pengelly was endorsed by the "wets."

William A. Comstock, Democratic candidate for governor, was unopposed.

Broussard Leads Race.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 15. — Renomination of Senator Edwin E. Broussard (D.) appeared probable on the basis of returns from all sections of the state today.

With the city count complete and 831 out of 1,084 precincts in the parish reported, Senator Broussard was leading his opponent, J. Y. Sanders, by a majority of 4,307 votes.

J. Zach Spearing has been renominated for congress from the seond district by a commanding majority over three opponents, virtually complete returns showed this morning.

Three-Cornered Contest.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Sept. 15.—The Republican nomination for governor was won by ex-Judge John E. Weeks, of Middlebury, in a three-cornered contest, primary returns revealed today. The vote was: Weeks, 23,230; former State Senator Max W. Powell, 14,847, and Lieut. Gov. Walker K. Farnsworth, 10,033.

In the only other hot contest—that for the Republican congressional nomination in the first district, the vote was: Congressman Elbert S. Bingham, 10,213, and State Senator Martin S. Vilas, 5,225.

World Court Advocate Wins.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 15.—Senator Ellison D. Smith, world court advocate, apparently has defeated Edgar A. Brown, for renomination in yesterday's run-off primary by a narrow margin.

Incomplete returns today gave Smith 78,906; Brown, 73,604.

John G. Richards won a decisive victory over Ira G. Blackwood for governor.

New York State Results.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 15. — Both wets and drys were victorious in the New York primary election, according to advices from various parts of the state which reached the capitol today in several of the primary contests. Prohibition was the chief issue.

Representative Frank W. Crowther, Republican dry, won re-nomination in the 30th congressional district over E. Watson Gardiner, Republican wet, by more than 3,500.

Today the wets were claiming a victory over the drys in the nomination of former Representative John D. Clarke, Republican. Clarke, favoring a modification of the Volstead act, defeated Representative Harold S. Tolley, Republican dry, in the 34th congressional district.

Representative Gale H. Stalker, dry Republican, was re-nominated in the 37th congressional district. He was opposed by Edwin L. Evans, a wet.

Means Second In Colorado.

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 15.—R. W. Means, Republican junior United States senator from Colorado, was running second today to Charles W. Waterman, on incomplete returns from yesterday's state primary, 502 precincts out of 1,591 giving Waterman 19,805; Means, 10,586, and George A. Luxford, 5,123.

In the Republican gubernatorial race, Oliver H. Shoup was leading John F. Vivian, backed by Senator Lawrence C. Phipps by 7,000 votes, the count being, Shoup 19,874; Vivian, 12,836.

In the Democratic senatorial race, Paul P. Prosser was leading William E. Sweet by the count of 3,436 against 2,818.

William H. Adams, veteran politician, has been conceded victory over Samuel W. Johnson in the gubernatorial contest.

Jones Leads in Washington.

SEATTLE, Sept. 15.—Senator Wesley L. Jones was leading his opponent, Frank E. Hammond, by four to one for the Republican nomination for United States senator with practically all the precincts in the state heard from early today.

Jones, a dry and a pro-court candidate, completely swamped his opponent, returns indicated.

The Democratic nomination for the United States senate has been conceded to A. Scott Bullitt.

Massachusetts Primaries.

BOSTON, Sept. 15.—Victory of Arthur K. Reading, Middlesex county district attorney, in a three-cornered race for the Republican nomination for attorney general, and the crushing defeat of District Attorney Thomas C. O'Brien of Suffolk county, for both the Democratic and Republican nomination for that office, stood today as the outstanding results of the Massachusetts primaries.

Congressional fight showed Congressman Allen T. Treadway far ahead of District Attorney Charles H. Wright in the first district, Republican, and Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers decisively defeating Captain John Bordman in the fifth district, Republican.

Two Democratic congressmen, John J. Douglas and James A. Gallivan, were renominated.

CARAWAY ASKS SHOWDOWN ON FRENCH DEBT

Arkansas Senator Challenges Coolidge to Demand Action.

BACK FROM TRIP

Overseas Delegation Resents Attitude of French People.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—A challenge to President Coolidge to demand from France payment in full or "complete repudiation" or her $4,000,000,000 war debt was voiced here today by Senator T. H. Caraway, (D. of Arkansas), just returned from an European tour.

Much incensed at the anti-American sentiment in France, Caraway declared the present debt funding agreement, "cancelling half the debt" and giving the French people 62 years to "pay the remainder," should be abandoned. He called on the president to take this action and issue an ultimatum to France to "pay in full or repudiate in full," the money loaned her by the American people during the war. No other course, said Caraway, will restore American prestige abroad.

Like a half dozen other members of the overseas delegation of the senate, Caraway returned from France filled with resentment against the French government and French people. He took offense not only at the French government's attitude on the debt question but toward the "contemptuous disregard of the French people for the nation which helped them during the war.

Caraway predicted the present French debt settlement would be rejected by the senate.

Caraway also proposed that congress enact legislation bringing back all American dead from France. Their graves and monuments in American cemeteries have been desecrated with "foul epithets," he said. To leave the American dead abroad, he added, is to subject their memory to French hatred and contempt.

Defense Again Asks Mistrial in Miller And Daugherty Case

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Another demand that the trial of Harry M. Daugherty, formerly attorney general, and Colonel Thomas W. Miller, formerly alien property custodian, be declared a mistrial was made in federal court today by Max Steuer, attorney for Daugherty. Judge Mack denied the motion.

"The defense is not in a position to get a fair trial the way this case is being conducted," Steuer asserted with considerable heat.

Daugherty and Miller, who are charged with conspiracy to deprive the government of their "unprejudiced services' in connection with the return of $7,000,000 worth of seized alien property belonging to the German-controlled American Metals company, listened to the plea of Steuer with keen interest.

Steuer's second demand that the case be thrown out of court—the other having been made yesterday—came while John T. Durkin, formerly secretary to the late John T. King, Connecticut politician, was being questioned by Assistant United States Attorney Kenneth Simpson.

15 Reported Dead, 100 Hurt as Cyclone Hits Thrace, Greece

SOFIA, Sept. 15.—At least 15 persons have been killed and 100 injured in a cyclone which swept Thrace, Greece, on Tuesday, according to travelers arriving here today. The damage wrought by the wind was said to be enormous.

NEW YORK-PARIS FLIGHT DELAYED

WESTBURY, N. Y., Sept. 15.—The New York-to-Paris flight will not start until dawn Thursday owing to unfavorable weather reports, Capt. Rene Fonck, the flight leader, announced early today.

Everything had been in readiness for a hop-off this morning but because of storms off the Newfoundland coast the French ace decided to delay a day.

through Cairns' chest and lodged against his back bone.

Self-defense Plea.

Cairns was brought to the hospital in the automobile of another camper. Moore and Cook were arrested and taken to jail. At first they claimed they had been shot by an unidentified autoist and later said the shooting had occurred when they attempted to hold up the driver of the car. This confession was later repudiated by Cook who said that Moore had done the shooting after Cairns had attacked him. Confronted with Cook's statement, Moore is alleged to have broken down and made a complete confession to Chief of Police McDermott and Captain of Police Conley. The statement was signed by both Moore and Cook before they were turned over to the Beaver county authorities.

The gun, a 25-calibre automatic, Moore said, had been thrown into the creek from the vehicle bridge after the shooting. Beaver county authorities attempted to locate the gun but the water was too deep and muddy. Moore and Cook were arrested and of self-defense during his trial.

TURK-NASH TEAM ATTENDS DINNER

Members of the Turk-Nash Industrial league baseball team and employes of the Turk-Nash sales agency were guests of Michael Turk, head of the organization, at a chicken dinner in Larkins' annex, Market street, at 6 o'clock last evening.

Turk, master of ceremonies, lauded members of the team for their fine showing and assured them of his loyal support next season. Kent McConnell and Clarence "Cracker" Howell, members of the team, also spoke briefly. Places were arranged for 22 guests.

LISBON FAIR DRAWS THRONG

Extra Trolley Service Necessary on Second Day.

With ideal weather prevailing, thousands of visitors packed the fair grounds at Lisbon today for the 77th annual fair of the Columbiana County Agricultural society.

The visitors came by automobile, horse drawn vehicles, street car and steam railroads. Automobiles continued to pass through the gates until late this afternoon.

The Y. & O. Railroad company had extra cars in service between East Liverpool and Salem, two cars being operated hourly. The double service also will be maintained tomorrow, the last day of the fair.

The racing card for today included four events, 2:24 trot, 2:24 pace, 2:21 trot and a 2:14 pace. Purses, aggregating $1,300, will be awarded the winners. Four more races, with purses totalling $1,700, will be featured tomorrow.

Exhibits in poultry, cattle, sheep, hogs and other live stock this year are better than ever. Other displays in vegetables, fruit, fancy work, flowers, baked goods, school work and similar displays were on a par with those of former years. Numerous concessions and shows were crowded into the midway.

Scores of automobiles were on display. Many merchants also operated booths in the main exhibition hall. One of these booths was conducted by the Retail Merchants' division of the East Liverpool Chamber of Commerce. Several sets of dinner ware were to be awarded from the booth.

Pestilence, Hunger Feared in Flood District in Kansas

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 15.—Pestilence and hunger threatened the Kansas flood district today, and in Burlington where most of the flood damage occurred, a second heavy rain was falling.

Small cyclones visited Hutchinson and vicinity last night, causing thousands of dollars damage. Waters had receded in most of the 100-mile long flood area.

Red Cross and other organization workers were taking care of the sick families and hundreds of homeless farmers.

Two Burlington railroad trains were marooned in northwest Missouri this morning and heavy washouts had occurred near St. Joseph, Mo.

FINDLAY FIREMAN TRAFFIC VICTIM

FINDLAY, O., Sept. 15.—Joseph Altman, city fireman for 14 years and a veteran of many battles with flames in which he narrowly escaped with his life many times, was dead at his home here today, a traffic victim. His automobile was struck by a Cleveland-Lima electric train and dragged 400 feet.

LAUNCH QUIZ IN HALL-MILLS DEATH MYSTERY

Somerville, N. J., Grand Jurors Charged by Jurist.

THREE ACCUSED

Recently Held Prima Facie Case Had Been Established.

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Sept. 15.—State Supreme Court Justice Charles W. Parker, who recently ruled that a prima facie case had been established against the three defendants in the Hall-Mills murder mystery, today made a special charge to the grand jury which will be asked to return indictments.

"For reasons satisfactory to the court," Justice Parker told the jurors, "you have been recalled here today for the special purpose of considering the evidence relating to the alleged murder of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills some four years ago, with a view of ascertaining whether one or more indictments ought to be found in this matter, and if so who should be the parties indicted.

"Three persons up to this time have been arrested charged with the crime. The first is Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, widow of the deceased clergyman, who is out on bail; the other two are her brother, Willie Stevens, and her cousin, Henry Carpender, who are held without bail."

Important Witnesses Present.

Justice Parker then explained to the jurors that their first move must be to decide whether Dr. Hall and Mrs. Mills actually were murdered. When this fact should be established, he said, then the jury must decide whether the evidence presented warranted the holding of one or more persons for trial. They need not worry about the decree of murder involved, he added, as that was up to the trial jury.

Many important witnesses had already entered the court when the special charge was begun. Among them were Ralph Gorsline, admittedly near the scene of the crime; James Mills, husband of the murdered woman; Barbara Tough, former maid in the Hall home, and Arthur Applegate, whose appearance led to the report that an indictment would be sought against Henry Stevens also.

Applegate was one of those named by Stevens to establish his alibi for the murder night. He is a brother of Willie Stevens and Mrs. Hall, and a cousin of Carpenter.

Nine Persons Plead Guilty in U. S. Court At Steubenville

STEUBENVILLE, O., Sept. 15.—Nine persons pleaded guilty and were sentenced today by Judge Benson W. Hough, who concluded the first term of United States district court ever held here.

James and John A. Keegan, brothers, of Zanesville, were sentenced to a year and a day in Atlanta prison for violation of the national motor vehicle theft act.

Frank J. Bennett, 29, a United States soldier was given the same punishment for a similar offense.

Six others, including a woman, received varying sentences of from 5 days to four months in the county jail for less serious offenses.

SEEK HIGHER-UP IN MURDER OF CANTON EDITOR

Vice Crusader Roach Confers With Federal Officials.

RUM CONSPIRACY

Louis Mazer Will be Taken to Stark County Jail.

CANTON, O., Oct. 15.—Following a conference between Prosecutor McClintock and Detective Ora Slater Wednesday morning, it was announced the reward offered for the arrest of Patrick McDermott wanted in the murder of Don R. Mellett, had been increased to $10,000. The reward is offered to any person who gives information causing the arrest alone of McDermott.

The former reward was for the arrest of and conviction and was for $5,000.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 15.—A campaign against "higher ups" in a huge liquor conspiracy which operated in Canton, whose members are believed to have had some connection with the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher, was launched here today with the arrival of Joseph R. Roach, Chicago attorney, one of the chief investigators into the murder plot.

Roach called upon United States District Attorney A. E. Bernsteen and laid before the federal official all data connected with the alleged conspiracy, it was learned.

The Chicago attorney declared that he has ended his efforts in the murder case as that phase of the Canton situation virtually has been cleaned up. He announced that he would concentrate upon liquor violations.

He recently returned from Washington where, it is said, he conferred with high federal officials.

Lengel Files Appeal.

CANTON, O., Sept. 15.—There is small likelihood that Louis Mazer, who is to be turned over by federal authorities at Cleveland, today to the Stark county authorities to answer a charge of first degree murder, will reach this city before this evening. This will result in delaying arraigning Mazer and Ben Rudner in open court until sometime on Friday.

As soon as Mazer is landed in the Stark county jail he will be served a copy of the indictment found against him by the Stark county grand jury and 24 hours must elapse after such service before he can be arraigned in court to enter his plea. Therefore, it is unlikely that the arraignment of Mazer and Rudner, also indicted for murder in the death of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher, will take place before Friday.

Prosecutor C. B. McClintock said today that he will lose no time in trying the cases and expects to have the entire matter disposed of before expiration of his term of office on the first Monday in January, 1927.

S. A. Lengel, ousted police chief, has filed an appeal from the ouster order of Mayor M. S. Swarts, sustained by the civil service commission, and says if he loses his case in common pleas court he will carry his appeal to the supreme court. He was "fired" on a charge that he "bungled" the Mellett murder investigation.

BOBBY JONES MATCH WINNER

Obscure Namesake Stages Close Fight in Golf Tourney.

SHORT HILLS, N. J., Sept. 15.—Bobby Jones, greatest of all golfers, won his first round match this morning in the National Amateur Golf championship, but not before his more or less obscure namesake, Dick Jones, had made him know that he was in a golf contest.

Dick carried Bobby all the way to the home green before he yielded to the inevitable by one up.

Rudy Knepper, Sioux City, won a great match from Dexter Cummins, Chicago, by one up, the play being carried right up the club house green.

Another first round match was decided in favor of J. Wood Platt, Philadelphia, who beat Keefe Carter, Oklahoma City, 4 up and 3 to play.

Another overtime match went all the way to the twenty-second hole before Maurice McCarthy, Brooklyn, could beat Max Marston, Philadelphia, a former champion. McCarthy gained his victory in spite of hooking his tee shot out of bounds at the first extra hole. Playing "three" on his next shot, he still was able to halve the hole.

Another titanic struggle saw Francis Ouimet, open champion in 1913 and amateur title holder in 1914, finally prevail over the 21-year-old Roy Moe, Portland, Ore., by one up on the eighteenth green.

George Dawson, Chicago, defeated M. L. Massingill, Fort Worth, by one up eighteen holes, in another first round match. Others were decided in favor of Eddie Held, St. Louis, by two and one over D. Clark Cochran, Philadelphia; Eustace Storey, England, by one up over Denman Shute, Huntington, W. Va.; Fred Wright, Boston, by one up over Lauga Upson, Englewood, N. J., and Chick Evans by two and one over Bill Wownes, Pittsburgh.

ONE thing that Goethe says in "Wilhelm Meister" interests us all, namely that thinking is difficult, and to act, according to your thoughts, is uncomfortable.

One hundred in ten thousand think. One in a hundred of those that think translate the thought ito action. That is why the world moves upward so slowly. Perhaps that is how it should move. With two, or three hundred million more years of life ahead of it, old earth is not in a hurry.

IT IS said automobiles keep half the voters away from the polls, and "absentee balloting" is suggested.

Also, "golf keeps men away from the church."

The [illegible]s to make politics as interesting as motoring, religion as interesting as golf. With Henry Ward Beecher in a big church, or Billy Sunday in a revival tent, the caddies, not the clergymen, would complain.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Industrial stocks promptly resumed their forward price movement in the early trading today. In addition to the continuation of short covering, buying was stimulated by the extremely favorable and brilliant report of railroad freight loadings. In the week of September 4 revenue freight loadings aggregated 1,151,346 cars, the largest in the history of American railroading, and exceeding by 50,000 cars the record of the same week last year.

Transactions for the treasury involving nearly a billion and a quarter dollars tied up a considerable volume of bank funds and call loan renewals remained at 5 per cent. Industrial rather than railroad stocks were the chief beneficiaries of the bullish report on freight traffic, the inference being a huge increase in domestic business of all kinds.

Through the leadership in the industrial group was assumed by General Motors and United States Steel, the stocks of the moving picture enterprises attracted considerable attention by their strength and activity. Fox Film sold above 79, while Pathe, Famous Players and Warner Brothers were actively turned over at or near the highest prices of the year to date.

General Motors pushed up close to 150 in extremely heavy trading, this price being equivalent to 225 for the stock before selling ex-dividend 50 per cent stock. United States Steel gained more than a point at 149⅞. American Smelting sold in volume above 150. Copper and oil stocks continued firm but railroad and equipment stocks were inactive and slightly irregular. Commodity markets were steady in the early trading.

OUTLINE PLANS FOR CERAMICS COURSE STUDY

Kenneth M. Smith Again in Charge of Classes.

ADULTS ENROLL

Sixteen Youths Make Great Progress Last Year.

Development of the district's clay resources is sure to follow the introduction of the course in ceramics in the East Liverpool public schools, Kenneth M. Smith, ceramic engineer, in charge of the study added to the high school curriculum, last year, said today.

Sixteen youths were registered for the course last year and a still larger enrollment is promised this fall. Students last term installed machinery and motors, performed pipe fitting jobs, poured concrete, designed and made pottery moulds, compounded bodies and glazes and in a general way studied the fundamentals of the industry.

This year the classes will go a little deeper into the study. Further improvements and additions to the course are proposed by Prof. Smith for students in this department, which is maintained in one of the basement rooms of the Central school building.

"Ceramics has taken its place as a highly developed special form of science," said Smith. "This science needs new blood to help its growth. It needs young men who are trained to full positions of responsibility."

The ceramics course is not confined to high school students but a separate course will be offered for adults. These classes will meet at night and are intended primarily for those now employed in the pottery industry and who wish to obtain a wider knowledge of the trade in which they earn their livlihood. *Plans for the night school will be announced within the next few days.

Wealthy Spinster Leaves $1,100,000 to Youngstown Charity

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 15.—Charity will profit by approximately $1,100,000 through the will of Lucy R. Buechner, pioneer of this city, who died last week. Her will was filed for probate here today. This represents here entire estate.

The wealthy spinster bequeathed $500,000 to the Youngstown hospital, $500,000 for the establishment of a home for working and student girls and $100,000 to be divided between churches, missionary societies and other local charities.

EMBARGO ON ARMS TO NICARAGUA

WHITE PINE CAMP, N. Y., Sept. 15.—An embargo on shipment of arms and ammunition to Nicaragua was ordered by President Coolidge today because of revolutionary conditions in the Central America republic. The proclamation was issued effective today and will remain in force until order has been restored.

by the Ohio Council of Churches and competition with other entrants.

Initial contests will be held by the local churches separately and a bronze medal will be awarded by the Ohio Council of Churches to the winner in each church that has three or more contestants.

Winners of local church contests will then meet in a county contest for a silver medal. County champions will next meet in a congressional district contest with a gold medal as the award. Finally the gold medal winners of the entire state will meet in Columbus in the state contest, with three cash prizes totaling $1,000 and three college scholarships offered to the winners.

Opening contests in the churches are planned as a feature of the observance of Armistice Sunday, November, 7.

More than 335 of the churches that took part in the first annual contest re-enrolled for the second immediately, said Rev. Rr. Beckler, and this number is rapidly increasing. He urged enrollment of churches, in order that the boys and girls may have as much time as possible to select and study their declamations.

The First Annual Prince of Peace Declamation Contest was held last spring. The change to autumn dates was made to avoid conflicts with high school commencement activities in the late spring and to link the contest with the widespread observance of Armistice Day and Armistice Sunday as peace festivals.

EXCEEDS PARKING LIMIT, FINED $1

Thomas Paterson was fined $1 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of violation of the traffic ordinance upon arraignment before Municipal Judge Hanley this morning. Paterson, according to Patrolman Haley, who arrested him, parked his auto for four and one-half hours in a 30-minute parking zone on St. Clair avenue.

the past a Groesbeck stronghold) with a majority of 127,000 and was holding it as the vote was being tabulated slowly.

The vote in 2,196 precincts out of 2,935 is: Green, 298,755; Groesbeck, 171,310.

Representative Frank Scott, of Alpena, who figured several months ago in a sensational divorce suit, apparently has been defeated for re-nomination by Dr. Frank H. Bohn, of Newberry.

Congressman Grant M. Hudson, dry leader, decisively whipped the Rev. J. Bradford Pengelly in the sixth district. Pengelly was endorsed by the "wets."

William A. Comstock, Democratic candidate for governor, was unopposed.

Broussard Leads Race.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 15. — Renomination of Senator Edwin E. Broussard (D.) appeared probable on the basis of returns from all sections of the state today.

With the city count complete and 831 out of 1,084 precincts in the parish reported, Senator Broussard was leading his opponent, J. Y. Sanders, by a majority of 4,307 votes.

J. Zach Spearing has been renominated for congress from the seond district by a commanding majority over three opponents, virtually complete returns showed this morning.

Three-Cornered Contest.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Sept. 15.—The Republican nomination for governor was won by ex-Judge John E. Weeks, of Middlebury, in a three-cornered contest, primary returns revealed today. The vote was: Weeks, 23,230; former State Senator Max W. Powell, 14,847, and Lieut. Gov. Walker K. Farnsworth, 10,033.

In the only other hot contest—that for the Republican congressional nomination in the first district, the vote was: Congressman Elbert S. Bingham, 10,213, and State Senator Martin S. Vilas, 5,225.

World Court Advocate Wins.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 15.—Senator Ellison D. Smith, world court advocate, apparently has defeated Edgar A. Brown, for renomination in yesterday's run-off primary by a narrow margin.

Incomplete returns today gave Smith 78,906; Brown, 73,604.

John G. Richards won a decisive victory over Ira G. Blackwood for governor.

New York State Results.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 15. — Both wets and drys were victorious in the New York primary election, according to advices from various parts of the state which reached the capitol today in several of the primary contests. Prohibition was the chief issue.

Representative Frank W. Crowther, Republican dry, won re-nomination in the 30th congressional district over E. Watson Gardiner, Republican wet, by more than 3,500.

Today the wets were claiming a victory over the drys in the nomination of former Representative John D. Clarke, Republican. Clarke, favoring a modification of the Volstead act, defeated Representative Harold S. Tolley, Republican dry, in the 34th congressional district.

Representative Gale H. Stalker, dry Republican, was re-nominated in the 37th congressional district. He was opposed by Edwin L. Evans, a wet.

Means Second In Colorado.

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 15.—R. W. Means, Republican junior United States senator from Colorado, was running second today to Charles W. Waterman, on incomplete returns from yesterday's state primary, 502 precincts out of 1,591 giving Waterman 19,805; Means, 10,586, and George A. Luxford, 5,123.

In the Republican gubernatorial race, Oliver H. Shoup was leading John F. Vivian, backed by Senator Lawrence C. Phipps by 7,000 votes, the count being, Shoup 19,874; Vivian, 12,836.

In the Democratic senatorial race, Paul P. Prosser was leading William E. Sweet by the count of 3,436 against 2,818.

William H. Adams, veteran politician, has been conceded victory over Samuel W. Johnson in the gubernatorial contest.

Jones Leads in Washington.

SEATTLE, Sept. 15.—Senator Wesley L. Jones was leading his opponent, Frank E. Hammond, by four to one for the Republican nomination for United States senator with practically all the precincts in the state heard from early today.

Jones, a dry and a pro-court candidate, completely swamped his opponent, returns indicated.

The Democratic nomination for the United States senate has been conceded to A. Scott Bullitt.

Massachusetts Primaries.

BOSTON, Sept. 15.—Victory of Arthur K. Reading, Middlesex county district attorney, in a three-cornered race for the Republican nomination for attorney general, and the crushing defeat of District Attorney Thomas C. O'Brien of Suffolk county, for both the Democratic and Republican nomination for that office, stood today as the outstanding results of the Massachusetts primaries.

Congressional fight showed Congressman Allen T. Treadway far ahead of District Attorney Charles H. Wright in the first district, Republican, and Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers decisively defeating Captain John Bordman in the fifth district, Republican.

Two Democratic congressmen, John J. Douglas and James A. Gallivan, were renominated.

CARAWAY ASKS SHOWDOWN ON FRENCH DEBT

Arkansas Senator Challenges Coolidge to Demand Action.

BACK FROM TRIP

Overseas Delegation Resents Attitude of French People.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—A challenge to President Coolidge to demand from France payment in full or "complete repudiation" or her $4,000,000,000 war debt was voiced here today by Senator T. H. Caraway, (D. of Arkansas), just returned from an European tour.

Much incensed at the anti-American sentiment in France, Caraway declared the present debt funding agreement, "cancelling half the debt" and giving the French people 62 years to "pay the remainder," should be abandoned. He called on the president to take this action and issue an ultimatum to France to "pay in full or repudiate in full," the money loaned her by the American people during the war. No other course, said Caraway, will restore American prestige abroad.

Like a half dozen other members of the overseas delegation of the senate, Caraway returned from France filled with resentment against the French government and French people. He took offense not only at the French government's attitude on the debt question but toward the "contemptuous disregard of the French people for the nation which helped them during the war.

Caraway predicted the present French debt settlement would be rejected by the senate.

Caraway also proposed that congress enact legislation bringing back all American dead from France. Their graves and monuments in American cemeteries have been desecrated with "foul epithets," he said. To leave the American dead abroad, he added, is to subject their memory to French hatred and contempt.

Defense Again Asks Mistrial in Miller And Daugherty Case

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Another demand that the trial of Harry M. Daugherty, formerly attorney general, and Colonel Thomas W. Miller, formerly alien property custodian, be declared a mistrial was made in federal court today by Max Steuer, attorney for Daugherty. Judge Mack denied the motion.

"The defense is not in a position to get a fair trial the way this case is being conducted," Steuer asserted with considerable heat.

Daugherty and Miller, who are charged with conspiracy to deprive the government of their "unprejudiced services' in connection with the return of $7,000,000 worth of seized alien property belonging to the German-controlled American Metals company, listened to the plea of Steuer with keen interest.

Steuer's second demand that the case be thrown out of court—the other having been made yesterday—came while John T. Durkin, formerly secretary to the late John T. King, Connecticut politician, was being questioned by Assistant United States Attorney Kenneth Simpson.

15 Reported Dead, 100 Hurt as Cyclone Hits Thrace, Greece

SOFIA, Sept. 15.—At least 15 persons have been killed and 100 injured in a cyclone which swept Thrace, Greece, on Tuesday, according to travelers arriving here today. The damage wrought by the wind was said to be enormous.

NEW YORK-PARIS FLIGHT DELAYED

WESTBURY, N. Y., Sept. 15.—The New York-to-Paris flight will not start until dawn Thursday owing to unfavorable weather reports, Capt. Rene Fonck, the flight leader, announced early today.

Everything had been in readiness for a hop-off this morning but because of storms off the Newfoundland coast the French ace decided to delay a day.

through Cairns' chest and lodged against his back bone.

Self-defense Plea.

Cairns was brought to the hospital in the automobile of another camper. Moore and Cook were arrested nad taken to jail. At first they claimed they had been shot by an unidentified autoist and later said the shooting had occurred when they attempted to hold up the driver of the car. This confession was later repudiated by Cook who said that Moore had done the shooting after Cairns had attacked him. Confronted with Cook's statement, Moore is alleged to have broken down and made a complete confession to Chief of Police McDermott and Captain of Police Conley. The statement was signed by both Moore and Cook before they were turned over to the Beaver county authorities.

The gun, a 25-calibre automatic, Moore said, had been thrown into the creek from the vehicle bridge after the shooting. Beaver county authorities attempted to locate the gun but the water was too deep and muddy. Moore and Cook were arrested and of self-defense during his trial.

TURK-NASH TEAM ATTENDS DINNER

Members of the Turk-Nash Industrial league baseball team and employes of the Turk-Nash sales agency were guests of Michael Turk, head of the organization, at a chicken dinner in Larkins' annex, Market street, at 6 o'clock last evening.

Turk, master of ceremonies, lauded members of the team for their fine showing and assured them of his loyal support next season. Kent McConnell and Clarence "Cracker" Howell, members of the team, also spoke briefly. Places were arranged for 22 guests.

LISBON FAIR DRAWS THRONG

Extra Trolley Service Necessary on Second Day.

With ideal weather prevailing, thousands of visitors packed the fair grounds at Lisbon today for the 77th annual fair of the Columbiana County Agricultural society.

The visitors came by automobile, horse drawn vehicles, street car and steam railroads. Automobiles continued to pass through the gates until late this afternoon.

The Y. & O. Railroad company had extra cars in service between East Liverpool and Salem, two cars being operated hourly. The double service also will be maintained tomorrow, the last day of the fair.

The racing card for today included four events, 2:24 trot, 2:24 pace, 2:21 trot and a 2:14 pace. Purses, aggregating $1,300, will be awarded the winners. Four more races, with purses totalling $1,700, will be featured tomorrow.

Exhibits in poultry, cattle, sheep, hogs and other live stock this year are better than ever. Other displays in vegetables, fruit, fancy work, flowers, baked goods, school work and similar displays were on a par with those of former years. Numerous concessions and shows were crowded into the midway.

Scores of automobiles were on display. Many merchants also operated booths in the main exhibition hall. One of these booths was conducted by the Retail Merchants' division of the East Liverpool Chamber of Commerce. Several sets of dinner ware were to be awarded from the booth.

Pestilence, Hunger Feared in Flood District in Kansas

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 15.—Pestilence and hunger threatened the Kansas flood district today, and in Burlington where most of the flood damage occurred, a second heavy rain was falling.

Small cyclones visited Hutchinson and vicinity last night, causing thousands of dollars damage. Waters had receded in most of the 100-mile long flood area.

Red Cross and other organization workers were taking care of the sick families and hundreds of homeless farmers.

Two Burlington railroad trains were marooned in northwest Missouri this morning and heavy washouts had occurred near St. Joseph, Mo.

FINDLAY FIREMAN TRAFFIC VICTIM

FINDLAY, O., Sept. 15.—Joseph Altman, city fireman for 14 years and a veteran of many battles with flames in which he narrowly escaped with his life many times, was dead at his home here today, a traffic victim. His automobile was struck by a Cleveland-Lima electric train and dragged 400 feet.

LAUNCH QUIZ IN HALL-MILLS DEATH MYSTERY

Somerville, N. J., Grand Jurors Charged by Jurist.

THREE ACCUSED

Recently Held Prima Facie Case Had Been Established.

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Sept. 15.—State Supreme Court Justice Charles W. Parker, who recently ruled that a prima facie case had been established against the three defendants in the Hall-Mills murder mystery, today made a special charge to the grand jury which will be asked to return indictments.

"For reasons satisfactory to the court," Justice Parker told the jurors, "you have been recalled here today for the special purpose of considering the evidence relating to the alleged murder of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills some four years ago, with a view of ascertaining whether one or more indictments ought to be found in this matter, and if so who should be the parties indicted.

"Three persons up to this time have been arrested charged with the crime. The first is Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, widow of the deceased clergyman, who is out on bail; the other two are her brother, Willie Stevens, and her cousin, Henry Carpender, who are held without bail."

Important Witnesses Present.

Justice Parker then explained to the jurors that their first move must be to decide whether Dr. Hall and Mrs. Mills actually were murdered. When this fact should be established, he said, then the jury must decide whether the evidence presented warranted the holding of one or more persons for trial. They need not worry about the decree of murder involved, he added, as that was up to the trial jury.

Many important witnesses had already entered the court when the special charge was begun. Among them were Ralph Gorsline, admittedly near the scene of the crime; James Mills, husband of the murdered woman; Barbara Tough, former maid in the Hall home, and Arthur Applegate, whose appearance led to the report that an indictment would be sought against Henry Stevens also.

Applegate was one of those named by Stevens to establish his alibi for the murder night. He is a brother of Willie Stevens and Mrs. Hall, and a cousin of Carpenter.

Nine Persons Plead Guilty in U. S. Court At Steubenville

STEUBENVILLE, O., Sept. 15.—Nine persons pleaded guilty and were sentenced today by Judge Benson W. Hough, who concluded the first term of United States district court ever held here.

James and John A. Keegan, brothers, of Zanesville, were sentenced to a year and a day in Atlanta prison for violation of the national motor vehicle theft act.

Frank J. Bennett, 29, a United States soldier was given the same punishment for a similar offense.

Six others, including a woman, received varying sentences of from 5 days to four months in the county jail for less serious offenses.

FARMERS PLAN TRIP TO CANADA

County Agriculturists Will Inspect Corn Borer Area.

Much interest is being shown by farmers of Columbiana county in the corn borer trip to Canada which will be made on September 20, 21 and 22. The party will leave Lisbon at 6 a. m. on Monday, September 20th and will spend the first night in Monroe, Michigan. The men will inspect the infested area in the territory around Essex, east of Detroit on Tuesday and will return home on Wednesday. A guide will be provided on the visit in Ontario.

The aim of the trip is to observe the extent of the damage done by the European corn borer in Canada. This section is reported to be the most heavily infested with the result that some entire fields are completely destroyed and other fields are seriously damaged.

The fact that Columbiana county has been recently reported entirely infested has created interest in the trip.

The route is so arranged as to avoid driving through Detroit and other large cities where traffic is heavy, according to County Agent Floyd Lower who is in charge of the trip.

Mr. Lower has announced that persons interested in going should communicate with him not later than Saturday, September 18th so that arrangements can be made for cars for the party.

ROADS DAMAGED BY RECENT RAINS

Trustees of Washington township advised the county commissioners Monday afternoon of the severe damage done by recent rains to a number of roads in that township, and sought financial aid to repair the damage.

Although unable to obtain funds from the county, because of the commissioners having no money available for new appropriation, the trustees were informed they could use money collected from assessments levied on certain roads, so long as the bonds on these particular roads are cared for through other channels. By doing this, the trustees have from $400 to $500 available they can use in repairing the dirt roads, and over which the commissioners have no control.

Depository Interest Being Lost by Many Districts of County

Because township, school district and municipal corporation officials have been in the habit of asking for more advance money from the County Auditor Elmer E. Walker than is necessary for their needs until the settlement period, there has been a heavy loss of depository interest to these taxing districts. East Liverpool school district lost $205 depository interests because of its withdrawal of $50,000 from the county before the settlement warrants were issued.

There are 70 taxing districts in the county, and there is to be paid 18 townships $1,308.21 depository interest money, and $7,417.43 is to be paid from this interest fund to 40 school districts. The 12 municipal corporations will have apportioned $4,258.90. County funds will be credited with $22,138.91, and the state will receive $91.11. The total amount banks paid for the use of county money, according to the depository interest sheet is $35,215.37.

It has been pointed out by County Auditor Walker that officers in many taxing districts for years have asked for more money than required to meet immediate needs before the tax settlement period, in some instances $10,000 being asked when less than $5,000 would be sufficient to meet all current requirements. While the officers of the taxing districts have placed their funds in banks on interest, the interest paid on these local funds is not as large as that received by the county, and as a result the taxing district is losing money by making such heavy demands upon the County Auditor for excess advances.

Pimples

What can I do?

"Oh, why can't I have a skin like other girls? Why do I have to have these ugly pimples, blotches and blackheads?

"If I could only find something that would clear up my skin and give me back my soft, rosy complexion, I know I would be the happiest girl in the world! What can I do?"

Is that you talking? If it is, you don't have to worry a minute! Just build up the rich, red blood in your body. Then your skin will be as clear and soft as anybody's.

That's what S. S. S. has been doing for generations—helping Nature build rich, red blood! You can build red blood-cells so fast that the impurities that cause breaking out on the skin hardly get into the system before the pure blood annihilates them—kills them right out—stops them from breaking out through the skin.

And then this rich, red, pure blood feeds and nourishes the tissues of the skin and keeps it looking healthy.

That's all there is to it. Healthy, vigorous, red blood such as S. S. S. helps Nature build, makes you healthy all over. It beautifies your skin—drives away pimples, blackheads, blotches, rash, boils and eczema—gives you back your appetite—builds firm, plump flesh and fills you full of new life and energy.

FARMERS PLAN TRIP TO CANADA

County Agriculturists Will Inspect Corn Borer Area.

Much interest is being shown by farmers of Columbiana county in the corn borer trip to Canada which will be made on September 20, 21 and 22. The party will leave Lisbon at 6 a. m. on Monday, September 20th and will spend the first night in Monroe, Michigan. The men will inspect the infested area in the territory around Essex, east of Detroit on Tuesday and will return home on Wednesday. A guide will be provided on the visit in Ontario.

The aim of the trip is to observe the extent of the damage done by the European corn borer in Canada. This section is reported to be the most heavily infested with the result that some entire fields are completely destroyed and other fields are seriously damaged.

The fact that Columbiana county has been recently reported entirely infested has created interest in the trip.

The route is so arranged as to avoid driving through Detroit and other large cities where traffic is heavy, according to County Agent Floyd Lower who is in charge of the trip.

Mr. Lower has announced that persons interested in going should communicate with him not later than Saturday, September 18th so that arrangements can be made for cars for the party.

ROADS DAMAGED BY RECENT RAINS

Trustees of Washington township advised the county commissioners Monday afternoon of the severe damage done by recent rains to a number of roads in that township, and sought financial aid to repair the damage.

Although unable to obtain funds from the county, because of the commissioners having no money available for new appropriation, the trustees were informed they could use money collected from assessments levied on certain roads, so long as the bonds on these particular roads are cared for through other channels. By doing this, the trustees have from $400 to $500 available they can use in repairing the dirt roads, and over which the commissioners have no control.

Depository Interest Being Lost by Many Districts of County

Because township, school district and municipal corporation officials have been in the habit of asking for more advance money from the County Auditor Elmer E. Walker than is necessary for their needs until the settlement period, there has been a heavy loss of depository interest to these taxing districts. East Liverpool school district lost $205 depository interests because of its withdrawal of $50,000 from the county before the settlement warrants were issued.

There are 70 taxing districts in the county, and there is to be paid 18 townships $1,308.21 depository interest money, and $7,417.43 is to be paid from this interest fund to 40 school districts. The 12 municipal corporations will have apportioned $4.258.90. County funds will be credited with $22,138.91, and the state will receive $91.11. The total amount banks paid for the use of county money, according to the depository interest sheet is $35,215.37.

It has been pointed out by County Auditor Walker that officers in many taxing districts for years have asked for more money than required to meet immediate needs before the tax settlement period, in some instances $10,000 being asked when less than $5,000 would be sufficient to meet all current requirements. While the officers of the taxing districts have placed their funds in banks on interest, the interest paid on these local funds is not as large as that received by the county, and as a result the taxing district is losing money by making such heavy demands upon the County Auditor for excess advances.

Pimples

What can I do?

"OH, why can't I have a skin like other girls? Why do I have to have these ugly pimples, blotches and blackheads?

"If I could only find something that would clear up my skin and give me back my soft, rosy complexion, I know I would be the happiest girl in the world! What can I do?"

Is that you talking? If it is, you don't have to worry a minute! Just build up the rich, red blood in your body. Then your skin will be as clear and soft as anybody's.

That's what S. S. S. has been doing for generations—helping Nature build rich, red blood! You can build red blood-cells so fast that the impurities that cause breaking out on the skin hardly get into the system before the pure blood annihilates them—kills them right out—stops them from breaking out through the skin.

And then this rich, red, pure blood feeds and nourishes the tissues of the skin and keeps it looking healthy.

That's all there is to it. Healthy, vigorous, red blood such as S. S. S. helps Nature build, makes you healthy all over. It beautifies your skin—drives away pimples, blackheads, blotches, rash, boils and eczema—gives you back your appetite—builds firm, plump flesh and fills you full of new life and energy.

"ABIE'S IRISH ROSE" WINNER

Anne Nichols' Comedy Comes to Ceramic for Two Days.

The first bookings for the current season at the Ceramic theatre is Anne Nichols' appealing comedy, "Abie's Irish Rose," the wonder play of the age which she will present Thursday and Friday.

"Abie's Irish Rose," is one of those plays which wins through its bright and witty line, funny situations and simple apepaling love story, which is above all coherent and wonderfully human.

It was built for laughing purposes and that it has succeeded in accomplishing the result at which its author aimed can be attested to by the more than ten millions of people who have witnessed it one or more times in the last two years.

As an establisher of lengthy runs and financial returns, its equal has never been known in theatrical history, as the few engagements it has played as below mentioned will verify.

Just think, if you can, of any play which has been offered at one theatre in any one of the cities below, and has played the number of consecutive weeks this perennial wonder has.

Los Angeles 42 weeks; San Francisco, 28 weeks; Pittsburgh, 29 weeks; Cleveland, 28 weeks; Columbus, 14 weeks; Toronto, Canada, 17 weeks; Montreal, P. Q., 10 weeks; Baltimore, 12 weeks; Washington 12 weeks; Chicago, 58 weeks, and New York where it celebrated its 5 years run at the Republic theatre on the evening of May 22nd, and is still playing to capacity audiences. Is it not a record to be proud of?

Miss Nichols will send her big cities company and production intact to fill the engagement here.

'FRECKLES' ROLE FOR RED MACK

Strand Theatre Comedian Dons Big Shoes, Baggy Trousers.

Again donning the big shoes and baggy trousers and playing the character that has endeared him to the theatre-goers of East Liverpool, Red Mack will romp in "Freckles in the Movies" for the last half of the week. This is the first time since the return of this popular comedian and his company for him to play his favorite role, 'Freckles,' and laughs galore are in store for the Strand patrons Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

All players will be seen to good advantage. Stanley Gordon has a manly lead, and as usual Little Mae Mack will be the heroine. Percy DeVille is the despised villain, and Red Mack will see that the finishing touches are put to the comedy element.

The Capital City Four, will again appear in new harmony songs. This quartette is more than making friends and never fail to please in their renditions.

The plot of "Freckles in the Movies" has to deal with an Italian who is in search of a man that has desecrated his home, and arrives just in time to see his quarry about to do the same thing in a different locality. The story is good, with much heart interest, and laughs by the bushel.

Beware Warning Signals of Failing Glandular System
Science Now Knows That Tired, Weak, Worn-Out Conditions Often Caused by Glandular Insufficiency.

THOUSANDS of men and women are weak, worn-out, run down and exhausted, losing strength and losing weight, and fail to recognize the cause, which is often glandular insufficiency, or a weakened glandular system.

Glands exert a remarkable influence on normal health and vigor, according to eminent medical authorities, and when the glands fail to function, health fails.

Science now points a new way to vigorous health and vitality—glandular treatment for glandular insufficiency. Remarkable benefits result often in a short time.

If you are weak-worn-out and run down, seek the thrill of vigorous health and vitality this new way.

Glandogen, the new scientific gland tonic, provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment. Glandogen is prepared in convenient tablet form, for men and for women. Accept no substitutes. Insist on genuine Glandogen, the original gland tonic. Mathews Cut Rate Store will supply you.

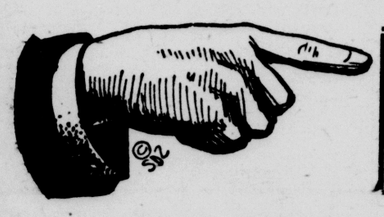
Change of Billing System

We have changed our billing system to meet new conditions brought about by the continual growth in the number of our electric customers. Our method of handling accounts in the past has been to mail all bills on the last day of the month, having the same become due on the 10th. of each month. Commencing with the bills for the month of September, we have installed a continuous billing system under which we will mail a certain number of bills each day, which bills should be paid within ten days from date of mailing.

Watch Payment Date

We would call your attention to the new form of bill shown about which will be used in the future, especially to that portion which reads:



If not paid on or before
will be added

In this space will be shown each month, the date with which your bill should be paid in order to avoid the payment of the Delayed Payment Charge due after the ten day period.

Better Service

This change in the method of handling your account has been done only after due consideration and by elimination of certain peaks in our work we firmly believe that you will find we will be enabled to not only handle your monthly bill and payment of same in more efficient manner, but also to give you better service according to your need in other respects.

No Waiting at Our Cashier Windows

We believe that all customers who make it a practice of paying their bills at our office will particularly agree with us, when we can announce that under the new system we will be able to render more efficient service at our cashier windows, eliminating the necessity of our customers having to wait in line in our office to pay their bill.

This week is NATIONAL SAFETY WEEK

SEPTEMBER 12th to 18th is Safety Week all over the United States. And safer motoring is a chief object of the educational work being done during this week.

"It is a serious question whether manufacturers in the past have given adequate thought to the element of safety in the cars they have sold to the general public. Over a period of years our motor-car manufacturers have stressed everything but safety features . . . ."
F. W. JOHNSON, Director Citizens Safety Committee of Philadelphia at the 1926 National Conference on Street and Highway Safety—SECRETARY HOOVER, Chairman.

Careful driving is, of course, urged upon all motorists, as it has been for years. There is no doubt that if everyone drove carefully, at all times, the annual figures on motoring injuries would be greatly reduced.

We subscribe to all efforts to bring about greater care in the operation of motor vehicles on our streets and highways. However, as local dealers in the New Safety Stutz, our contribution to motoring safety goes further than that.

We are offering the automobilist a car that, from the ground up, is designed to provide the greatest possible degree of in-built safety to its owners.

We believe that the builders of the New Safety Stutz are the first in the field to recognize in full the manufacturer's duty toward safer motoring, presenting an advanced type of automobile in which the element of safety is given engineering precedence.

Special Safety Exhibits and Demonstrations

During Safety Week we shall present special exhibits in our showrooms and give demonstrations of the New Safety Stutz designed to bring out its protective features in a practical way.

These will include:

Exhibits of the Safety Glass used all around in all models of the New Safety Stutz, in comparison with ordinary windshield and window glass, under severe shock.

Exhibit of the New Safety Stutz frame, the backbone of the automobile; the strongest and most rigid on any private passenger car.

"ABIE'S IRISH ROSE" WINNER

Anne Nichols' Comedy Comes to Ceramic for Two Days.

The first bookings for the current season at the Ceramic theatre is Anne Nichols' appealing comedy, "Abie's Irish Rose," the wonder play of the age which she will present Thursday and Friday.

"Abie's Irish Rose," is one of those plays which wins through its bright and witty line, funny situations and simple apepaling love story, which is above all coherent and wonderfully human.

It was built for laughing purposes and that it has succeeded in accomplishing the result at which its author aimed can be attested to by the more than ten millions of people who have witnessed it one or more times in the last two years.

As an establisher of lengthy runs and financial returns, its equal has never been known in theatrical history, as the few engagements it has played as below mentioned will verify.

Just think, if you can, of any play which has been offered at one theatre in any one of the cities below, and has played the number of consecutive weeks this perennial wonder has.

Los Angeles 42 weeks; San Francisco, 28 weeks; Pittsburgh, 29 weeks; Cleveland, 28 weeks; Columbus, 14 weeks; Toronto, Canada, 17 weeks; Montreal, P. Q., 10 weeks; Baltimore, 12 weeks; Washington 12 weeks; Chicago, 58 weeks, and New York where it celebrated its 5 years run at the Republic theatre on the evening of May 22nd, and is still playing to capacity audiences. Is it not a record to be proud of?

Miss Nichols will send her big cities company and production intact to fill the engagement here.

'FRECKLES' ROLE FOR RED MACK

Strand Theatre Comedian Dons Big Shoes, Baggy Trousers.

Again donning the big shoes and baggy trousers and playing the character that has endeared him to the theatre-goers of East Liverpool, Red Mack will romp in "Freckles in the Movies" for the last half of the week. This is the first time since the return of this popular comedian and his company for him to play his favorite role, 'Freckles,' and laughs galore are in store for the Strand patrons Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

All players will be seen to good advantage. Stanley Gordon has a manly lead, and as usual Little Mae Mack will be the heroine. Percy DeVille is the despised villain, and Red Mack will see that the finishing touches are put to the comedy element.

The Capital City Four, will again appear in new harmony songs. This quartette is more than making friends and never fail to please in their renditions.

The plot of "Freckles in the Movies" has to deal with an Italian who is in search of a man that has desecrated his home, and arrives just in time to see his quarry about to do the same thing in a different locality. The story is good, with much heart interest, and laughs by the bushel.

Beware Warning Signals of Failing Glandular System

Science Now Knows That Tired, Weak, Worn-Out Conditions Often Caused by Glandular Insufficiency.

THOUSANDS of men and women are weak, worn-out, run down and exhausted, losing strength and losing weight, and fail to recognize the cause, which is often glandular insufficiency, or a weakened glandular system.

Glands exert a remarkable influence on normal health and vigor, according to eminent medical authorities, and when the glands fail to function, health fails.

Science now points a new way to vigorous health and vitality—glandular treatment for glandular insufficiency. Remarkable benefits result often in a short time.

If you are weak-worn-out and run down, seek the thrill of vigorous health and vitality this new way.

Glandogen, the new scientific gland tonic, provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment. Glandogen is prepared in convenient tablet form, for men and for women. Accept no substitutes. Insist on genuine Glandogen, the original gland tonic. Mathews Cut Rate Store will supply you.

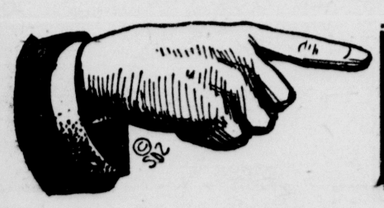
Change of Billing System

We have changed our billing system to meet new conditions brought about by the continual growth in the number of our electric customers. Our method of handling accounts in the past has been to mail all bills on the last day of the month, having the same become due on the 10th. of each month. Commencing with the bills for the month of September, we have installed a continuous billing system under which we will mail a certain number of bills each day, which bills should be paid within ten days from date of mailing.

Watch Payment Date

We would call your attention to the new form of bill shown about which will be used in the future, especially to that portion which reads:



If not paid on or before

will be added

In this space will be shown each month, the date with which your bill should be paid in order to avoid the payment of the Delayed Payment Charge due after the ten day period.

Better Service

This change in the method of handling your account has been done only after due consideration and by elimination of certain peaks in our work we firmly believe that you will find we will be enabled to not only handle your monthly bill and payment of same in more efficient manner, but also to give you better service according to your need in other respects.

No Waiting at Our Cashier Windows

We believe that all customers who make it a practice of paying their bills at our office will particularly agree with us, when we can announce that under the new system we will be able to render more efficient service at our cashier windows, eliminating the necessity of our customers having to wait in line in our office to pay their bill.

This week is NATIONAL SAFETY WEEK

SEPTEMBER 12th to 18th is Safety Week all over the United States. And safer motoring is a chief object of the educational work being done during this week.

Careful driving is, of course, urged upon all motorists, as it has been for years. There is no doubt that if everyone drove carefully, at all times, the annual figures on motoring injuries would be greatly reduced.

We subscribe to all efforts to bring about greater care in the operation of motor vehicles on our streets and highways. However, as local dealers in the New Safety Stutz, our contribution to motoring safety goes further than that.

"It is a serious question whether manufacturers in the past have given adequate thought to the element of safety in the cars they have sold to the general public. Over a period of years our motor-car manufacturers have stressed everything but safety features . . . ."

F. W. JOHNSON, Director Citizens Safety Committee of Philadelphia at the 1926 National Conference on Street and Highway Safety— SECRETARY HOOVER, Chairman.

We are offering the automobilist a car that, from the ground up, is designed to provide the greatest possible degree of in-built safety to its owners.

We believe that the builders of the New Safety Stutz are the first in the field to recognize in full the manufacturer's duty toward safer motoring, presenting an advanced type of automobile in which the element of safety is given engineering precedence.

Special Safety Exhibits and Demonstrations

During Safety Week we shall present special exhibits in our showrooms and give demonstrations of the New Safety Stutz designed to bring out its protective features in a practical way.

These will include:

Exhibits of the Safety Glass used all around in all models of the New Safety Stutz, in comparison with ordinary windshield and window glass, under severe shock.

Exhibit of the New Safety Stutz frame, the backbone of the automobile; the strongest and most rigid on any private passenger car.

Exhibit of the steel running-boards of the New Safety Stutz; literally side-bumpers; with the steel front and rear bumpers, providing a veritable armor-belt of steel about the car.

Exhibit of the New Safety Stutz bodies of steel, exceptionally sturdy, shock-resisting and structurally strong.

Demonstration of the narrow, clear vision front corner-posts of the New Safety Stutz which give an unobstructed view of the road, both ahead and diagonally to the sides.

Demonstration of the advanced four-wheel hydrostatic brakes of the New Safety Stutz developed and built by Timken on a newly-utilized principle, attaining perfect equalization, prevention of skidding and increased effectiveness in stopping.

Demonstration of the instant acceleration of the New Safety Stutz—giving a "nimbleness" to the car that quickly pulls it out of tight places in traffic and dangerous situations on the highway.

Demonstration of the wonderful stability and perfect balance of the New Safety Stutz, with its lower center of gravity and scientific spring suspension, eliminating sideway and top-heaviness, and increasing road-adhesiveness, ease-of-riding and ease-of-control.

Demonstration of the remarkable ease-of-handling introduced by New Safety Stutz design which makes for safety at all times, because the car acts as quickly as the driver thinks.

We Promise You a Revelation

No matter what cars you have driven or what car you are now driving, we promise to show you new standards of roadability, riding-and-driving charm, comfort and security in the New Safety Stutz.

Salem Elks Fling Series Challenge At Mundy's All-Stars

Propose Inter-City Championship Games, To Begin On Sunday

Salemites Fresh From Conquest Over North County Industrial Circuit; Lineup Made Up Chiefly of East Liver pool Lads.

LIKE Alexander the Great, he of historical fame, Carroll Brumbaugh, manager of the Salem Elks baseball club, which recently won the championship of Salem in a series with the industrial league champs, feels the necessity of conquering more worlds, or baseball clubs, as the case may be, and comes out with a challenge today to the East Liverpool Industrial league for a series of title contests.

The Elks have had more than a successful season—no question about that, and much of the credit goes to a half dozen or more East Liverpool lads who joined the Salemites early in the campaign, including McConnell, the Bayleys, Pollock, Finley, Simcox and others.

The Salem challenge is aimed at Bill Mundy's Industrial League All Stars who disposed of the Midland All Stars in a proposed five-game series that went only three. The Elks now are resting on their laurels that went with their victory over the Salem Industrialists in straight games.

The Elks won games this year from Akron, Youngstown, Canton teams as well as the Midland A. B. C., Freedom, Rochester, Detroit Clowns and others, losing decisions to the Akron Goodyears, Canton Pennzoils and Massillon Agathons, which are good teams to lose to, if necessary.

Manager Brumbaugh would like to put on this series in East Liverpool, inasmuch as it would be practically an East Liverpool outfit with the exception of only a handful of Salem lads.

He feels better fortified now in the return of Schmidt, a catcher who has just returned from the Washington Americans, and Frank Scullion, who is back from Chicago where he wound up the season with the Detroit Clowns.

These stars, augmented by Al and Pete Sanders, of Salem, and Sainor, Deshler, Simcox, Finley, Pollock, A. Bayley and McConnell, combine to form the best club that has represented the Salem Elks since their entry into baseball.

"We would like to battle Mundy's team in a three-game series starting Sunday, on any ball park suitable to him."

This is Brumbaugh's defi to the Potters.

Brumbaugh proposes to play on a 60-40 basis or winner take all and Mundy can use any player in the City Industrial circuit with the exception of those performing with the Elks. He wants to hear from Mundy as soon as possible either through the newspaper or Kent McConnell, local representative of the Salem Elks.

REDS LEADING BIG PARADE

Hold Half-game Margin Over St. Louis Cards.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Cincinnati holds undisputed possession of first place this morning in the National league free-for-all, having defeated Brooklyn yesterday while the Cardinals were idle. The Reds now lead St. Louis by a half game while the Pirates, who also won yesterday, trail the Cardinals by two games.

Chicago's faint pennant hopes went glimmering when McCarthy's club lost to the Phillies.

The Yankees and Indians who were idle yesterday, open a crucial six game series in Cleveland today. Speaker's tribe must sweep the series to gain the league lead.

THINKS JACK'S MADE TO ORDER

STROUDSBURG, Pa., Sept. 15.—Refreshed physically and mentally by a rest yesterday, Gene Tunney got back to the training grind today in preparation for his championship bout with Jack Dempsey.

"I am at the peak of condition and with just a week to go, I must be careful," the challenger said. "When I am absolutely certain that I am where I want to be I will cut down the work sufficiently to hold my form."

Tunney was to have his first workout today with Jimmy Delaney, the St. Paul fighter.

"Delaney is a mighty clever fighter and I believe he will benefit me greatly," Tunney said.

Gene believes Dempsey's style of fighting is "made to order" for him.

"Dempsey's style of fighting is such that he is wide open to a hooking uppercut from either hand, and his stance is such that he can be sent back on his heels and kept there," he asserted. "Now I have a good, strong left hand hooking uppercut. If I can rock Dempsey up on his heels, he will be in a position where I can put the business on him in a hurry."

"HAIR-GROOM"

Keeps Hair Combed, Glossy, Well-Groomed all Day

"Hair-Groom" is a dignified combing cream which costs only a few cents a jar at any drugstore. Millions use it because it gives that natural gloss and well-groomed effect to the hair—that final touch to good dress both in business and on social occasions. Even stubborn, unruly or shampooed hair stays combed all day in any style you like. "Hair-Groom" is greaseless; also helps grow thick, heavy, lustrous hair.

An Evidence of Refinement

Good taste and good health demand sound teeth and sweet breath.

The use of Wrigley's chewing gum takes care of this important item of personal hygiene in a delightful, refreshing way.

Wrigley's removes odors of dining or smoking from the breath by cleaning the teeth, by stimulating the flow of digestive juices, and by the antiseptic action of the flavoring extracts for which Wrigley's is famous—"The Flavor Lasts!"

The result is a sweet breath that evidences care for one's self and consideration for others—the final touch of refinement.

Wrigley's is a thrice daily routine of people of refinement.

PENNANT'S NOT WON, SAYS 'HUG'

"Don't be Misled by Your Lead," He Tells Players.

By Ford C. Frick.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 15.—The world and his brother are convinced that the Yankees will win the 1926 American league pennant.

This correspondent has finally discovered two skeptics.

One of them, the Cleveland Indians. The other one, Miller Huggins.

Don't misunderstand me. Mr. Huggins, of course, is still confident. But he believes the fight is still a tough one and he told his young men so this morning when he had them in conference preceding the opening of the six-game series this afternoon with the Cleveland contenders.

Mr. Huggins preached an admirable sermon, taking as his text that old English adage: "It's the biggest nose that's easiest to swat."

Nor did he go far into history for his precedent. He pointed out to the boys that in 1921 the Pittsburgh Pirates came into the Polo grounds with a six-game lead, the pennant in their pocket. They were cocky, and confident, and careless. And Mr. McGraw's Giants knocked them for a row of rubber teeth before the could say "scat." The pennant that year went to the Giants.

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON,
Maker of 51 Golf Champions.
"Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.

When the sand in a trap is wet and well packed an explosion shot is seldom attempted. Instead, you now "cut" the ball up and out with the niblick. For this play get the direction line and plant your feet firmly in the sand. If the ball must take a considerable rise to clear an embankment, flatten down the blade some as you swing it back and forth over the ball in the address. You may if you wish, sole the club in the grass on the bank until you get your grip as you want it, but you must never, of course, let the clubhead touch the sand in the trap while you are addressing the ball. Swing the club now largely with the wrists. Let it swing slowly back, like a pendulum, then let it have plenty of time to turn from the top at the end of a half back swing. Then flick it forward with the wrists, letting it cut directly under the ball. Be sure you scrape just under the ball. And go clear through the ball.

National League Is Seeing Red-- And Not Cardinal Shade, Either

By Garry Schumacher.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—National league observers are seeing red these days. And they don't mean the Cardinal shade either. No indeed—it's the red sported by the athletes from Cincinnati.

They jumped to the leadership of the pennant parade yesterday as they vanquished the Robins once again and today are favored to stay there. They are favorites not because they beat the Robins. That's an every day accomplishment—but because of the manner in which they achieved the victory. They looked and played like champions as they turned the trick.

They fielded marvelously. They hit the ball hard and at opportune moments, and the pitching provided by Carl Mays was well night flawless. But greater than these mechanical attributes was their spirit—their mental attitude toward the game.

Never for a second did they permit an onlooker to gain the idea that they doubted the outcome. There was a sureness and a poise about their every action that compelled recognition. They knew themselves that they were going to win—and forced everybody else to realize it too.

Reports from Boston where the St. Louis Cardinals kicked off three games in four starts would indicate that their morale is not nearly so high. Wee Willie Sherdel's control failed him in a critical moment during the final game on Monday, and the Cardinal bats were strangely silent in the pinches. They appeared worried and flustered—afraid rather than confident. Unless that attitude is changed Hornsby and his athletes might just as well waive the pennant goodbye right now.

CHAMP LOCKS CAMP DOORS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 15.—Jack Dempsey will pick up the burden of training here again today behind locked and guarded gates at the dog track.

Fresh from a day of rest, untroubled by injunctions and threatening legal storms, the champion expects to get down to serious labor in today's workouts. Gone will be the easy fiddling with sparring partners and if there be any among the Dempsey collections of catchers who can not take take it, they will not be among those present very long.

Newspapermen will be permitted to peek today and tomorrow but after that the workouts are going to be as secret as a corps of about 20 watchmen can make them.

Tonight the champion will referee one of the bouts on a card of fights arranged for a milk fund benefit by a local newspaper.

AT NEW YORK:—Bud Gorman defeated Franz Diener, German heavyweight, 10 rounds.

Maxie Rosenbloom, New York middleweight, beat Jimmy Francis, Jersey City, 10 rounds.

Babe McGorgary, western middleweight, won from Lee Willetts, Oyster Bay, N. Y., 10 rounds.

FLAG RIVALS AT CHESTER

Third Battle of City Series Will Start at 4:45 p. m.

THE third game of the City Industrial league's title series will be played this afternoon at Smith Field, beginning at 4:45 o'clock so as to permit the completion of seven full innings before darkness.

Each club has won a game, each recording victories in last inning rallies that reeked with sensationalism.

Both of the flag rivals are showing wonderful recuperative qualities. Managers McCoy and Riley are deploying their performers with outstanding skill and getting maximum results.

Today's decision will put one of the pair within a single game of victory, unless a tie results.

Whether Manager Riley will send his youthful star, P. Bennett, to the hillock, is conjectural. This choice is likely if Mike Cebula is unable to fill the bill. Riley expressed the opinion several days ago that Cebula would probably be used today if his wrist is right.

Although he has twirled twice, breaking even, Ashe may be elected for the third consecutive time. Digman's injured wrist, however, may be improved sufficiently to permit him to work.

There is also a possibility that Briggle, who finished so strongly the first game when Ashe was taken out for a pinch hitter, may get the call.

A big crowd is assured as the series goes into the "crucial" stages.

Alonzo-Lacoste Clash.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15—Manuel Alonzo, of Spain, and Rene Lacoste, the French tennis star, will clash in the feature match this afternoon in the national singles championship at Forest Hills. Other matches include Edward Chandler vs. Jean Borotra, William T. Tilden vs. Arnold Jones and "Little Bill" Johnston vs. Edward Jacobs.

Takeichi Harada, Japanese star, was eliminated yesterday by Dr. George King and Alfred Chapin lost to Francis T. Hunter.

Carl Mays pitched the Reds into first place by holding Brooklyn to five hits, winning 5 to 1. Mays pitched out of turn at his own request and easily won his 19th game of the season.

Keen Scrap on Among Gridiron Candidates; Three Squads At Work

Lack of Space at City Park Hampers Operations of School Teams in Daily Drill Program; Sebring Here Sept. 25.

WITH enthusiasm running high and a fight on for practically every job on the team, unless, perhaps, it might be Captain Dick Larkins' post at center, where the 1927 East Liverpool high school squad can boast fortifications second to none in this part of the country, Coach George Kidder's gridders are carrying on daily at city park, with the opening game with Sebring scheduled here on Saturday, September 25.

Kidder's chief problem thus far is lack of space for the operations of the three squads which have been working out since school opened. Patterson Field is still in a swampy condition and only the good efforts of the weatherman will put it in shape for the inaugural battle.

The Blue and White backfield this fall will have a strong, husky line to work behind, from all indications at present.

In the center will be Larkins, who, on offense, probably will call the numbers and generally direct the movements of the attack.

At the guard posts may be found either Swaney, Kinsey, Irwin or Todd, all veterans, along with "Red" Gefeller and "Neek" Allison, new talent of promising capabilities. Todd also will understudy Larkins at center.

R. Smith, Dave Anderson, Clark and Joe Carney are leading in the scrap for tackle berths All are big and possess, apparently, necessary qualifications.

There is a real fight on for the ends among Cordwin, English, Deems and Dick McKee. Coaches are doubtful at the present as to the outcome.

Kirkham and his 185 pounds is regarded as one of the most promising candidates for fullback. He has not been able to do a whole lot this fall yet on account of an injured knee but expects to be able to get into action in the near future.

Davis, McConville and Bromby are back on the job from last year's team, and, as a result of additional weight taken on during the year, figure to make the backfield possibilities of the squad better than ever.

Among the new backfield material are Fullerton, a halfback, who has been showing up exceptionally well as a line plunger; Van Dyne, another half; and Joe Lincoln, who has displayed real stuff as a defensive player.

The make-up of the team, however, is far from certain at this stage of the game, asserts Coach Kidder, and it probably won't be known, he adds, until the hour of the game with Sebring and then the starting eleven will be more or less of an experiment.

Selection of officials who will handle games here has already been made by school officials, obviating troubles encountered in booking competent men from Saturday to Saturday.

Barrett, of Sebring, listed in Spalding's Athletic Library as one of the Ohio association's dependable referees, will be in charge of all clashes at Patterson Field with the exception of the first two, which will be handled by Gross, of New Philadelphia.

An employe of the American Vitrified Products Co., Deemer, will officiate as umpire. Deemer is a Hiram man.

Note what all owners say

Talk with any Hupmobile Eight owner who has owned other fine and far more costly cars. You will discover a unanimity of opinion about the Hupmobile Eight—a definite, deep-rooted conviction that it is different from and superior to anything which has ever been produced in America.

Owners will tell you that the Hupmobile Eight is the greatest performing car they have ever driven.

They will tell you, too, that no car in their experience was so smooth, so quiet and handled with such amazing ease.

Even on traffic-crowded streets, driving the Hupmobile Eight is not a job—but a joy.

You should expect these and many other fine results from the Hupmobile Eight.

For thoughtful and analytical engineers, looking for a car to compare with the Hupmobile Eight, find only one—that is an eminent Italian eight, built in the painstaking European method, and priced several thousand dollars higher than the Hupmobile Eight.

If you have never experienced the difference between the finest eight-cylinder performance and the best of other kinds of performance, one real test of the Hupmobile Eight will conclusively establish its performance—will show you why the Hupmobile Eight is sweeping on to ever-growing success.

Salem Elks Fling Series Challenge At Mundy's All-Stars

Propose Inter-City Championship Games, To Begin On Sunday

Salemites Fresh From Conquest Over North County Industrial Circuit; Lineup Made Up Chiefly of East Liverpool Lads.

LIKE Alexander the Great, he of historical fame, Carroll Brumbaugh, manager of the Salem Elks baseball club, which recently won the championship of Salem in a series with the Industrial league champs, feels the necessity of conquering more worlds, or baseball clubs, as the case may be, and comes out with a challenge today to the East Liverpool Industrial league for a series of title contests.

The Elks have had more than a successful season—no question about that, and much of the credit goes to a half dozen or more East Liverpool lads who joined the Salemites early in the campaign, including McConnell, the Bayleys, Pollock, Finiey, Simcox and others.

The Salem challenge is aimed at Bill Mundy's Industrial League All Stars who disposed of the Midland All Stars in a proposed five-game series that went only three. The Elks now are resting on their laurels that went with their victory over the Salem Industrialists in straight games.

The Elks won games this year from Akron, Youngstown, Canton teams as well as the Midland A. B. C., Freedom, Rochester, Detroit Clowns and others, losing decisions to the Akron Goodyears, Canton Pennzoils and Massillon Agathons, which are good teams to lose to, if necessary.

Manager Brumbaugh would like to put on this series in East Liverpool, inasmuch as it would be practically an East Liverpool outfit with the exception of only a handful of Salem lads.

He feels better fortified now in the return of Schmidt, a catcher who has just returned from the Washington Americans, and Frank Scullion, who is back from Chicago where he wound up the season with the Detroit Clowns.

These stars, augmented by Al and Pete Sanders, of Salem, and Sainor, Deshler, Simcox, Finley, Pollock, A. Bayley and McConnell, combine to form the best club that has represented the Salem Elks since their entry into baseball.

"We would like to battle Mundy's team in a three-game series starting Sunday, on any ball park suitable to him."

This is Brumbaugh's defi to the Potters.

Brumbaugh proposes to play on a 60-40 basis or winner take all and Mundy can use any player in the City Industrial circuit with the exception of those performing with the Elks. He wants to hear from Mundy as soon as possible either through the newspaper or Kent McConnell, local representative of the Salem Elks.

REDS LEADING BIG PARADE

Hold Half-game Margin Over St. Louis Cards.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Cincinnati holds undisputed possession of first place this morning in the National league free-for-all, having defeated Brooklyn yesterday while the Cardinals were idle. The Reds now lead St. Louis by a half game while the Pirates, who also won yesterday, trail the Cardinals by two games.

Chicago's faint pennant hopes went glimmering when McCarthy's club lost to the Phillies.

The Yankees and Indians who were idle yesterday, open a crucial six game series in Cleveland today. Speaker's tribe must sweep the series to gain the league lead.

THINKS JACK'S MADE TO ORDER

STROUDSBURG, Pa., Sept. 15.—Refreshed physically and mentally by a rest yesterday, Gene Tunney got back to the training grind today in preparation for his championship bout with Jack Dempsey.

"I am at the peak of condition and with just a week to go, I must be careful," the challenger said. "When I am absolutely certain that I am where I want to be I will cut down the work sufficiently to hold my form."

Tunney was to have his first workout today with Jimmy Delaney, the St. Paul fighter.

"Delaney is a mighty clever fighter and I believe he will benefit me greatly," Tunney said.

Gene believes Dempsey's style of fighting is "made to order" for him.

"Dempsey's style of fighting is such that he is wide open to a hooking uppercut from either hand, and his stance is such that he can be sent back on his heels and kept there," he asserted. "Now I have a good, strong left hand hooking uppercut. If I can rock Dempsey up on his heels, he will be in a position where I can put the business on him in a hurry."

PENNANT'S NOT WON, SAYS 'HUG'

"Don't be Misled by Your Lead," He Tells Players.

By Ford C. Frick.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 15.—The world and his brother are convinced that the Yankees will win the 1926 American league pennant.

This correspondent has finally discovered two skeptics.

One of them, the Cleveland Indians. The other one, Miller Huggins.

Don't misunderstand me. Mr. Huggins, of course, is still confident. But he believes the fight is still a tough one and he told his young men so this morning when he had them in conference preceding the opening of the six-game series this afternoon with the Cleveland contenders.

Mr. Huggins preached an admirable sermon, taking as his text that old English adage: "It's the biggest nose that's easiest to swat."

Nor did he go far into history for his precedent. He pointed out to the boys that in 1921 the Pittsburgh Pirates came into the Polo grounds with a six-game lead, the pennant in their pocket. They were cocky, and confident, and careless. And Mr. McGraw's Giants knocked them for a row of rubber teeth before the could say "scat." The pennant that year went to the Giants.

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON,
Maker of 51 Golf Champions.
"Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.

When the sand in a trap is wet and well packed an explosion shot is seldom attempted. Instead, you now "cut" the ball up and out with the niblick. For this play get the direction line and plant your feet firmly in the sand. If the ball must take a considerable rise to clear an embankment, flatten down the blade some as you swing it back and forth over the ball in the address. You may if you wish, hole the club in the grass on the bank until you get your grip as you want it, but you must never, of course, let the clubhead touch the sand in the trap while you are addressing the ball. Swing the club now largely with the wrists. Let it swing slowly back, like a pendulum, then let it have plenty of time to turn from the top at the end of a half back swing. Then flick it forward with the wrists, letting it cut directly under the ball. Be sure you scrape just under the ball. And go clear through the ball.

National League Is Seeing Red-- And Not Cardinal Shade, Either

By Garry Schumacher.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—National league observers are seeing red these days. And they don't mean the Cardinal shade either. No indeed—it's the red sported by the athletes from Cincinnati.

They jumped to the leadership of the pennant parade yesterday as they vanquished the Robins once again and today are favored to stay there. They are favorites not because they beat the Robins. That's an every day accomplishment—but because of the manner in which they achieved the victory. They looked and played like champions as they turned the trick.

They fielded marvelously. They hit the ball hard and at opportune moments, and the pitching provided by Carl Mays was well night flawless. But greater than these mechanical attributes was their spirit—their mental attitude toward the game.

Never for a second did they permit an onlooker to gain the idea that they doubted the outcome. There was a sureness and a poise about their every action that compelled recognition. They knew themselves that they were going to win—and forced everybody else to realize it too.

Reports from Boston where the St. Louis Cardinals kicked off three games in four starts would indicate that their morale is not nearly so high. Wee Willie Sherdel's control failed him in a critical moment during the final game on Monday, and the Cardinal bats were strangely silent in the pinches. They appeared worried and flustered—afraid rather than confident. Unless that attitude is changed Hornsby and his athletes might just as well waive the pennant goodbye right now.

CHAMP LOCKS CAMP DOORS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 15.—Jack Dempsey will pick up the burden of training here again today behind locked and guarded gates at the dog track.

Fresh from a day of rest, untroubled by injunctions and threatening legal storms, the champion expects to get down to serious labor in today's workouts. Gone will be the easy fiddling with sparring partners and if there be any among the Dempsey collections of catchers who can not take take it, they will not be among those present very long.

Newspapermen will be permitted to peek today and tomorrow but after that the workouts are going to be as secret as a corps of about 20 watchmen can make them.

Tonight the champion will referee one of the bouts on a card of fights arranged for a milk fund benefit by a local newspaper.

AT NEW YORK:—Bud Gorman defeated Franz Diener, German heavyweight, 10 rounds.

Maxie Rosenbloom, New York middleweight, beat Jimmy Francis, Jersey City, 10 rounds.

Babe McGorgary, western middleweight, won from Lee Willetts, Oyster Bay, N. Y., 10 rounds.

FLAG RIVALS AT CHESTER

Third Battle of City Series Will Start at 4:45 p. m.

THE third game of the City Industrial league's title series will be played this afternoon at Smith Field, beginning at 4:45 o'clock so as to permit the completion of seven full innings before darkness.

Each club has won a game, each recording victories in last inning rallies that reeked with sensationalism.

Both of the flag rivals are showing wonderful recuperative qualities. Managers McCoy and Riley are deploying their performers with outstanding skill and getting maximum results.

Today's decision will put one of the pair within a single game of victory, unless a tie results.

Whether Manager Riley will send his youthful star, P. Bennett, to the hillock, is conjectural. This choice is likely if Mike Cebula is unable to fill the bill. Riley expressed the opinion several days ago that Cebula would probably be used today if his wrist is right.

Although he has twirled twice, breaking even, Ashe may be elected for the third consecutive time. Digman's injured wrist, however, may be improved sufficiently to permit him to work.

There is also a possibility that Briggle, who finished so strongly the first game when Ashe was taken out for a pinch hitter, may get the call.

A big crowd is assured as the series goes into the "crucial" stages.

Alonzo-Lacoste Clash.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15—Manuel Alonzo, of Spain, and Rene Lacoste, the French tennis star, will clash in the feature match this afternoon in the national singles championship at Forest Hills. Other matches include Edward Chandler vs. Jean Borotra, William T. Tilden vs. Arnold Jones and "Little Bill" Johnston vs. Edward Jacobs.

Takeichi Harada, Japanese star, was eliminated yesterday by Dr. George King and Alfred Chapin lost to Francis T. Hunter.

Carl Mays pitched the Reds into first place by holding Brooklyn to five hits, winning 5 to 1. Mays pitched out of turn at his own request and easily won his 19th game of the season.

Keen Scrap on Among Gridiron Candidates; Three Squads At Work

Lack of Space at City Park Hampers Operations of School Teams in Daily Drill Program; Sebring Here Sept. 25.

WITH enthusiasm running high and a fight on for practically every job on the team, unless, perhaps, it might be Captain Dick Larkins' post at center, where the 1927 East Liverpool high school squad can boast fortifications second to none in this part of the country, Coach George Kidder's gridders are carrying on daily at city park, with the opening game with Sebring scheduled here on Saturday, September 25.

Kidder's chief problem thus far is lack of space for the operations of the three squads which have been working out since school opened. Patterson Field is still in a swampy condition and only the good efforts of the weatherman will put it in shape for the inaugural battle.

The Blue and White backfield this fall will have a strong, husky line to work behind, from all indications at present.

In the center will be Larkins, who, on offense, probably will call the numbers and generally direct the movements of the attack.

At the guard posts may be found either Swaney, Kinsey, Irwin or Todd, all veterans, along with "Red" Gefeller and "Neek" Allison, new talent of promising capabilities. Todd also will understudy Larkins at center.

R. Smith, Dave Anderson, Clark and Joe Carney are leading in the scrap for tackle berths All are big and possess, apparently, necessary qualifications.

There is a real fight on for the ends among Cordwin, English, Deems and Dick McKee. Coaches are doubtful at the present as to the outcome.

Kirkham and his 185 pounds is regarded as one of the most promising candidates for fullback. He has not been able to do a whole lot this fall yet on account of an injured knee but expects to be able to get into action in the near future.

Davis, McConville and Bromby are back on the job from last year's team, and, as a result of additional weight taken on during the year, figure to make the backfield possibilities of the squad better than ever.

Among the new backfield material are Fullerton, a halfback, who has been showing up exceptionally well as a line plunger: Van Dyne, another half; and Joe Lincoln, who has displayed real stuff as a defensive player.

The make-up of the team, however, is far from certain at this stage of the game, asserts Coach Kidder, and it probably won't be known, he adds, until the hour of the game with Sebring and then the starting eleven will be more or less of an experiment.

Selection of officials who will handle games here has already been made by school officials, obviating troubles encountered in booking competent men from Saturday to Saturday.

Barrett, of Sebring, listed in Spalding's Athletic Library as one of the Ohio association's dependable referees, will be in charge of all clashes at Patterson Field with the exception of the first two, which will be handled by Gross, of New Philadelphia.

An employe of the American Vitrified Products Co., Deemer, will officiate as umpire. Deemer is a Hiram man.

"HAIR-GROOM"

Keeps Hair Combed, Glossy, Well-Groomed all Day

"Hair-Groom" is a dignified combing cream which costs only a few cents a jar at any drugstore. Millions use it because it gives that natural gloss and well-groomed effect to the hair—that final touch to good dress both in business and on social occasions. Even stubborn, unruly or shampooed hair stays combed all day in any style you like. "Hair-Groom" is greaseless; also helps grow thick, heavy, lustrous hair.

An Evidence of Refinement

Good taste and good health demand sound teeth and sweet breath.

The use of Wrigley's chewing gum takes care of this important item of personal hygiene in a delightful, refreshing way.

Wrigley's removes odors of dining or smoking from the breath by cleaning the teeth, by stimulating the flow of digestive juices, and by the antiseptic action of the flavoring extracts for which Wrigley's is famous—"The Flavor Lasts!"

The result is a sweet breath that evidences care for one's self and consideration for others — the final touch of refinement.

Wrigley's is a thrice daily routine of people of refinement.

placement the plane had to carry one half pound of load. This formula gave each ship a point factor, and the point factor times the average speed gave the number of points for each leg of the tour. Beech's plane, with a load of 600 pounds, had a point factor of 2.32, while Meister's, which carried an 800-pound load, had a point factor of 2.42. Both ships were equipped with Wright Whirlwind 200-horse-power air-cooled engines. Last year only one of the planes that made the flight was equipped with air-cooled motors. This year, seven of the ships were so equipped.

Aviation enthusiasts say that air transportation now is no more of an experiment than motor transportation was ten or twelve years ago. Machines have been developed to the point where risks have been greatly reduced. Shortly, it is claimed, the risk will be minimized to a degree that will make the proponents of rail and moter transportation sit up and take notice.

It might be mentioned, by the way, that there is an airline between Washington and Philadelphia that is shuttling a large number of passengers between these two cities every day.

placement the plane had to carry one half pound of load. This formula gave each ship a point factor, and the point factor times the average speed gave the number of points for each leg of the tour. Beech's plane, with a load of 600 pounds, had a point factor of 2.32, while Meister's, which carried an 800-pound load, had a point factor of 2.42. Both ships were equipped with Wright Whirlwind 200-horse-power air-cooled engines. Last year only one of the planes that made the flight was equipped with air-cooled motors. This year, seven of the ships were so equipped.

Aviation enthusiasts say that air transportation now is no more of an experiment than motor transportation was ten or twelve years ago. Machines have been developed to the point where risks have been greatly reduced. Shortly, it is claimed, the risk will be minimized to a degree that will make the proponents of rail and moter transportation sit up and take notice.

It might be mentioned, by the way, that there is an airline between Washington and Philadelphia that is shuttling a large number of passengers between these two cities every day.

SAFETY TALK IS GIVEN HERE

W. A. Dickey Speaks at Meeting of Chester Boosters' Club.

W. A. Dickey of Pittsburgh, connected with the safety department of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, was the principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Chester Boosters' club held yesterday in the Masonic temple, First street.

He pointed out that at the beginning of the present year there were 242,807 grade crossings in the United States, of which 3,059 had been eliminated but that 14,494 new crossings had been created. Statistics were quoted on the number of accidents in which automobiles and railroads trains figure and the percentage of deaths.

Grade crossing accidents were summarized as follows: Automobiles, 84 per cent; other vehicles, 9 per cent; pedestrians, 7 per cent. The speaker referred to the campaign under the direction of the National Safety council to reduce accidents by at least 25 percent in the next seven years which he claimed would save approximately 10,000 lives in the above period. He closed his remarks by stating that at least 60 per cent of accidents occurred in homes.

F. S. Huff reported that pamphlets advertising Chester were ready for the printer and that new road signs would soon be placed in position.

R. R. Rutledge, president of the club, presided.

SERVICE PENSION QUOTA OUTLINED

Plans for the raising of the quota of the Wheeling Presbyterian laymen in the $15,000,000 campaign to establish a new service pension plan were outlined at a luncheon of the ministers of the Wheeling presbytery yesterday in Wheeling. I. M. Scott, as chairman of the committee for the raising of the funds, presided at the luncheon.

The campaign is being launched over the entire country by the laymen of the Presbyterian church, Will H. Hays being the chairman of the movement and Andrew W. Mellon, the treasurer. It is the plan to establish moderate pensions for the Presbyterian ministers, missionaries and their dependents.

SERIES CONTEST HERE TONIGHT

Third game of the series between Chester and Homer Laughlin to decide the championship of the Industrial league will be played tonight on Smith field beginning at 4:45.

ILLINOIS BARS BANTAM CHAMP

By Gene Hoffman.

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Chicago fight fans were reeling today from the knockout blow administered by the Illinois athletic commission when that body late yesterday announced that the Charley Rosenberg-Bud Taylor bantamweight title match had been declared off.

The fight was scheduled for Cubs park tomorrow night. More than $50,000 worth of tickets had been sold.

Chairman O. W. Huncke, of the boxing commission, who made the startling announcement, said the commission had called off the fight because Champion Rosenberg and Harry Segal, his manager, had failed to post the forfeit required by Illinois law.

Rosenberg and Segal were both suspended for life in Illinois, the commission further ruled, and declared that Bud Taylor would be looked upon in the future as the bantam-weight champion of the world.

Chairman Huncke hinted that efforts of Rosenberg supporters, including a group of New York and Chicago gamblers, to influence through political channels the appointment of a referee, had much to do with the commission's decision to call off the fight.

The inference was made that Rosenberg and his manager delayed posting the forfeit until a referee acceptable to them could be appointed. A surprising switch in betting odds, it was reported, was also viewed significantly by the commission.

Dinner Party Held.

Annual "family dinner" party of the Philathea class was held last night in the United Presbyterian church. Diversified program was given by the members.

ILLINOIS BARS BANTAM CHAMP

By Gene Hoffman.

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Chicago fight fans were reeling today from the knockout blow administered by the Illinois athletic commission when that body late yesterday announced that the Charley Rosenberg-Bud Taylor bantamweight title match had been declared off.

The fight was scheduled for Cubs park tomorrow night. More than $50,000 worth of tickets had been sold.

Chairman O. W. Huncke, of the boxing commission, who made the startling announcement, said the commission had called off the fight because Champion Rosenberg and Harry Segal, his manager, had failed to post the forfeit required by Illinois law.

Rosenberg and Segal were both suspended for life in Illinois, the commission further ruled, and declared that Bud Taylor would be looked upon in the future as the bantam-weight champion of the world.

Chairman Huncke hinted that efforts of Rosenberg supporters, including a group of New York and Chicago gamblers, to influence through political channels the appointment of a referee, had much to do with the commission's decision to call off the fight.

The inference was made that Rosenberg and his manager delayed posting the forfeit until a referee acceptable to them could be appointed. A surprising switch in betting odds, it was reported, was also viewed significantly by the commission.

Dinner Party Held.

Annual "family dinner" party of the Philathea class was held last night in the United Presbyterian church. Diversified program was given by the members.

Coral Concrete.
The Blind See.
Seven Coolidge Qualities.
Movies, As Salesmen.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.)

SWEDEN sends an idea that interests builders and home-seekers. When concrete, a mixture of sand, gravel and cement, is still soft, just before it sets, gas is introduced into the mixture with the same effect as yeast on bread, fills the concrete with little holes, making it much lighter, less expensive, not diminishing its strength, requiring less weight of steel to hold it up. The result is a concrete like coral.

BRITISH scientists announce successful use of ultra violet rays in treatment of blindness, partial and incipient. Hundreds are applying for treatment and results are extremely good. That is progress.

IN THE next column of the same newspaper page you plunge back into the middle ages, reading of a Jewish pogrom in Vienna organized by the Hakenkreutzlers.

However, Jew baiters are not as powerful as they were in the day of blackest superstitions.

Sixteen of the Hakengreutzlers are in jail and 50 others arrested and under bail.

THE Rev. Dr. Pierce, President Coolidge's spiritual guide, says that a public official needs seven qualities, and Mr. Coolidge has all seven.

Men in public life must keep their promises. Coolidge does it.

No ostentation, hard work. That's Coolidge.

The right relationship with God, absolute honesty, performance of duty without evasion, power to recognize great issues, "clean, not only outside, but inside."

President Coolidge, says the Rev. Dr. Pierce, fills the bill absolutely. He might have added that President Coolidge knows when not to talk, which is most of the time. He didn't say anything about new ideas. They are important also.

THE outside world resents United States domination in moving pictures. Those pictures are marvelous salesmen, selling in all lands American clothing, automobiles, furniture, lamps, and especially the American idea of comfortable living.

SIX of the Indian princes that share with the British taxation of their subjects offer $5,000,000 to help British films displace American films.

As Mr. Mellon said when somebody offered him $70,000,000 cash for his oil company:

"That isn't enough.'

You can't make moving pictures with dollars only, any more than you can sing high C with dollars. You must know how.

GERMANY celebrates the birth of Goethe, calling him greatest of writers, next to Shakespeare. Italy says the greatest next to Shakespeare is Dante. Spain says Cervantes, Greece says Homer. Decide it for yourself.

Swimming The Ideal Exercise

Swimming is the most perfect exercise from the standpoint of its health-promoting value.

It stimulates the circulation of the blood, brings practically every large muscle into harmonious play, and develops fine healthy lungs.

If you can not swim you are missing one of the most valuable and enjoyable sports.

Take the first step in learning by sending for the Swimming Booklet the Washington Bureau of this paper has for distribution. It was prepared by the American Red Cross and is authoritative.

RALPH MOORE INDICTED AT BEAVER, PA., FOR CHUM'S DEATH

Prisoner Charged With Slaying James Cairns of McDonald.

Police Say Accused Claimed He Fired in Self-defense.

An indictment charging murder was returned yesterday by the Beaver county grand jury, at Beaver, against Ralph Moore, 19, McDonald, Pa., who is alleged to have shot and killed James Cairns, 24, also of McDonald, a fellow camper, during a quarrel over a woman in what is known as "Hell's Half Acre," near the state line, on Tuesday night, June 8.

Story of Shooting.

Moore and Herbert Cook, 20, another chum, were arrested by local police after they had brought Cairns, suffering from a bullet wound in his chest, to the City hospital shortly after the shooting occurred. Cook has also been held as a witness against Moore, who, police says, signed a confession in which he admitted he fired after Cairns attacked him with a club.

The three men had established a camp near the old vehicle bridge west of Smiths Ferry. Moore and Cook claimed that Cairns became quarrelsome when they refused to accompany him to the home of a woman, who resided on the hillside above the creek, and started toward Moore with a club. Cook, they asserted, attempted to stop Cairns and the latter struck him.

Moore, fearing that he was about to be overtaken, stopped, pulled a gun from his pocket and ordered Cairns to halt. When Cairns raised his club to strike him, Moore said that he fired. The bullet passed

WELLER AND HILL, WET, IN NECK-AND-NECK RACE FOR TOGA IN MARYLAND

Senator Has Slight Lead as Rural Counties Offset Heavy Vote Given Congressman in Baltimore.

GROESBECK LOSES MICHIGAN FIGHT

Senator Broussard is Renominated by Louisiana Democrats, While Weeks Wins Vermont Governorship.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 15.—Senator O. E. Weller and Representative John Philip Hill, his "wringing wet opponent, were running a neck-and-neck race today for the Republican senatorial nomination, as late returns drifted in from outlying districts.

At an early hour this morning Weller had a slight lead and claimed the nomination, but the claim was disputed by the Hill leaders.

Hill carried Baltimore city by a wide margin, but the rural counties offset this early lead.

In the latest compilation of returns, Weller had a very narrow margin over Hill.

The figures for 854 precincts out of a total of 1,184 in the state showed: Weller, 23,615; Hill, 23,484.

Late returns emphasized the magnitude of Gov. Ritchie's victory. He carried every city ward and every county in the state, including his opponent's home district.

Green Wins in Michigan.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 15. — Fred W. Green, mayor of Ionia, winner of the Republican nomination for governor in yesterday's primary election, continued today to pile up his lead over Gov. Alex J. FOUR PASTORS WILL RETURN TO M. E. CHURCH CHARGES HERE

North-East Ohio Conference Will be Held in Elyria.

OPENS TUESDAY

Sessions Will be Held in Dr. Edwin Kirby's Church.

Four Methodist Episcopal pastors probably will be returned to their charges here at the annual seession of the North-East Ohio Conference which opens in the First Methodist Episcopal church at Elyria next Tuesday afternoon.

Rev. J. Lloyd McQueen, pastor of the Boyce church and Rev. S. Lee-Whitman, Sr., of the Orchard Grove avenue and Anderson churches, are now completing their first year's work in this city. Rev. George C. Westlake, who came here last April from the Epworth church, Canton, to succeed the late Rev. W. C. Stokes, was appointed for the conference year beginning October 1, 1926. Rev. Dr. Frank G. Fowler, pastor of the First church, came to East Liverpool from Ashtabula in the fall of 1924, to succeed Dr. Isaac L. Wood, who was named superintendent of the Barnesville district.

Bishop Theodore Henderson, Cincinnati, of the Ohio-Kentucky-Indiana area will preside at the conference which will be held in the church of which Dr. Edwin Kirby, formerly of this city, is pastor. Sessions will be conducted throughout the week, the conference ending on Monday, September 27, with the assignment of ministers.

Special meetings for lay delegates and junior representatives will be held on Friday and Saturday. Here are the representatives of the East Liverpool church:

First—Dr. Frank G. Fowler; lay delegate Fred Cartwright, alternate Wilson Smith; Juniors William Stevenson and Paul Dyke.

Newly Painted Y. & O. Cars Carry Crowds To Lisbon Fair

First of the newly painted Y. & O. cars passed through East Liverpool today, hauling crowds to the Lisbon fair.

The dark green color which the company has used for its rolling equipment since the line was first constructed has been abandoned in favor of bright orange with cream trimmings. The interior of the cars are also being redecorated.

Seven cars are to be repainted, J. S. Deweese, superintendent, said. The work will be completed within two months.

BRITISH VESSEL LOST IN TROPICAL STORM; AMERICAN SHIP AFIRE

Loyal Citizen Goes Down Off Florida Coast During Night, and Dutch Tanker Captain, Who Answers Distress Signal, Believes All on Board Were Drowned.

CAPSIZED LIFEBOAT IS SIGHTED IN SEA NEAR SCENE OF DISASTER

Coast Guard Cutters From Norfolk, Va., and Wilmington, N. C., Respond to S. O. S. Call From Robin Gray, Carrying 38 Men, as Blazing Craft Seeks Harbor.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The British freighter Loyal Citizen sank in a tropical storm off the Florida coast during the night and her crew of 30 are afloat in lifeboats or drowned, according to information received today by naval communications from the Dutch tanker Denhaag.

The tanker captain reported he answered the S. O. S. call from the sinking freighter but saw no sign of it when he reached her position given in the distress signal.

The Denhaag scoured the vicinity for lifeboats, its radio message said, but saw nothing but a black rolling sea.

Meanwhile, another S. O. S. call from the Robin Gray, of American registry, was answered by the coast guard cutter Manning from Norfolk and the cutter Medoc from Wilmington, N. C.

The Robin Gray, with a crew of 38, reported a fire in her hold and indicated she was racing toward Frying Pan shoals off the North Carolina coast. The vessel carried a general cargo and was bound from New York and Norfolk for the Pacific coast via the Panama canal.

Search Is Futile.

Belief that the Loyal Citizen had gone down with all hands was strengthened later today when the Independent Wireless company reported that the Denhaag had sighted a capsized lifeboat tossing in the stormy sea at approximately the point where the freighter was last heard from.

The message from the Denhaag stated that it was unlikely that any boats were successfully launched from the ship, as the sea was too heavy.

Two tankers in the same general position, the Lumina and the Fanad Head, reported that they had been unable to locate the Loyal Citizen despite a thorough search of the surrounding waters. The lost vessel which was built in 1906, was of 4,001 tons gross register.

The last S. O. S. call received said, "Number three hold full of water, rails awash, take to lifeboats soon."

Storm Passes Over Cuba.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—The tropical storm that has passed over Cuba has increased in intensity and is now central a short distance south of Nassau, apparently moving northeastward, the weather bureau announced today.

Two other serious disturbances were reported west of Bermuda and north of the Virgin Islands.

"Constitution Week" Program Tomorrow At Kiwanis Meet

"Constitution Week" program will be featured at the noon luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club in Larkins' annex, Market street, tomorrow.

The speaker will be W. F. Lones, of the Lones, Hill & Davidson law firm. His subject will be "Chief Justice Marshall and His Part in Building the Nation."

Child Victim of Auto Trailer.

MARYSVILLE, O., Sept. 15.—Viola Rogers, five years old, was believed dying in a local hospital here today of internal injuries suffered when she was run down by the trailer of a tourist's automobile. The driver was exonerated.

Power Company Adopts New System Of Mailing Bills

Effective with September bills, the Ohio Power company will use a continuous system of mailing light and power accounts to its patrons in the East Liverpool district, it was announced today.

A certain number of statements will be mailed each day instead of the last of the month. Bills will be payable not later than 10 days after they are sent out instead of the 10th of the month.

The new plan, officials point out, will enable the company to offer better service and also will be a convenience to power users inasmuch as congestion at the company office and collection agencies will be avoided.

EIGHT TRAPPED UNDER RIVER

Workmen Imprisoned in Tunnel When Blast Occurs.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 15.— Reports at noon today from rescue crews attempting to reach eight men imprisoned 300 feet below the bed of the Missouri river in a tunnel, indicated rescue of the men or recovery of them would not be accomplished before late this afternoon, according to Charles S. Forman, general superintendent of the city water department. Drillers had encountered heavy falls of rock.

The men were trapped when an explosion occurred where they were constructing a water main between Clay county and Jackson county.

The cave-in virtually sealed the portion of the tunnel into an airtight pocket in which the men are imprisoned.

Officials of the Smith Brothers, Inc., who were in charge of the construction, expressed doubt that their air supply would last eight men more than a few hours.

There is a strong possibility that the men are all dead, according to workers, either killed by the explosion, which was so powerful that it knocked workmen on the surface from their feet, or smothered.

Nevertheless, extra gangs are being pressed into service to clear away the debris which is the only way in which the men can be reached, due to the fact that the tunnel is under the river.

PEACE DECLAMATION CONTESTS PROPOSED IN COLUMBIANA COUNTY

Field Secretary of Ohio Council of Churches Visits Here to Outline Plans.

Immediate steps to organize "peace declamation contests" among young people of the churches of Columbiana county, to be conducted this fall, are to be taken as a result of a visit here today in the interest of the competition by Rev. H. E. Beckler, of Columbus, field secretary of the Ohio Council of Churches.

The local contests will be a part of the program for the second annual Prince of Peace declamation contest, to be carried out on a state-wide scale under the leadership of the Ohio Council.

Rev. Mr. Beckler said the competition, is open to boys and girls who on November 11 will be 14 or over and not yet 19, and who are not then and have never been enrolled as college students. Contestants will enroll through their respective pastors. Each will pick a selection from a booklet of material for the purpose compiled will deliver it as a declaration in

Tribunal Liquidates Cost of All Equipment, Meets Salaries and Reports Profits.

After payment of all expenses, including court and office equipment, East Liverpool's municipal court, during the first eight months of its existence, cleared $5,647.74 for the city, it was announced today.

Collections from fines and costs in city criminal cases and costs in civil cases, all of which goes into the city's coffers, for the eight-month period totalled $13,862.42. Court room and office furnishings, including carpets, desks, typewriters, law library, book cases, chairs, files and other office equipment cost $2,768.46 while rentals, salaries, postage, stationary, bailiff's expenses, gas and light and other incidentals amount to $5,446.22, leaving a net profit of $5,647.74.

No report was made on the amount of money turned into the county treasury. Fines and costs in criminal actions brought for violation of state laws go to the county which contributes $1,600 of the salary of the judge and $300 of the salary of the clerk, or a total of $1,900 annually.

By Katharine Brush

BOOK TWO—VII.

Jock obeyed. "Now, about talking. You'll simply have to sit down and think out a line for yourself. That's one thing you absolutely can't do without. And by 'a line' I don't mean a string of stereotyped remarks you're going to make to every man you meet, regardless. I mean a—way of talking. Different words to different men, but the same spirit, if you get me. The same light touch. Try not to say the obvious thing, but say something only a little different from the obvious—if it's too different they'll brand you as brainy, and then you'll be done for for fair."

"Talk about the man you're with, Cecily. Make 'you' your word-of-all work. And always, when you meet any one or any group, make a remark during the first minute after you've been introduced. Let them know you're there. It doesn't matter what you say—anything'll do—but say something. For instance; remember yesterday, when Dopey introduced Bones and me to you in the hall? You said 'How-do-you-do' and let it go at that. You should have wise-cracked something or other—something like, 'Oh, now I know why I came!'—that's not a very good example but it's the best I can think of right now. It's what I heard Gloria Martin say to somebody yesterday."

"Your girl Molly," put in Cecily at this juncture, "kissed all the men when you presented them. Was that—is that a good plan? I should think—"

"No!" cried Jock emphatically. "No, it's not. Don't pattern after Molly, Cecily, for heaven's sake, except perhaps in the matter of clothes. She's a trifle—well, don't pattern after her, that's all. Now, this kissing business is another thing. Don't deal 'em out broadcast, so that they're about as hard to procure as—as potatoes, and about as inspiring. Hang onto them. Remember there's a terrible wallop in unattainable things." He stopped meditating. "About pep—I'd say be peppy if you can, but don't try to be. I don't think there's anything worse than forced pep. Vivacity is spontaneous, or it's nothing. The things these girls do, for instance—things you've seen them do in the last 24 hours around here — are forced, to me. They're stunts, carefully thought out beforehand to attract attention. My idea of pep is always having something to say, and never appearing bored no matter who you're with, and always being ready to step out somewhere at a moment's notice—things like that. Not necessarily jumping around like a maniac, shouting and shimmying and all that exaggerated jazz-baby stuff—"

Sudden commotion interrupted him. Rattle of the front door knob, footsteps and voices in the hall—then Molly and Dopey Lane came in, seemingly blown in on a great frosty sigh of November air. Jock saw in a single glance that Dopey was quite drunk—he swayed from heels to toes and back again like a balancing toy as he stood here—and that Molly was very angry.

"S'big idea?" Dopey demanded, attempting a frown but achieving only a sort of grimace. "Li'l twoshome? Woman—" he indicated Molly with a jerk of this thumb—"in hysterics about shoes."

Molly's countenance bore out this statement, although she said nothing.

Jock rose hastily. "Wait, I'll get 'em," he said. "Cecily and I were having a little gab session, and I forgot."

He bounded up the stairs, and down again a minute later bearing the silver slippers. Dopey and Cecily were standing in the hall, he with an arm laid across her shoulders in a gesture that appeared intimate but was probably merely for the sake of equilibrium. "She's not going back," he declared to Jock. "She's going bed. She's all in, aren't you Sheshiy?" He was flagrantly gratified about it.

"I am. I'm dead," Cecily said.

She shook hands with Jock, glancing up at him shyly. "Goodnight. And oh, thank you!"

"Goodnight," Jock echoed.

He watched her cross the hall and start up the stairs. Half way she hesitated, faced about. "Now I know why I came!" she quoted softly. . . .

Jock saw Dopey depart in glee for the gymnasium again. Then he walked back into the living room.

Molly was sitting rigidly in a chair. She had removed the offending slippers, and her slippered toes were sunk for greater comfort into a sofa cushion thrown on the floor. She clenched the arms of the chair convulsively, like a person at the dentist's. Anger had drained all the natural color from her face, so that her rouge resembled circles of rosy paper pasted on.

Jock felt a little penitent. There was something about those small stockings digging into the cushion that pricked his conscience. "I'm sorry, Molly," he said humbly. "Really I am. I meant to come right back, but I found Cecily bawling her eyes out and I had to stay here until the poor little kid felt better. Come on now, Molly. Forgive me this once, and let's jump back to the gym." He stood beside here, patting her hand.

Now, Molly's feet ached throbbingly. Her head ached. Her back ached from bending at the unnatural dance-angle of the age. She had had five hours' sleep in 48, and she saw herself a woman scorned in favor of a dowdy child. . . . The combination was almost more than flesh and blood could be expected to bear.

"Shut up!" she choked. "Don't speak to me! Don't you ever speak to me again!"

Then Jock felt penitent no longer; only wearied and disinterested. He shrugged his shoulders. "Just as you say."

He sat down several yards from her and, picking up a magazine, began to rustle through it. He thought, "She'll snap out of it in a minute or two. She always does." Presently a page of poetry caught his attention. He hunched forward, his elbows on his knees and his head thrust toward it as though he would dive straight into the printed words. He became absorbed. His eyes grew luminous. Now and then his lips moved, and once they twitched up in his crooked smile, murmuring, "This fellow Sandburg!" He had quite sincerely and artlessly forgotten that Molly was there.

She sat watching him.

After a long time she said, "Jock," and he looked up.

"You're pretending, aren't you?" he asked. Begged, almost.

But Jock's eyes were still luminous and faraway. "Humm?" he said.

And she knew he had not even heard her.

"Oh-h!" A queer rattle in her throat. Then swiftly she was leaning over him, striking at him like a little savage, raining small stinging blows on his face and head, on his chest. "I hate you—oh—you—"

The blade of indifference, sawing away at the cord, had severed it at last.

Jock caught her wrists and held them. Her frantic words continued. "I hate you—oh how I hate you—you asked me here and then treated me like this—"

A pause. Molly's face became less livid. Relaxed. She turned away. She picked up the silver slippers Jock had brought, and put them on, and tied the little tassels over the insteps. "All right," she said tonelessly. "We'll go back. A prom's a prom, and I won't let you spoil it for me. But I meant what I said. I do hate you—now. I never want to see you again."

IX.

Upstairs, in the quiet dark, Cecily Graves was whispering, "I love him! I love him so! Oh, make me the way he likes girls to be . . ."

First Display of Beacon Blankets

The chilly nights approaching call in no uncertain terms for more covering. Our store is ready to supply this demand with a big assortment of the very best blankets known to trade.

Next year you will lie in bed 121 days. Put that way it sounds terrifying, doesn't it? But in the company of rest and sleep, it may be a time of relaxation and comfort.

Approximately one-third of our lives are spent in bed, a time when nature builds up the tissues of the body to prepare for the next day's activities. And how well we rest and on how comfortable we feel during this period, depends much on how well the next day's activities are accomplished.

Folk spend hundreds of dollars seeking pleasures during waking hours and still some refrain from spending a few dollars that contribute so much to the building up process of nature and practically rules the daytime accomplishments. If it is necessary, you would spend as much for your night-time bedding as it costs for your day-time clothing.

Enjoy the luxury of these beautiful Beacon blankets. Note the colorings, the wonderful texture and be assured the colors are just the same after trips to the laundry. Included are bed blankets, top coverings, couch blankets, bathrobe blankets and silk-bound Jacquard comfortables.

Bathrobe blankets—Indian and other designs. $5.00.

Beacon double blankets in rose, blue and other plaids. Plain or broken bars. Size 66x80. Priced at $4.75 and $5.50.

American Audiences Laud Valentino's Last Picture.

Audiences who viewed Rudolph Valentino's last film, "The Son of the Sheik," at the American theatre Monday and Tuesday, demonstrated anew that the screen's greatest lover had made no mistake in giving his public again a thrilling desert film, in which he plays the sheik role that fits him so snugly.

It was like Babe Ruth hitting a home run,—doing that thing which people like best to see him do.

Valentino has progressed remarkably since the earlier day when he startled film-goers with a new type of screen lover, "The Sheik." There is more fire and dash and sureness in the loving and hating he brings to the role of Ahmed, "The Son of the Sheik." There are fine touches that show his development into one of the leading actors of the screen today.

Then, too, this tale of the crown prince of the desert who thinks he is duped by the dancing girl, offers full sway to Valentino and the very distinguished cast of players. Exterior and interior settings are handsomely arranged by the same William Cameron Menzies who was responsible for the much-liked backgrounds employed in the screen version of "The Bat." Valentino and Vilma Banky, exotic Hungarian beauty, who is ideally cast in the part of the dancing girl, lead the supporting cast through the developments of a plot which includes love and hate between Ahmed and Yasmin, struggles for possession of the girl between loyal followers of the sheik and robber brigands, separation of the lovers through their own misunderstanding, an intrigue of renegade mountebanks to a climax so dramatically staged that the audience yesterday sat stilled for that eloquent moment before the applause. Then it came.

Agnes Ayres, charming lady of "The Sheik," returns to the screen in "The Son of the Sheik" for "falsh-backs" to that earlier picture. Her acting proves anew that she is a sensitive and intelligent performer. Karl Dane, the gum-chewing Slim of "The Big Parade," goes further along the highway to success by his rendition of the role of Ramadan, giant friend of Ahmed. Montague Love is as villainous a Moor as ever hurled a knife, and thoroughly satisfies the exacting demands of his role. And, believe it or not, Bull Montana appears in turban and awning-striped robes!

ALL-STAR CAST IN "BIG PARADE"

John Gilbert and Renee Adoree in Chief Roles.

It was a representative lot of folk who labored together to make "The Big Parade," Metro Goldwyn-Mayer's special picture which comes to the Ceramic for three days, beginning Thursday, Sept. 23, with matinees Friday and Saturday. Seats go on sale Tuesday. Their widely diverse origins, their numerous lingoes and argots, fitted, so to speak, the "theatre" of Laurence Stallings and King Victor, with its spectacle of polyglot America falling in step and joining the Big Show overseas.

John Gilbert hailed from Utah, Karl Dane from Copenhagen, Tom O'Brien's address in Adventure Street, corner of Hazard Way, in many lands, and Renee Adoree is a French woman. Of the other principals in the cast, Hobert Bossworth is Ohioan by birth and San Francisco and Los Angeles by adoption, Robert Ober was born in St. Louis, Claire Adams is a native of Winnipeg, Claire McDowell is a New Yorker, while Rosita Marstini, who plays the part of Miss Adoree's mother in her production, was born in Belgium of Belgian and French parentage.

Of the director's military helpers, Major James Basevi, a brave Canuck who distinguished himself at Ypres, fought in the Canadian Second Division overseas. Lt. Charles B. Griffin was a volunteer successively in the foreign legions of France and Italy before joining the U. S. forces. Lt. James E. Ewens was with the 28th Division, W. S. A., and badly wounded at Chauteau Thierry. Each had risen from the ranks in the war and they all, therefore had a keen knowledge of the lot of the doughboy.

French, German, Italian, Spanish, Yiddish and even the Scandinavian tongues were heard on the "battle locations" intermixed with English. 'Twas as polyglot as a Roman Army of the fifth century, but no more so than some of the regiments recruited by America in her foreign population centers in 1917-18. And this strange mixture went far to making that army on the screen in "The Big Parade" seem the real thing.

Drill Two Large Gas Wells.

CAMBRIDGE, O.—Two of the largest gas wells ever drilled in Ohio have been added to the unequaled number of big producers in the Cambridge gas field within the past few days. A well drilled on the Fred Turner farm east of Claysville is producing between 15 and 20 million cubic feet of gas daily. It is said to be the second largest gasser east of the Mississippi river being rivaled only by the well on the Cornelius farm in Knox township, near here. The other big well is producing 11,750,000 feet.

Fall Registration Days

The Columbiana county board of deputy state supervisors of elections today designated Friday and Saturday, Oct. 15 and 16, as registration days for the November 2 election.

New electors as well as voters who neglected to qualify at the quadrennial enrollment immediately preceding the presidential balloting, or subsequently, must register in their home precincts if they expect to exercise the suffrage privilege in the selection of state, district and county officials.

And, too, voters who have changed their places of residence must apply for transfers to their new precincts. Transfers will be issued on the two registration days and also on November 1, the eve of the election.

Interest in the fall balloting should be intensified by the submission of two local issues and one proposed constitutional amendment. The school district will ask approval of a 2.4 mill tax levy to provide revenue to meet operating expenses, thus averting possible curtailment of the 1926-27 term from nine to six months. The city seeks the judgment of the electorate on a proposed $225,000 bond issue for the purpose of erecting a municipal building, while the constitutional proposal calls for revision of the Ohio primary system.

Don't deprive yourself of a voice governmental business. If you are not qualified to vote, make a mental note of the registration days, then enroll.

Billionairedom

So America, and the world, has its first "billionaire." That notable distinction is given to Henry Ford. There is said to be statistical evidence drawn from government sources.

And what is it to be a billionaire?

The ordinary reply, perhaps, would be that it is to have everything you want; to command all the luxuries of the world; to live in splendor and ease. At least, that is the primitive, old-fashioned view.

But evidently Henry Ford does not answer this description. If he had everything he wanted, would he continue enlarging his business, seeking out new industrial methods and fields of enterprise?

True, he can satisfy all personal wants that money can provide for. But his personal wants do not seeme great. He makes no lavish display. He flaunts no more luxury than many a mere millionaire. He eats no more costly food, wears no finer clothes, drives no better car, than many a man with only a few thousands of income. And what expenditure he does make on himself and his family seems intended to keep him fit for further work rather than to give him pleasure or ease.

It has been that way with nearly all the men grown very rich in this great industrial and commercial age.

Power it gives him, to be sure—vast power. And perhaps the sense of power is the greatest reward of our captains of industry and finance. Yet in his case, as in the case of most men of his kind, it is power used less for self-aggrandizement than for social service.

Even the personal impression made by these men of great wealth is not what might be expected. An American play called "The Billionaire" which was popular a couple of decades ago represented the leading character as a man of strenuous personal force, a dynamo of energy, radiating power and dominating everyone who come into his present. Actually, our Fords and Rockefellers and Carnegies and Mellons are found to be rather quiet, mild, shy persons, almost overwhelmed by the weight of their wealth, and not quite understanding it.

Library Films

Why should a library contain only books? Why should knowledge of the past be gleaned only from the printed page, when there is now available a method of recording and perpetuating information which the eye can grasp more quickly and surely than writing or print?

So we are going to have library films. Will Hays has taken the matter up with the president, suggesting that films of historical value be stored in the new Archives building at Washington, just as books and papers are stored. There may be vault space reserved there for as many as 50,000 films. The big picture producers are willing to co-operate in carrying out the plan.

It would be a great thing for posterity, if the films were made well and filed wisely, and if they were really used for public enlightenment as books are.

And why should posterity have all the benefit? A time will doubtless come soon when every good public library will have its film department, consisting not only of film storage space but a movie theatre, where varied groups of people may gather regularly to "read" films in which they are especially interested, whether of history or science or drama or literature or any other picturable phase of human life?

Kind-hearted reformers in Berlin want to give delivery horses three weeks' vacation, with feed as usual. Better go slow. First thing they know, those horses will be demanding two-day week-ends in the country.

There is a tide in the affairs of men" which is as baffling as the tide in the English channel. And yet every little while now some nervy man or woman crosses it.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Manhattan with the first hoary breath of frost seems to congeal and stand out in proud, brittle and dog-tooth outline. In the summer heat it sags with its asphalt and droops with its awnings. Fall recharges it with eager vitality.

The crowds come swooping back. Great mansions are unboarded to twinkle with lights. Impudent shoulders are extravagantly furred. Glittering autos purr at the curb. Shop windows sparkle with new frippery. The town becomes a radiant nightmare of materialism.

Songbirds trill at opera rehearsals. The Rialto glows with new promises. The effrontery of bad manners becomes more acute. Fifth Avenue exchanges tweeds and caps for frock coats and silk hats. Club windows fill with rows of leaden faces. And gouty feet.

The town sweeps along in a proud, light gait. Tomorrow is far away and who cares? As a matter of fact New York has but one season. It begins the first of October and dies with the birth of the New Year when the hegira to sunny climes begins.

There is something sportive, pagan and delightful in the spinning tempo. The derelicts and beggars seep back to their stands for they know it is a season of open-pursed generosity. The metropolitan mood is that of the skylark in the Fall.

Society preens its wings. Jewels are removed from safety vaults to spread their gossamer sheen in Horse Shoe Circle. Vanity rides high. The butter and egg man finds himself parked behind the palms in the supper club. The town belongs to New Yorkers.

I know of no place in New York that seems to go its unruffled way so detached as Patchin Place. It is more of an alley than a street. It has at various times been the home of the city's most important intellectuals. great writers, artists and sculptors found in its commonplace atmosphere a charm and peace no other section offered. No social tyrannies were imposed. A poet could gaze at the moon all night without being thought dotty.

Men and women who talk to themselves along New York streets pass along unnoticed. It is a curious New York trait that might be considered elsewhere as mild insanity. Men who have lost heavily in Wall Street often soothe themselves in this way. Then there are others who are merely responding to an ache of loneliness. It is told of one young man several years ago who walked across a square with a bloodshot glare muttering "I'll kill him tonight." No one paid attention to him and a half hour later he killed his man.

A well-known Broadwayite hobbled across Times Square the other afternoon on two canes. "What's happened to you?" a friend called out. "Nothing," he said, "just young whisky and old age."

There is a section above 11th street on the East Side that is the center of the cork trade. In one block there are seven stores dealing solely in corks. They supply the bootleg industry.

Atlantic City started the kite craze for grownups and Riverside Drive took it up. During the last days of summer the park along the Drive was filled with grown men flying gaudy kites. It not only provided excellent exercise but amusing entertainment for the children. Heretofore New York "kiting" has been confined to Wall Street. Copyrighted, 1926, by the McNaught Syndicate, Inc.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

A Year of Flying.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 15.—The real value of the recent Ford Tour as leaders in the flying world now see it was its demonstration of the remarkable progress that has been made in the past year in this country toward practical commercial aviation, and the effect of this demonstration upon the public. Within another year, it is predicted, people generally will realize that flying is no longer merely a sport, and a hazardous one at best, but has become an efficient, business-like means of transportation.

The tour, known officially as the Second Annual Commercial Airplane Reliability Tour, lasted two weeks, during which time twenty-three planes flew more than a million passenger miles without a serious accident. Nineteen of the planes covered a route of slightly over 2,500 miles, visiting fourteen cities in ten States of the Middle West.

Quite as important as the showing made of improvements and greater efficiency in the planes was the revelation of what municipalities are doing to prepare for air transportation on a big scale. Cities that a year ago had poor airports or none at all now have fine ones or are building them.

Cleveland and Detroit have splendid airports. Lincoln, Wichita, Kansas City, St. Joseph, and Moline have improved theirs greatly. Chicago has a municipal airport on the southwest side of the city, and is erecting another on the lake front in the very heart of the city. A similar situation exists at Milwaukee. St. Paul has recently appropriated $295,000 to build a municipal airport, and Kalamazoo that had none at all a year ago is now building a $100,000 airport. In Indianapolis funds are being raised to convert the inside area of the famous motor Speedway into an airport. Cincinnati has the Luken airport, and Ft. Wayne is enlarging and improving its municipal flying field. Other cities are giving similar evidence of being up-to-date. Within another year or two those that haven't the best there is in the way of airports will not even be mentioned on maps or in guidebooks.

How Contest Was Conducted.

The 1926 winner, Walter H. Beech, of Wichita, Kansas, received as his reward a leg on the Edsel Ford $700 trophy and a large slice of the $20,000 in cash prizes that were offered, each of the cities on the route having contributed $1,000. Each airplane was required to fly at a speed of 80 miles an hour, to carry a commercial load proportionate to its engine displacement, to take off and to land to a standstill within a certain number of seconds, and to meet sundry other conditions, all of which are deemed essential to an airplane that is designed and built to haul freight and passengers. The big idea, of course, was to prove that a large number of airplanes could fly a distance almost the equivalent of a flight across the continent, do it speedily and safely, and combat adverse weather conditions.

The tour was from Detroit to Kalamazoo, to Chicago, to Milwaukee, to St. Paul, to Des Moines, to Lincoln, to Wichita, to Kansas City, to Moline, to Indianapolis, to Cincinnati, to Cleveland, to Ft. Wayne, to Detroit. The average hop was 182 miles, while the longest was that between Milwaukee and St. Paul—approximately 300 miles. The shortest was that of 60 miles between Chicago and Milwaukee, and the next, that of 100 miles between Indianapolis and Cincinnati.

Millions of people, of course, viewed the planes in flight and had their attention called to what is going on in the world of aviation, and it is said that more than one million people inspected the planes at close range. The railroads ran excursions to all the cities along the route, and everything possible was done to stimulate popular interest in the affair.

Some of the people who turned out had never seen an airplane before. And just as in the old days of the Glidden Tours that did so much toward the development of automobiles, these spectators were altogether naive in their comments. In fact, one of the stories told is reminiscent of the early days of transportation by rail when the yokel viewing his first engine predicted that "thy'll never start her!" and then, after seeing the strange contraption pulse into life, said, "By heck, they'll never stop her!"

At Lincoln an old farmer looked over all the ships on the line and finally stopped in front of a great, three-engined plane. "The rest of 'em may have flew here,' he said, 'but you can't fool me about this big one. It came by train. It couldn't fly." His appearance indicated, it is reported, that he did not believe his eyes even when he saw the big ship leave the ground in less than eight seconds.

Compared With Last Year.

Last year the Ford Tour was over a course of 1990 miles, as compared with 2,500 miles for this year's demonstration, and of the seventeen planes entered—sixteen finishing—very few could be said to be of the commercial type. Practically all of this year's entries were of the commercial type, and some of them were navigated from as far west as Denver and as far east at New York City to the starting field at Detroit.

Beech, the pilot who won, was credited with 4,043.4 points as against the 2,972.1 points scored by L. G. Meister, of Detroit, who placed second. The points were figured according to a system or formula that was worked out that would be fair to every plane, whatever its load-carrying capacity and its speed. The load, times the miles per hour of the plane, divided by the number of seconds it required to take off from the ground and to land, divided by the motor displacement equalled the points.

THE PROPER END OF A CADDY.

In a Southern town is a lady, socially prominent, who enjoys the reputation of being a modern Mrs. Malaprop. She is credited with having said once that she intended to hire a local clay modeler to make a bust of her hand. On another occasion, referring to a trip she had taken in an aeroplane, she said that she certainly was glad when the machine descended and she set her foot once more on terra cotta. The latest speech attributed to her had to do with the ancient game of Scotia.

"I've often thought," she said to a friend, "that I'd like to tack up golf, but somehow I have never gotten 'round to it; and, besides, I don't understand the first thing about playing it. Why, if I wanted to hit the ball I wouldn't know which end of the caddy to take hold of."

Concrete streets always remain true, even and rigid

One Secret of Long Island's Prosperity Is Out

Over the roads and streets of Nassau and Suffolk Counties, Greater New York floods Long Island with traffic. It is probably the heaviest traffic in the world, outside of the larger cities.

These two counties and their cities are solving the problem of having good roads, permanent roads, low-maintenance-cost roads and streets by paving with concrete. Values are on a steady upward curve. Property owners, business men, officials say these fine concrete roads and streets are helping do it.

Starting in 1917, Nassau and Suffolk Counties—and their towns—have laid concrete pavement every year. Today they have a total of nearly 2,000,000 square yards of safe, clean, cheaply-maintained concrete roads alone.

Concrete is safe pavement for traffic in any weather. It is also a safe investment for any community anywhere.

No wonder more than 1,000 cities and towns laid concrete streets in 1925.

Mrs. Koenig's Recovery Surprises Husband

Suffering from Headaches, Stomach Trouble and Nervousness, Recovers Lost Health. Thanks Tanlac.

The experience of Mrs. Edna Koenig, a well-known housewife of 708 Wilson Ave., Youngstown, Ohio, is the experience of thousands of others who after years of intense suffering have found grateful relief and new strength in this wonderful tonic and remedy.

Mrs. Koenig found herself unable to eat without suffering from indigestion and gastritis, bothered by dizzy spells that made it dangerous for her to go out on the street, too weak to do her housework.

She says: "Days of pain caused by stomach trouble and nervousness, followed sleepless nights. The sight of food nauseated me. I ate very little and became so weak and run-down that I couldn't do anything.

"I tried everything for relief. Then a friend told me about Tanlac.

"This wonderful tonic banished the pain. I began to sleep well and get up in the morning refreshed. I felt stronger. Glorious health has brought me happiness. And my husband is delighted with the improvement. I will always thank Tanlac."

Benefit by Mrs. Koenig's experience.

Let this marvelous tonic made from roots, barks and herbs according to the famous Tanlac formula, rebuild your run-down body, drive out pain and poison, give you robust health.

Results after taking the first bottle will amaze you. Ask your druggist for Tanlac—today! Over 40 million bottles sold.

SOCIETY

Bride-elect Honor Guest at Pretty Bridge-dinner Here

In honor of Miss Agnes O'Hanlon, bride-elect of Ralph Villers, of Steubenville, whose wedding will be solemnized late in September, Mrs. F. R. O'Hanlon entertained members of the Tuesday Evening Bridge club with a prettily appointed bridge-dinner at her home, 752 Minerva street, last night.

A color scheme of yellow and white was carried out in decorations of the table and home. Coriopsis and asters centered the table, which was arranged for 14 persons, while at each end were lighted yellow candles. The place cards were adorned with miniature wedding bells. Favors were given each guest.

Slapigiossis was used as the floral effect on the tables for bridge, the after-dinner diversion. Trophies were awarded Mrs. Lewis Wright and Miss Ann Johnston, club members, while a guest prize was given Miss Virginia Hamilton.

Following bridge, the club presented Miss O'Hanlon, a member, with a beautiful lamp, while she also received a gift from the hostess.

Special guests were Miss Catherine Brady, of Steubenville; Mrs. J. B. O'Hanlon, of Wellsville; Mrs. Glen Galloway and Misses Bertha Savage and Virginia Hamilton of East Liverpool.

Mrs. Neil Cronin assisted the hostess.

When You Cramp Your Toes

. . . you cramp your activities. Walking becomes a task instead of a pleasure. Smiles do not come readily; but wrinkles do.

Which are some of the reasons why so many active women wear comfortable oxfords with modishly rounded toes like these:

In these trim oxfords, all your ten toes are at ease and your feet enjoy real natural freedom. And, like your feet, they are flexible from toe to heel.

The snug, all-leather arches give restful support without restriction. And the moderate, well placed heels swing the body weight evenly over the foot. You can enjoy walking in a pair of Cantilever oxfords and they encourage a springy, tireless step.

Widths, AAA to D Oxfords, $6.95 to $13.50. Pumps, $10 to $12.

High Shoes, $12.

Don't ever bet you can beat a Chandler up a hill

19 finer new models, loaded to the muzzle with smooth, soundless power!

YOU realize the vivid difference between Chandler performance and ordinary performance when you take a Chandler over the road . . .

When you meet some skyscraper hills, the taller the better, and skim swiftly up them "in high"—right past other cars growling along "in second" . . .

When you feel the car's instantaneous surge of smooth, soundless power every time you tickle the accelerator!

Steering is marvelously easy. Safe stops in any weather are assured by Chandler's perfect-action 4-wheel brakes. And due to inherent engine design, plus an oil purifier and an air cleaner, draining the oil in the crankcase is now necessary only a few times a year.

What's more—all you have to do to lubricate the entire chassis is press your heel on the little plunger of Chandler's "One Shot" system of centralized lubrication.

There are nineteen brilliant models to choose from—all lower than ever in price—and every one a distinct credit to a company that occupies one of the strongest positions in the industry—a company with no bonded indebtedness, no mortgages or liens, no bank loans, no outstanding notes—a company with assets 20 to 1 over liabilities.

Own a car of quality, luxury, big value, and real championship performance!

COUNSEL FEES ARE PROTESTED

Notice Served on City Officials by J. R. Mosby.

Announced as a preliminary move to prevent the municipality from paying counsel fees in the removal fight against Chief of Police John Fultz, notice was served upon City Auditor Fred Eckfeld and City Treasurer Wilbert Dales today to stop payment of any fees not provided for by appropriation.

The notice was served personally upon the city officials by J. R. Mosby, taxpayer.

Mosby announced that, in view of the city's limited finances, he will go into court to prevent payment of the fees.

Auditor Eckfeld and Treasurer Dales were awaiting the advice of City Solicitor S. W. Luccock.

Mosby's notice reads as follows:

"The supreme court in the case of the city of Findlay verus Heddleston and Whitney, partners, held that a contract made by the city with attorneys for legal service is void unless the auditor or clerk first file a report, or certificate, as required by section 2707 of the general code of Ohio.

"The case of Pittenger versus the city of Wellsville, also decided by the supreme court of Ohio, held no debt shall be incurred for ordinary expenses of the corporation unless appropriation to meet it has been made by city council and the city auditor and clerk have first certified to council that the money is in the treasury.

"In view of the needs of the city and anxious to protect citizens from a wrongful, illegal and imprudent use of public funds, I hereby give you written notice as required by law that you, as a representative of the people, shall not pay any of the items of expense growing out of the suit of the city of Wellsville against J. H. Fultz, being a suit to dismiss said Fultz as chief of police.

"Should you pay said illegal items of expense, action will be taken to compel you to reimburse said city.

"Respectfully yours,

"J. R. MOSBY."

MISS MICHAELS WEDS JAS. SCOTT

Announcement was made here today of the marriage of Miss Alice Michaels, daughter of E. W. Michaels, of Fourteenth street, to James Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Scott, of Aten avenue.

The ceremony was performed this morning in the parsonage of the United Presbyterian church here by the pastor, Rev. Robert W. Ustick.

Both Mr. Scott and Miss Michaels have been employed at the Howe Dry goods store here.

RAIL ACCIDENT PROVES FATAL

H. G. Jeffries, Brakeman, Succumbs in Hospital.

As a result of injuries suffered in Cleveland Sunday night when he slipped from a freight car beneath the wheels of a moving train, H. G. Jeffries, 22, former resident of Wellsville, died yesterday in St. Luke's hospital in the Forest City.

Jeffries was found alongside the track with both legs mangled, other members of his crew being attracted by his cries.

Jeffries lived here until about two years ago when his family moved to East Liverpool. Since then his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Jeffries, went to Newell to live.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by five brothers and three sisters.

The body was brought to the Haugh funeral home here this morning. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at the Jefries home in Newell, in charge of Rev. L. C. Andre, pastor of the Free Methodist church here. Burial will be made in Spring Hill cemetery.

SEEK HIGHER-UP IN MURDER OF CANTON EDITOR

Vice Crusader Roach Confers With Federal Officials.

RUM CONSPIRACY

Louis Mazer Will be Taken to Stark County Jail.

CANTON, O., Oct. 15.—Following a conference between Prosecutor McClintock and Detective Ora Slater Wednesday morning, it was announced the reward offered for the arrest of Patrick McDermott wanted in the murder of Don R. Mellett, had been increased to $10,000. The reward is offered to any person who gives information causing the arrest alone of McDermott.

The former reward was for the arrest of and conviction and was for $5,000.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 15.—A campaign against "higher ups" in a huge liquor conspiracy which operated in Canton, whose members are believed to have had some connection with the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher, was launched here today with the arrival of Joseph R. Roach, Chicago attorney, one of the chief investigators into the murder plot.

Roach called upon United States District Attorney A. E. Bernsteen and laid before the federal official all data connected with the alleged conspiracy, it was learned.

The Chicago attorney declared that he has ended his efforts in the murder case as that phase of the Canton situation virtually has been cleaned up. He announced that he would concentrate upon liquor violations.

He recently returned from Washington where, it is said, he conferred with high federal officials.

Lengel Files Appeal.

CANTON, O., Sept. 15.—There is small likelihood that Louis Mazer, who is to be turned over by federal authorities at Cleveland, today to the Stark county authorities to answer a charge of first degree murder, will reach this city before this evening. This will result in delaying arraigning Mazer and Ben Rudner in open court until sometime on Friday.

As soon as Mazer is landed in the Stark county jail he will be served a copy of the indictment found against him by the Stark county grand jury and 24 hours must elapse after such service before he can be arraigned in court to enter his plea. Therefore, it is unlikely that the arraignment of Mazer and Rudner, also indicted for murder in the death of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher, will take place before Friday.

Prosecutor C. B. McClintock said today that he will lose no time in trying the cases and expects to have the entire matter disposed of before expiration of his term of office on the first Monday in January, 1927.

S. A. Lengel, ousted police chief, has filed an appeal from the ouster order of Mayor M. S. Swarts, sustained by the civil service commission, and says if he loses his case in common pleas court he will carry his appeal to the supreme court. He was "fired" on a charge that he "bungled" the Mellett murder investigation.

BOBBY JONES MATCH WINNER

Obscure Namesake Stages Close Fight in Golf Tourney.

SHORT HILLS, N. J., Sept. 15.—Bobby Jones, greatest of all golfers, won his first round match this morning in the National Amateur Golf championship, but not before his more or less obscure namesake, Dick Jones, had made him know that he was in a golf contest.

Dick carried Bobby all the way to the home green before he yielded to the inevitable by one up.

Rudy Knepper, Sioux City, won a great match from Dexter Cummins, Chicago, by one up, the play being carried right up the club house green.

Another first round match was decided in favor of J. Wood Platt, Philadelphia, who beat Keefe Carter, Oklahoma City, 4 up and 3 to play.

Another overtime match went all the way to the twenty-second hole before Maurice McCarthy, Brooklyn, could beat Max Marston, Philadelphia, a former champion. McCarthy gained his victory in spite of hooking his tee shot out of bounds at the first extra hole. Playing "three" on his next shot, he still was able to halve the hole.

Another titanic struggle saw Francis Ouimet, open champion in 1913 and amateur title holder in 1914, finally prevail over the 21-year-old Roy Moe, Portland, Ore., by one up on the eighteenth green.

George Dawson, Chicago, defeated M. L. Massingill, Fort Worth, by one up eighteen holes, in another first round match. Others were decided in favor of Eddie Held, St. Louis, by two and one over D. Clark Cochran, Philadelphia; Eustace Storey, England, by one up over Denman Shute, Huntington, W. Va.; Fred Wright, Boston, by one up over Lauren Upson, Englewood, N. J., and Chick Evans by two and one over Bill Wownes, Pittsburgh.

ONE thing that Goethe says in "Wilhelm Meister" interests us all, namely that thinking is difficult, and to act, according to your thoughts, is uncomfortable.

One hundred in ten thousand think. One in a hundred of those that think translate the thought ito action. That is why the world moves upward so slowly. Perhaps that is how it should move. With two, or three hundred million more years of life ahead of it, old earth is not in a hurry.

IT IS said automobiles keep half the voters away from the polls, and "absentee balloting" is suggested.

Also, "golf keeps men away from the church."

The [illegible]s to make politics as interesting as motoring, religion as interesting as golf. With Henry Ward Beecher in a big church, or Billy Sunday in a revival tent, the caddies, not the clergymen, would complain.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Industrial stocks promptly resumed their forward price movement in the early trading today. In addition to the continuation of short covering, buying was stimulated by the extremely favorable and brilliant report of railroad freight loadings. In the week of September 4 revenue freight loadings aggregated 1,151,346 cars, the largest in the history of American railroading, and exceeding by 50,000 cars the record of the same week last year.

Transactions for the treasury involving nearly a billion and a quarter dollars tied up a considerable volume of bank funds and call loan renewals remained at 5 per cent. Industrial rather than railroad stocks were the chief beneficiaries of the bullish report on freight traffic, the inference being a huge increase in domestic business of all kinds.

Through the leadership in the industrial group was assumed by General Motors and United States Steel, the stocks of the moving picture enterprises attracted considerable attention by their strength and activity. Fox Film sold above 79, while Pathe, Famous Players and Warner Brothers were actively turned over at or near the highest prices of the year to date.

General Motors pushed up close to 150 in extremely heavy trading, this price being equivalent to 225 for the stock before selling ex-dividend 50 per cent stock. United States Steel gained more than a point at 149¾. American Smelting sold in volume above 150. Copper and oil stocks continued firm but railroad and equipment stocks were inactive and slightly irregular. Commodity markets were steady in the early trading.

OUTLINE PLANS FOR CERAMICS COURSE STUDY

Kenneth M. Smith Again in Charge of Classes.

ADULTS ENROLL

Sixteen Youths Make Great Progress Last Year.

Development of the district's clay resources is sure to follow the introduction of the course in ceramics in the East Liverpool public schools, Kenneth M. Smith, ceramic engineer, in charge of the study added to the high school curriculum, last year, said today.

Sixteen youths were registered for the course last year and a still larger enrollment is promised this fall. Students last term installed machinery and motors, performed pipe fitting jobs, poured concrete, designed and made pottery moulds, compounded bodies and glazes and in a general way studied the fundamentals of the industry.

This year the classes will go a little deeper into the study. Further improvements and additions to the course are proposed by Prof. Smith for students in this department, which is maintained in one of the basement rooms of the Central school building.

"Ceramics has taken its place as a highly developed special form of science," said Smith. "This science needs new blood to help its growth. It needs young men who are trained to full positions of responsibility."

The ceramics course is not confined to high school students but a separate course will be offered for adults. These classes will meet at night and are intended primarily for those now employed in the pottery industry and who wish to obtain a wider knowledge of the trade in which they earn their livlihood. Plans for the night school will be announced within the next few days.

Wealthy Spinster Leaves $1,100,000 to Youngstown Charity

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 15.—Charity will profit by approximately $1,100,000 through the will of Lucy R. Buechner, pioneer of this city, who died last week. Her will was filed for probate here today. This represents here entire estate.

The wealthy spinster bequeathed $500,000 to the Youngstown hospital, $500,000 for the establishment of a home for working and student girls and $100,000 to be divided between churches, missionary societies and other local charities.

EMBARGO ON ARMS TO NICARAGUA

WHITE PINE CAMP, N. Y., Sept. 15.—An embargo on shipment of arms and ammunition to Nicaragua was ordered by President Coolidge today because of revolutionary conditions in the Central America republic. The proclamation was issued effective today and will remain in force until order has been restored.

Peace Declamation

by the Ohio Council of Churches and competition with other entrants.

Initial contests will be held by the local churches separately and a bronze medal will be awarded by the Ohio Council of Churches to the winner in each church that has three or more contestants.

Winners of local church contests will then meet in a county contest for a silver medal. County champions will next meet in a congressional district contest with a gold medal as the award. Finally the gold medal winners of the entire state will meet in Columbus in the state contest, with three cash prizes totaling $1,000 and three college scholarships offered to the winners.

Opening contests in the churches are planned as a feature of the observance of Armistice Sunday, November, 7.

More than 335 of the churches that took part in the first annual contest re-enrolled for the second immediately, said Rev. Rr. Beckler, and this number is rapidly increasing. He urged enrollment of churches, in order that the boys and girls may have as much time as possible to select and study their declamations.

The First Annual Prince of Peace Declamation Contest was held last spring. The change to autumn dates was made to avoid conflicts with high school commencement activities in the late spring and to link the contest with the widespread observance of Armistice Day and Armistice Sunday as peace festivals.

EXCEEDS PARKING LIMIT, FINED $1

Thomas Paterson was fined $1 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of violation of the traffic ordinance upon arraignment before Municipal Judge Hanley this morning. Paterson, according to Patrolman Haley, who arrested him, parked his auto for four and one-half hours in a 30-minute parking zone on St. Clair avenue.

the past a Groesbeck stronghold) with a majority of 127,000 and was holding it as the vote was being tabulated slowly.

The vote in 2,196 precincts out of 2,935 is: Green, 298,755; Groesbeck, 171,310.

Representative Frank Scott, of Alpena, who figured several months ago in a sensational divorce suit, apparently has been defeated for re-nomination by Dr. Frank H. Bohn, of Newberry.

Congressman Grant M. Hudson, dry leader, decisively whipped the Rev. J. Bradford Pengelly in the sixth district. Pengelly was endorsed by the "wets."

William A. Comstock, Democratic candidate for governor, was unopposed.

Broussard Leads Race.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 15. — Renomination of Senator Edwin E. Broussard (D.) appeared probable on the basis of returns from all sections of the state today.

With the city count complete and 831 out of 1,084 precincts in the parish reported, Senator Broussard was leading his opponent, J. Y. Sanders, by a majority of 4,307 votes.

J. Zach Spearing has been renominated for congress from the seond district by a commanding majority over three opponents, virtually complete returns showed this morning.

Three-Cornered Contest.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Sept. 15.—The Republican nomination for governor was won by ex-Judge John E. Weeks, of Middlebury, in a three-cornered contest, primary returns revealed today. The vote was: Weeks, 23,230; former State Senator Max W. Powell, 14,847, and Lieut. Gov. Walker K. Farnsworth, 10,033.

In the only other hot contest—that for the Republican congressional nomination in the first district, the vote was: Congressman Elbert S. Bingham, 10,213, and State Senator Martin S. Vilas, 5,225.

World Court Advocate Wins.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 15.—Senator Ellison D. Smith, world court advocate, apparently has defeated Edgar A. Brown, for renomination in yesterday's run-off primary by a narrow margin.

Incomplete returns today gave Smith 78,906; Brown, 73,604.

John G. Richards won a decisive victory over Ira G. Blackwood for governor.

New York State Results.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 15. — Both wets and drys were victorious in the New York primary election, according to advices from various parts of the state which reached the capitol today in several of the primary contests. Prohibition was the chief issue.

Representative Frank W. Crowther, Republican dry, won re-nomination in the 30th congressional district over E. Watson Gardiner, Republican wet, by more than 3,500.

Today the wets were claiming a victory over the drys in the nomination of former Representative John D. Clarke, Republican. Clarke, favoring a modification of the Volstead act, defeated Representative Harold S. Tolley, Republican dry, in the 34th congressional district.

Representative Gale H. Stalker, dry Republican, was re-nominated in the 37th congressional district. He was opposed by Edwin L. Evans, a wet.

Means Second In Colorado.

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 15.—R. W. Means, Republican junior United States senator from Colorado, was running second today to Charles W. Waterman, on incomplete returns from yesterday's state primary, 502 precincts out of 1,591 giving Waterman 19,805; Means, 10,586, and George A. Luxford, 5,123.

In the Republican gubernatorial race, Oliver H. Shoup was leading John F. Vivian, backed by Senator Lawrence C. Phipps by 7,000 votes, the count being, Shoup 19,874; Vivian, 12,836.

In the Democratic senatorial race, Paul P. Prosser was leading William E. Sweet by the count of 3,436 against 2,818.

William H. Adams, veteran politician, has been conceded victory over Samuel W. Johnson in the gubernatorial contest.

Jones Leads in Washington.

SEATTLE, Sept. 15.—Senator Wesley L. Jones was leading his opponent, Frank E. Hammond, by four to one for the Republican nomination for United States senator with practically all the precincts in the state heard from early today.

Jones, a dry and a pro-court candidate, completely swamped his opponent, returns indicated.

The Democratic nomination for the United States senate has been conceded to A. Scott Bullitt.

Massachusetts Primaries.

BOSTON, Sept. 15.—Victory of Arthur K. Reading, Middlesex county district attorney, in a three-cornered race for the Republican nomination for attorney general, and the crushing defeat of District Attorney Thomas C. O'Brien of Suffolk county, for both the Democratic and Republican nomination for that office, stood today as the outstanding results of the Massachusetts primaries.

Congressional fight showed Congressman Allen T. Treadway far ahead of District Attorney Charles H. Wright in the first district, Republican, and Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers decisively defeating Captain John Bordman in the fifth district, Republican.

Two Democratic congressmen, John J. Douglas and James A. Gallivan, were renominated.

CARAWAY ASKS SHOWDOWN ON FRENCH DEBT

Arkansas Senator Challenges Coolidge to Demand Action.

BACK FROM TRIP

Overseas Delegation Resents Attitude of French People.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—A challenge to President Coolidge to demand from France payment in full or "complete repudiation" or her $4,000,000,000 war debt was voiced here today by Senator T. H. Caraway, (D. of Arkansas), just returned from an European tour.

Much incensed at the anti-American sentiment in France, Caraway declared the present debt funding agreement, "cancelling half the debt" and giving the French people 62 years to "pay the remainder," should be abandoned. He called on the president to take this action and issue an ultimatum to France to "pay in full or repudiate in full," the money loaned her by the American people during the war. No other course, said Caraway, will restore American prestige abroad.

Like a half dozen other members of the overseas delegation of the senate, Caraway returned from France filled with resentment against the French government and French people. He took offense not only at the French government's attitude on the debt question but toward the "contemptuous disregard of the French people for the nation which helped them during the war.

Caraway predicted the present French debt settlement would be rejected by the senate.

Caraway also proposed that congress enact legislation bringing back all American dead from France. Their graves and monuments in American cemeteries have been desecrated with "foul epithets," he said. To leave the American dead abroad, he added, is to subject their memory to French hatred and contempt.

Defense Again Asks Mistrial in Miller And Daugherty Case

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Another demand that the trial of Harry M. Daugherty, formerly attorney general, and Colonel Thomas W. Miller, formerly alien property custodian, be declared a mistrial was made in federal court today by Max Steuer, attorney for Daugherty. Judge Mack denied the motion.

"The defense is not in a position to get a fair trial the way this case is being conducted," Steuer asserted with considerable heat.

Daugherty and Miller, who are charged with conspiracy to deprive the government of their "unprejudiced services' in connection with the return of $7,000,000 worth of seized alien property belonging to the German-controlled American Metals company, listened to the plea of Steuer with keen interest.

Steuer's second demand that the case be thrown out of court—the other having been made yesterday—came while John T. Durkin, formerly secretary to the late John T. King, Connecticut politician, was being questioned by Assistant United States Attorney Kenneth Simpson.

15 Reported Dead, 100 Hurt as Cyclone Hits Thrace, Greece

SOFIA, Sept. 15.—At least 15 persons have been killed and 100 injured in a cyclone which swept Thrace, Greece, on Tuesday, according to travelers arriving here today. The damage wrought by the wind was said to be enormous.

NEW YORK-PARIS FLIGHT DELAYED

WESTBURY, N. Y., Sept. 15.—The New York-to-Paris flight will not start until dawn Thursday owing to unfavorable weather reports, Capt. Rene Fonck, the flight leader, announced early today.

Everything had been in readiness for a hop-off this morning but because of storms off the Newfoundland coast the French ace decided to delay a day.

through Cairns' chest and lodged against his back bone.

Self-defense Plea.

Cairns was brought to the hospital in the automobile of another camper. Moore and Cook were arrested nad taken to jail. At first they claimed they had been shot by an unidentified autoist and later said the shooting had occurred when they attempted to hold up the driver of the car. This confession was later repudiated by Cook who said that Moore had done the shooting after Cairns had attacked him. Confronted with Cook's statement, Moore is alleged to have broken down and made a complete confession to Chief of Police McDermott and Captain of Police Conley. The statement was signed by both Moore and Cook before they were turned over to the Beaver county authorities.

The gun, a 25-calibre automatic, Moore said, had been thrown into the creek from the vehicle bridge after the shooting. Beaver county authorities attempted to locate the gun but the water was too deep and muddy. Moore and Cook were arrested and of self-defense during his trial.

TURK-NASH TEAM ATTENDS DINNER

Members of the Turk-Nash Industrial league baseball team and employes of the Turk-Nash sales agency were guests of Michael Turk, head of the organization, at a chicken dinner in Larkins' annex, Market street, at 6 o'clock last evening.

Turk, master of ceremonies, lauded members of the team for their fine showing and assured them of his loyal support next season. Kent McConnell and Clarence "Cracker" Howell, members of the team, also spoke briefly. Places were arranged for 22 guests.

LISBON FAIR DRAWS THRONG

Extra Trolley Service Necessary on Second Day.

With ideal weather prevailing, thousands of visitors packed the fair grounds at Lisbon today for the 77th annual fair of the Columbiana County Agricultural society.

The visitors came by automobile, horse drawn vehicles, street car and steam railroads. Automobiles continued to pass through the gates until late this afternoon.

The Y. & O. Railroad company had extra cars in service between East Liverpool and Salem, two cars being operated hourly. The double service also will be maintained tomorrow, the last day of the fair.

The racing card for today included four events, 2:24 trot, 2:24 pace, 2:21 trot and a 2:14 pace. Purses, aggregating $1,300, will be awarded the winners. Four more races, with purses totalling $1,700, will be featured tomorrow.

Exhibits in poultry, cattle, sheep, hogs and other live stock this year are better than ever. Other displays in vegetables, fruit, fancy work, flowers, baked goods, school work and similar displays were on a par with those of former years. Numerous concessions and shows were crowded into the midway.

Scores of automobiles were on display. Many merchants also operated booths in the main exhibition hall. One of these booths was conducted by the Retail Merchants' division of the East Liverpool Chamber of Commerce. Several sets of dinner ware were to be awarded from the booth.

Pestilence, Hunger Feared in Flood District in Kansas

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 15.—Pestilence and hunger threatened the Kansas flood district today, and in Burlington where most of the flood damage occurred, a second heavy rain was falling.

Small cyclones visited Hutchinson and vicinity last night, causing thousands of dollars damage. Waters had receded in most of the 100-mile long flood area.

Red Cross and other organization workers were taking care of the sick families and hundreds of homeless farmers.

Two Burlington railroad trains were marooned in northwest Missouri this morning and heavy washouts had occurred near St. Joseph, Mo.

FINDLAY FIREMAN TRAFFIC VICTIM

FINDLAY, O., Sept. 15.—Joseph Altman, city fireman for 14 years and a veteran of many battles with flames in which he narrowly escaped with his life many times, was dead at his home here today, a traffic victim. His automobile was struck by a Cleveland-Lima electric train and dragged 400 feet.

LAUNCH QUIZ IN HALL-MILLS DEATH MYSTERY

Somerville, N. J., Grand Jurors Charged by Jurist.

THREE ACCUSED

Recently Held Prima Facie Case Had Been Established.

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Sept. 15.—State Supreme Court Justice Charles W. Parker, who recently ruled that a prima facie case had been established against the three defendants in the Hall-Mills murder mystery, today made a special charge to the grand jury which will be asked to return indictments.

"For reasons satisfactory to the court," Justice Parker told the jurors, "you have been recalled here today for the special purpose of considering the evidence relating to the alleged murder of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills some four years ago, with a view of ascertaining whether one or more indictments ought to be found in this matter, and if so who should be the parties indicted.

"Three persons up to this time have been arrested charged with the crime. The first is Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, widow of the deceased clergyman, who is out on bail; the other two are her brother, Willie Stevens, and her cousin, Henry Carpender, who are held without bail."

Important Witnesses Present.

Justice Parker then explained to the jurors that their first move must be to decide whether Dr. Hall and Mrs. Mills actually were murdered. When this fact should be established, he said, then the jury must decide whether the evidence presented warranted the holding of one or more persons for trial. They need not worry about the decree of murder involved, he added, as that was up to the trial jury.

Many important witnesses had already entered the court when the special charge was begun. Among them were Ralph Gorsline, admittedly near the scene of the crime; James Mills, husband of the murdered woman; Barbara Tough, former maid in the Hall home, and Arthur Applegate, whose appearance led to the report that an indictment would be sought against Henry Stevens also.

Applegate was one of those named by Stevens to establish his alibi for the murder night. He is a brother of Willie Stevens and Mrs. Hall, and a cousin of Carpenter.

Nine Persons Plead Guilty in U. S. Court At Steubenville

STEUBENVILLE, O., Sept. 15.—Nine persons pleaded guilty and were sentenced today by Judge Benson W. Hough, who concluded the first term of United States district court ever held here.

James and John A. Keegan, brothers, of Zanesville, were sentenced to a year and a day in Atlanta prison for violation of the national motor vehicle theft act.

Frank J. Bennett, 29, a United States soldier was given the same punishment for a similar offense.

Six others, including a woman, received varying sentences of from 5 days to four months in the county jail for less serious offenses.

FARMERS PLAN TRIP TO CANADA

County Agriculturists Will Inspect Corn Borer Area.

Much interest is being shown by farmers of Columbiana county in the corn borer trip to Canada which will be made on September 20, 21 and 22. The party will leave Lisbon at 6 a. m. on Monday, September 20th and will spend the first night in Monroe, Michigan. The men will inspect the infested area in the territory around Essex, east of Detroit on Tuesday and will return home on Wednesday. A guide will be provided on the visit in Ontario.

The aim of the trip is to observe the extent of the damage done by the European corn borer in Canada. This section is reported to be the most heavily infested with the result that some entire fields are completely destroyed and other fields are seriously damaged.

The fact that Columbiana county has been recently reported entirely infested has created interest in the trip.

The route is so arranged as to avoid driving through Detroit and other large cities where traffic is heavy, according to County Agent Floyd Lower who is in charge of the trip.

Mr. Lower has announced that persons interested in going should communicate with him not later than Saturday, September 18th so that arrangements can be made for cars for the party.

ROADS DAMAGED BY RECENT RAINS

Trustees of Washington township advised the county commissioners Monday afternoon of the severe damage done by recent rains to a number of roads in that township, and sought financial aid to repair the damage.

Although unable to obtain funds from the county, because of the commissioners having no money available for new appropriation, the trustees were informed they could use money collected from assessments levied on certain roads, so long as the bonds on these particular roads are cared for through other channels. By doing this, the trustees have from $400 to $500 available they can use in repairing the dirt roads, and over which the commissioners have no control.

Depository Interest Being Lost by Many Districts of County

Because township, school district and municipal corporation officials have been in the habit of asking for more advance money from the County Auditor Elmer E. Walker than is necessary for their needs until the settlement period, there has been a heavy loss of depository interest to these taxing districts. East Liverpool school district lost $205 depository interests because of its withdrawal of $50,000 from the county before the settlement warrants were issued.

There are 70 taxing districts in the county, and there is to be paid 18 townships $1,308.21 depository interest money, and $7,417.43 is to be paid from this interest fund to 40 school districts. The 12 municipal corporations will have apportioned $4,258.90. County funds will be credited with $22,138.91, and the state will receive $91.11. The total amount banks paid for the use of county money, according to the depository interest sheet is $35,215.37.

It has been pointed out by County Auditor Walker that officers in many taxing districts for years have asked for more money than required to meet immediate needs before the tax settlement period, in some instances $10,000 being asked when less than $5,000 would be sufficient to meet all current requirements. While the officers of the taxing districts have placed their funds in banks on interest, the interest paid on these local funds is not as large as that received by the county, and as a result the taxing district is losing money by making such heavy demands upon the County Auditor for excess advances.

Pimples

What can I do?

"Oh, why can't I have a skin like other girls? Why do I have to have these ugly pimples, blotches and blackheads?

"If I could only find something that would clear up my skin and give me back my soft, rosy complexion, I know I would be the happiest girl in the world! What can I do?"

Is that you talking? If it is, you don't have to worry a minute! Just build up the rich, red blood in your body. Then your skin will be as clear and soft as anybody's.

That's what S. S. S. has been doing for generations—helping Nature build rich, red blood! You can build red blood-cells so fast that the impurities that cause breaking out on the skin hardly get into the system before the pure blood annihilates them—kills them right out—stops them from breaking out through the skin.

And then this rich, red, pure blood feeds and nourishes the tissues of the skin and keeps it looking healthy.

That's all there is to it. Healthy, vigorous, red blood such as S. S. S. helps Nature build, makes you healthy all over. It beautifies your skin—drives away pimples, blackheads, blotches, rash, boils and eczema—gives you back your appetite—builds firm, plump flesh and fills you full of new life and energy.

The docket is expected to be one of the heaviest in recent years.

SPECIAL MEETS OPEN TONIGHT

Rev. Oscar Hudson, of Kansas City, Mo., will open a series of evangelistic meetings tonight in the Church of the Nazarene of which Rev. F. F. Frees is pastor.

Services will begin each evening at 7:30. Three meetings will be held Sunday. Special music will be featured.

Freight Record Broken.

New record for handling freight was established during the past month at Weirton when 2,000 more cars were handled than during the month of July. The new ore bridge and dumper installed by the Weirton Steel company is credited with the increase.

Mid-Week Services.

Pastors will be in charge of the usual mid-week prayer services tonight in the various local churches.

Church Society Meets.

Members of the Ladies Aid society of the First Methodist Episcopal church met last night with Mrs. Thomas Bailey at her home in Grant street. Regular program was carried out during the session.

"Feeling better every day since taking Foley Pills" (diuretic)

A healthy person never feels constantly tired. Being "too tired" continually is a sign of something wrong. The chances are it's your kidneys!

For kidney trouble is real trouble and is the root of many serious disorders; dull headaches, backaches, weary tired feeling, rheumatic pains, nervousness, sleeplessness, irregular bladder action.

Foley Pills, diuretic, are a reliable, valuable medicine that promote sound health by stimulating the kidneys and bladder to a normal, healthy activity. In constant use over 25 years. Satisfaction guaranteed. Sold everywhere. Ask for Foley Pills, diuretic.

"ABIE'S IRISH ROSE" WINNER

Anne Nichols' Comedy Comes to Ceramic for Two Days.

The first bookings for the current season at the Ceramic theatre is Anne Nichols' appealing comedy, "Abie's Irish Rose," the wonder play of the age which she will present Thursday and Friday.

"Abie's Irish Rose," is one of those plays which wins through its bright and witty line, funny situations and simple apealing love story, which is above all coherent and wonderfully human.

It was built for laughing purposes and that it has succeeded in accomplishing the result at which its author aimed can be attested to by the more than ten millions of people who have witnessed it one or more times in the last two years.

As an establisher of lengthy runs and financial returns, its equal has never been known in theatrical history, as the few engagements it has played as below mentioned will verify.

Just think, if you can, of any play which has been offered at one theatre in any one of the cities below, and has played the number of consecutive weeks this perennial wonder has.

Los Angeles 42 weeks; San Francisco, 28 weeks; Pittsburgh, 29 weeks; Cleveland, 28 weeks; Columbus, 14 weeks; Toronto, Canada, 17 weeks; Montreal, P. Q., 10 weeks; Baltimore, 12 weeks; Washington 12 weeks; Chicago, 58 weeks, and New York where it celebrated its 5 years run at the Republic theatre on the evening of May 22nd, and is still playing to capacity audiences. Is it not a record to be proud of?

Miss Nichols will send her big cities company and production intact to fill the engagement here.

'FRECKLES' ROLE FOR RED MACK

Strand Theatre Comedian Dons Big Shoes, Baggy Trousers.

Again donning the big shoes and baggy trousers and playing the character that has endeared him to the theatre-goers of East Liverpool, Red Mack will romp in "Freckles in the Movies" for the last half of the week. This is the first time since the return of this popular comedian and his company for him to play his favorite role, 'Freckles,' and laughs galore are in store for the Strand patrons Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

All players will be seen to good advantage. Stanley Gordon has a manly lead, and as usual Little Mae Mack will be the heroine. Percy DeVille is the despised villain, and Red Mack will see that the finishing touches are put to the comedy element.

The Capital City Four, will again appear in new harmony songs. This quartette is more than making friends and never fail to please in their renditions.

The plot of "Freckles in the Movies" has to deal with an Italian who is in search of a man that has desecrated his home, and arrives just in time to see his quarry about to do the same thing in a different locality. The story is good, with much heart interest, and laughs by the bushel.

Beware Warning Signals of Failing Glandular System
Science Now Knows That Tired, Weak, Worn-Out Conditions Often Caused by Glandular Insufficiency.

THOUSANDS of men and women are weak, worn-out, run down and exhausted, losing strength and losing weight, and fail to recognize the cause, which is often glandular insufficiency, or a weakened glandular system.

Glands exert a remarkable influence on normal health and vigor, according to eminent medical authorities, and when the glands fail to function, health fails.

Science now points a new way to vigorous health and vitality—glandular treatment for glandular insufficiency. Remarkable benefits result often in a short time.

If you are weak-worn-out and run down, seek the thrill of vigorous health and vitality this new way.

Glandogen, the new scientific gland tonic, provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment. Glandogen is prepared in convenient tablet form, for men and for women. Accept no substitutes. Insist on genuine Glandogen, the original gland tonic. Mathews Cut Rate Store will supply you.

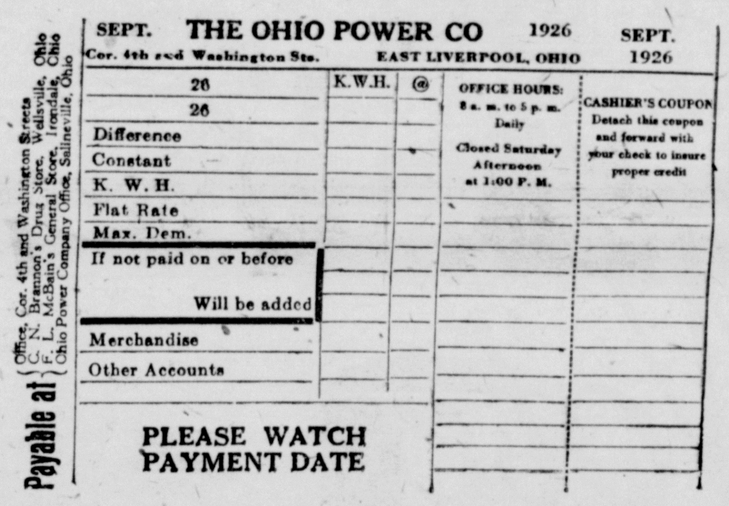
Your Electric Bill

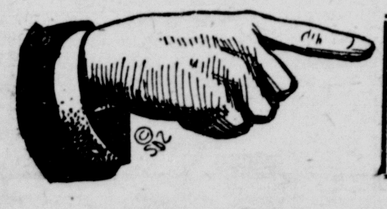


Change of Billing System

We have changed our billing system to meet new conditions brought about by the continual growth in the number of our electric customers. Our method of handling accounts in the past has been to mail all bills on the last day of the month, having the same become due on the 10th. of each month. Commencing with the bills for the month of September, we have installed a continuous billing system under which we will mail a certain number of bills each day, which bills should be paid within ten days from date of mailing.

Watch Payment Date

We would call your attention to the new form of bill shown about which will be used in the future, especially to that portion which reads:



If not paid on or before

will be added

In this space will be shown each month, the date with which your bill should be paid in order to avoid the payment of the Delayed Payment Charge due after the ten day period.

Better Service

This change in the method of handling your account has been done only after due consideration and by elimination of certain peaks in our work we firmly believe that you will find we will be enabled to not only handle your monthly bill and payment of same in more efficient manner, but also to give you better service according to your need in other respects.

No Waiting at Our Cashier Windows

We believe that all customers who make it a practice of paying their bills at our office will particularly agree with us, when we can announce that under the new system we will be able to render more efficient service at our cashier windows, eliminating the necessity of our customers having to wait in line in our office to pay their bill.

This week is NATIONAL SAFETY WEEK

SEPTEMBER 12th to 18th is Safety Week all over the United States. And safer motoring is a chief object of the educational work being done during this week.

Careful driving is, of course, urged upon all motorists, as it has been for years. There is no doubt that if everyone drove carefully, at all times, the annual figures on motoring injuries would be greatly reduced.

We subscribe to all efforts to bring about greater care in the operation of motor vehicles on our streets and highways. However, as local dealers in the New Safety Stutz, our contribution to motoring safety goes further than that.

"It is a serious question whether manufacturers in the past have given adequate thought to the element of safety in the cars they have sold to the general public. Over a period of years our motor-car manufacturers have stressed everything but safety features . . . ."

F. W. JOHNSON, Director Citizens Safety Committee of Philadelphia at the 1926 National Conference on Street and Highway Safety— SECRETARY HOOVER, Chairman.

We are offering the automobilist a car that, from the ground up, is designed to provide the greatest possible degree of in-built safety to its owners.

We believe that the builders of the New Safety Stutz are the first in the field to recognize in full the manufacturer's duty toward safer motoring, presenting an advanced type of automobile in which the element of safety is given engineering precedence.

Special Safety Exhibits and Demonstrations

During Safety Week we shall present special exhibits in our showrooms and give demonstrations of the New Safety Stutz designed to bring out its protective features in a practical way.

These will include:

Exhibits of the Safety Glass used all around in all models of the New Safety Stutz, in comparison with ordinary windshield and window glass, under severe shock.

Exhibit of the New Safety Stutz frame, the backbone of the automobile; the strongest and most rigid on any private passenger car.

Exhibit of the steel running-boards of the New Safety Stutz; literally side-bumpers; with the steel front and rear bumpers, providing a veritable armor-belt of steel about the car.

Exhibit of the New Safety Stutz bodies of steel, exceptionally sturdy, shock-resisting and structurally strong.

Demonstration of the narrow, clear vision front corner-posts of the New Safety Stutz which give an unobstructed view of the road, both ahead and diagonally to the sides.

Demonstration of the advanced four-wheel hydrostatic brakes of the New Safety Stutz developed and built by Timken on a newly-utilized principle, attaining perfect equalization, prevention of skidding and increased effectiveness in stopping.

Demonstration of the instant acceleration of the New Safety Stutz—giving a "nimbleness" to the car that quickly pulls it out of tight places in traffic and dangerous situations on the highway.

Demonstration of the wonderful stability and perfect balance of the New Safety Stutz, with its lower center of gravity and scientific spring suspension, eliminating sidesway and top-heaviness, and increasing road-adhesiveness, ease-of-riding and ease-of-control.

Demonstration of the remarkable ease-of-handling introduced by New Safety Stutz design which makes for safety at all times, because the car acts as quickly as the driver thinks.

We Promise You a Revelation

No matter what cars you have driven or what car you are now driving, we promise to show you new standards of roadability, riding-and-driving charm, comfort and security in the New Safety Stutz.

In giving you this assurance, we do no more than promise you what present New Safety Stutz owners testify to having found in this highly-developed automobile after owning both American and European cars of much higher price.

Do not miss this opportunity to acquaint yourself with automotive progress. See the New Safety Stutz this week—ride in it, drive it. Learn how safe and delightful motoring has now been made for you.

The Symbol of Safety

The New Safety Stutz is permanently protected against theft, by The Fedco System, without cost to the car owner.

An exclusive feature is Loss-of-Use Insurance, paying the car owner five dollars per day, up to thirty days, for loss of the car's use through theft. This also is without cost to the car owner.

The entire car has Underwriters' Class A rating on both fire and theft.

Eight body styles, including 7-passenger models, designed and constructed under the supervision of Brewster of New York. All closed bodies automatically ventilated by Hubbard Ventilating Eaves—another exclusive feature.

Salem Elks Fling Series Challenge At Mundy's All-Stars

Propose Inter-City Championship Games, To Begin On Sunday

Salemites Fresh From Conquest Over North County Industrial Circuit; Lineup Made Up Chiefly of East Liverpool Lads.

LIKE Alexander the Great, he of historical fame, Carroll Brumbaugh, manager of the Salem Elks baseball club, which recently won the championship of Salem in a series with the Industrial league champs, feels the necessity of conquering more worlds, or baseball clubs, as the case may be, and comes out with a challenge today to the East Liverpool Industrial league for a series of title contests.

The Elks have had more than a successful season—no question about that, and much of the credit goes to a half dozen or more East Liverpool lads who joined the Salemites early in the campaign, including McConnell, the Bayleys, Pollock, Finley, Simcox and others.

The Salem challenge is aimed at Bill Mundy's Industrial League All Stars who disposed of the Midland All Stars in a proposed five-game series that went only three. The Elks now are resting on their laurels that went with their victory over the Salem Industrialists in straight games.

The Elks won games this year from Akron, Youngstown, Canton teams as well as the Midland A. B. C., Freedom, Rochester, Detroit Clowns and others, losing decisions to the Akron Goodyears, Canton Pennzoils and Massillon Agathons, which are good teams to lose to, if necessary.

Manager Brumbaugh would like to put on this series in East Liverpool, inasmuch as it would be practically an East Liverpool outfit with the exception of only a handful of Salem lads.

He feels better fortified now in the return of Schmidt, a catcher who has just returned from the Washington Americans, and Frank Scullion, who is back from Chicago where he wound up the season with the Detroit Clowns.

These stars, augmented by Al and Pete Sanders, of Salem, and Salnor, Deahler, Simcox, Finley, Pollock, A. Bayley and McConnell, combine to form the best club that has represented the Salem Elks since their entry into baseball.

"We would like to battle Mundy's team in a three-game series starting Sunday, on any ball park suitable to him."

This is Brumbaugh's defi to the Potters.

Brumbaugh proposes to play on a 60-40 basis or winner take all and Mundy can use any player in the City Industrial circuit with the exception of those performing with the Elks. He wants to hear from Mundy as soon as possible either through the newspaper or Kent McConnell, local representative of the Salem Elks.

REDS LEADING BIG PARADE

Hold Half-game Margin Over St. Louis Cards.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Cincinnati holds undisputed possession of first place this morning in the National league free-for-all, having defeated Brooklyn yesterday while the Cardinals were idle. The Reds now lead St. Louis by a half game while the Pirates, who also won yesterday, trail the Cardinals by two games.

Chicago's faint pennant hopes went glimmering when McCarthy's club lost to the Phillies.

The Yankees and Indians who were idle yesterday, open a crucial six game series in Cleveland today. Speaker's tribe must sweep the series to gain the league lead.

THINKS JACK'S MADE TO ORDER

STROUDSBURG, Pa., Sept. 15.—Refreshed physically and mentally by a rest yesterday, Gene Tunney got back to the training grind today in preparation for his championship bout with Jack Dempsey.

"I am at the peak of condition and with just a week to go, I must be careful," the challenger said. "When I am absolutely certain that I am where I want to be I will cut down the work sufficiently to hold my form."

Tunney was to have his first workout today with Jimmy Delaney, the St. Paul fighter.

"Delaney is a mighty clever fighter and I believe he will benefit me greatly," Tunney said.

Gene believes Dempsey's style of fighting is "made to order" for him.

"Dempsey's style of fighting is such that he is wide open to a hooking uppercut from either hand, and his stance is such that he can be sent back on his heels and kept there," he asserted. "Now I have a good, strong left hand hooking uppercut. If I can rock Dempsey up on his heels, he will be in a position where I can put the business on him in a hurry."

An Evidence of Refinement

Good taste and good health demand sound teeth and sweet breath.

The use of Wrigley's chewing gum takes care of this important item of personal hygiene in a delightful, refreshing way.

Wrigley's removes odors of dining or smoking from the breath by cleaning the teeth, by stimulating the flow of digestive juices, and by the antiseptic action of the flavoring extracts for which Wrigley's is famous—"The Flavor Lasts!"

PENNANT'S NOT WON, SAYS 'HUG'

"Don't be Misled by Your Lead," He Tells Players.

By Ford C. Frick.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 15.—The world and his brother are convinced that the Yankees will win the 1926 American league pennant.

This correspondent has finally discovered two skeptics.

One of them, the Cleveland Indians. The other one, Miller Huggins.

Don't misunderstand me. Mr. Huggins, of course, is still confident. But he believes the fight is still a tough one and he told his young men so this morning when he had them in conference preceding the opening of the six-game series this afternoon with the Cleveland contenders.

Mr. Huggins preached an admirable sermon, taking as his text that old English adage: "It's the biggest nose that's easiest to swat."

Nor did he go far into history for his precedent. He pointed out to the boys that in 1921 the Pittsburgh Pirates came into the Polo grounds with a six-game lead, the pennant in their pocket. They were cocky, and confident, and careless. And Mr. McGraw's Giants knocked them for a row of rubber teeth before the could say "scat." The pennant that year went to the Giants.

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON,
Maker of 51 Golf Champions. "Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.

When the sand in a trap is wet and well packed an explosion shot is seldom attempted. Instead, you now "cut" the ball up and out with the niblick. For this play get the direction line and plant your feet firmly in the sand. If the ball must take a considerable rise to clear an embankment, flatten down the blade some as you swing it back and forth over the ball in the address. You may if you wish, rest the club in the grass on the bank until you get your grip as you want it, but you must never, of course, let the clubhead touch the sand in the trap while you are addressing the ball. Swing the club now largely with the wrists. Let it swing slowly back, like a pendulum, then let it have plenty of time to turn from the top at the end of a half back swing. Then flick it forward with the wrists, letting it cut directly under the ball. Be sure you scrape just under the ball. And go clear through the ball.

National League Is Seeing Red-- And Not Cardinal Shade, Either

By Garry Schumacher.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—National league observers are seeing red these days. And they don't mean the Cardinal shade either. No indeed—it's the red sported by the athletes from Cincinnati.

They jumped to the leadership of the pennant parade yesterday as they vanquished the Robins once again and today are favored to stay there. They are favorites not because they beat the Robins. That's an every day accomplishment—but because of the manner in which they achieved the victory. They looked and played like champions as they turned the trick.

They fielded marvelously. They hit the ball hard and at opportune moments, and the pitching provided by Carl Mays was well night flawless. But greater than these mechanical attributes was their spirit—their mental attitude toward the game.

Never for a second did they permit an onlooker to gain the idea that they doubted the outcome. There was a sureness and a poise about their every action that compelled recognition. They knew themselves that they were going to win—and forced everybody else to realize it too.

Reports from Boston where the St. Louis Cardinals kicked off three games in four starts would indicate that their morale is not nearly so high. Wee Willie Sherdel's control failed him in a critical moment during the final game on Monday, and the Cardinal bats were strangely silent in the pinches. They appeared worried and flustered—afraid rather than confident. Unless that attitude is changed Hornsby and his athletes might just as well waive the pennant goodbye right now.

CHAMP LOCKS CAMP DOORS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 15.—Jack Dempsey will pick up the burden of training here again today behind locked and guarded gates at the dog track.

Fresh from a day of rest, untroubled by injunctions and threatening legal storms, the champion expects to get down to serious labor in today's workouts. Gone will be the easy fiddling with sparring partners and if there be any among the Dempsey collections of catchers who can not take take it, they will not be among those present very long.

Newspapermen will be permitted to peek today and tomorrow but after that the workouts are going to be as secret as a corps of about 20 watchmen can make them.

Tonight the champion will referee one of the bouts on a card of fights arranged for a milk fund benefit by a local newspaper.

AT NEW YORK:—Bud Gorman defeated Franz Diener, German heavyweight, 10 rounds.

Maxie Rosenbloom, New York middleweight, beat Jimmy Francis, Jersey City, 10 rounds.

FLAG RIVALS AT CHESTER

Third Battle of City Series Will Start at 4:45 p. m.

THE third game of the City Industrial league's title series will be played this afternoon at Smith Field, beginning at 4:45 o'clock so as to permit the completion of seven full innings before darkness.

Each club has won a game, each recording victories in last inning rallies that reeked with sensationalism.

Both of the flag rivals are showing wonderful recuperative qualities. Managers McCoy and Riley are deploying their performers with outstanding skill and getting maximum results.

Today's decision will put one of the pair within a single game of victory, unless a tie results.

Whether Manager Riley will send his youthful star, P. Bennett, to the hillock, is conjectural. This choice is likely if Mike Cebula is unable to fill the bill. Riley expressed the opinion several days ago that Cebula would probably be used today if his wrist is right.

Although he has twirled twice, breaking even, Ashe may be elected for the third consecutive time. Digman's injured wrist, however, may be improved sufficiently to permit him to work.

There is also a possibility that Briggle, who finished so strongly the first game when Ashe was taken out for a pinch hitter, may get the call.

A big crowd is assured as the series goes into the "crucial" stages.

Alonzo-Lacoste Clash.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15—Manuel Alonzo, of Spain, and Rene Lacoste, the French tennis star, will clash in the feature match this afternoon in the national singles championship at Forest Hills. Other matches include Edward Chandler vs. Jean Borotra, William T. Tilden vs. Arnold Jones and "Little Bill" Johnston vs. Edward Jacobs.

Takeichi Harada, Japanese star, was eliminated yesterday by Dr. George King and Alfred Chapin lost to Francis T. Hunter.

Carl Mays pitched the Reds into first place by holding Brooklyn to five hits, winning 5 to 1. Mays pitched out of turn at his own request and easily won his 19th game of the season.

Keen Scrap on Among Gridiron Candidates; Three Squads At Work

Lack of Space at City Park Hampers Operations of School Teams in Daily Drill Program; Sebring Here Sept. 25.

WITH enthusiasm running high and a fight on for practically every job on the team, unless, perhaps, it might be Captain Dick Larkins' post at center, where the 1927 East Liverpool high school squad can boast fortifications second to none in this part of the country, Coach George Kidder's gridders are carrying on daily at city park, with the opening game with Sebring scheduled here on Saturday, September 25.

Kidder's chief problem thus far is lack of space for the operations of the three squads which have been working out since school opened. Patterson Field is still in a swampy condition and only the good efforts of the weatherman will put it in shape for the inaugural battle.

The Blue and White backfield this fall will have a strong, husky line to work behind, from all indications at present.

In the center will be Larkins, who, on offense, probably will call the numbers and generally direct the movements of the attack.

At the guard posts may be found either Swaney, Kinsey, Irwin or Todd, all veterans, along with "Red" Gefeller and "Neek" Allison, new talent of promising capabilities. Todd also will understudy Larkins at center.

R. Smith, Dave Anderson, Clark and Joe Carney are leading in the scrap for tackle berths All are big and possess, apparently, necessary qualifications.

There is a real fight on for the ends among Cordwin, English, Deems and Dick McKee. Coaches are doubtful at the present as to the outcome.

Kirkham and his 185 pounds is regarded as one of the most promising candidates for fullback. He has not been able to do a whole lot this fall yet on account of an injured knee but expects to be able to get into action in the near future.

Davis, McConville and Bromby are back on the job from last year's team, and, as a result of additional weight taken on during the year, figure to make the backfield possibilities of the squad better than ever.

Among the new backfield material are Fullerton, a halfback, who has been showing up exceptionally well as a line plunger; Van Dyne, another half; and Joe Lincoln, who has displayed real stuff as a defensive player.

The make-up of the team, however, is far from certain at this stage of the game, asserts Coach Kidder, and it probably won't be known, he adds, until the hour of the game with Sebring and then the starting eleven will be more or less of an experiment.

Selection of officials who will handle games here has already been made by school officials, obviating troubles encountered in booking competent men from Saturday to Saturday.

Barrett, of Sebring, listed in Spalding's Athletic Library as one of the Ohio association's dependable referees, will be in charge of all clashes at Patterson Field with the exception of the first two, which will be handled by Gross, of New Philadelphia.

An employe of the American Vitrified Products Co., Deemer, will officiate as umpire. Deemer is a Hiram man.

Leader a year ago today—Hornsby, St. Louis, .393.

With Ray Kremer yielding only four hits, the first of which came in the seventh inning, the Pirates came to life and thrashed the Giants, 5 to 0. The Corsairs put the game on ice in the first inning when they made four runs after two men were out and knocked McQuillan out of the box.

Note what all owners say

Talk with any Hupmobile Eight owner who has owned other fine and far more costly cars. You will discover a unanimity of opinion about the Hupmobile Eight—a definite, deep-rooted conviction that it is different from and superior to anything which has ever been produced in America.

Owners will tell you that the Hupmobile Eight is the greatest performing car they have ever driven.

They will tell you, too, that no car in their experience was so smooth, so quiet and handled with such amazing ease.

Even on traffic-crowded streets, driving the Hupmobile Eight is not a job—but a joy.

You should expect these and many other fine results from the Hupmobile Eight.

For thoughtful and analytical engineers, looking for a car to compare with the Hupmobile Eight, find only one—that is an eminent Italian eight, built in the painstaking European method, and priced several thousand dollars higher than the Hupmobile Eight.

If you have never experienced the difference between the finest eight-cylinder performance and the best of other kinds of performance, one real test of the Hupmobile Eight will conclusively establish its performance—will show you why the Hupmobile Eight is sweeping on to ever-growing success.

Haskin's Letter

placement the plane had to carry one half pound of load. This formula gave each ship a point factor, and the point factor times the average speed gave the number of points for each leg of the tour. Beech's plane, with a load of 600 pounds, had a point factor of 2.32, while Meister's, which carried an 800-pound load, had a point factor of 2.42. Both ships were equipped with Wright Whirlwind 200-horse-power air-cooled engines. Last year only one of the planes that made the flight was equipped with air-cooled motors. This year, seven of the ships were so equipped.

Aviation enthusiasts say that air transportation now is no more of an experiment than motor transportation was ten or twelve years ago. Machines have been developed to the point where risks have been greatly reduced. Shortly, it is claimed, the risk will be minimized to a degree that will make the proponents of rail and moter transportation sit up and take notice.

It might be mentioned, by the way, that there is an airline between Washington and Philadelphia that is shuttling a large number of passengers between these two cities every day.

SAFETY TALK IS GIVEN HERE

W. A. Dickey Speaks at Meeting of Chester Boosters' Club.

W. A. Dickey of Pittsburgh, connected with the safety department of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, was the principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Chester Boosters' club held yesterday in the Masonic temple, First street.

He pointed out that at the beginning of the present year there were 242,807 grade crossings in the United States, of which 3,059 had been eliminated but that 14,494 new crossings had been created. Statistics were quoted on the number of accidents in which automobiles and railroads trains figure and the percentage of deaths.

Grade crossing accidents were summarized as follows: Automobiles, 84 per cent; other vehicles, 9 per cent; pedestrians, 7 per cent. The speaker referred to the campaign under the direction of the National Safety council to reduce accidents by at least 25 percent in the next seven years which he claimed would save approximately 10,000 lives in the above period. He closed his remarks by stating that at least 60 per cent of accidents occurred in homes.

F. S. Huff reported that pamphlets advertising Chester were ready for the printer and that new road signs would soon be placed in position.

R. R. Rutledge, president of the club, presided.

SERVICE PENSION QUOTA OUTLINED

Plans for the raising of the quota of the Wheeling Presbyterian laymen in the $15,000,000 campaign to establish a new service pension plan were outlined at a luncheon of the ministers of the Wheeling presbytery yesterday in Wheeling. I. M. Scott, as chairman of the committee for the raising of the funds, presided at the luncheon.

The campaign is being launched over the entire country by the laymen of the Presbyterian church, Will H. Hays being the chairman of the movement and Andrew W. Mellon, the treasurer. It is the plan to establish moderate pensions for the Presbyterian ministers, missionaries and their dependents.

SERIES CONTEST HERE TONIGHT

Third game of the series between Chester and Homer Laughlin to decide the championship of the Industrial league will be played tonight on Smith field beginning at 4:45.

Manager Frank Riley will probably send Mike Cebula to the firing line in an attempt to gain an advantage in the series.

Large crowd is expected to witness the contest.

MRS. L. C. SWANEY, AGED 91, DIES

Mrs. Lucinda Cristler Swaney, 91 years old, widow of Captain D. H. Swaney, died yesterday at her home in Shippingport, Pa.

Mrs. Swaney, who was one of the oldest residents of this section, is survived by one daughter, Miss Effie Swaney.

Funeral services will be held in the home at 2:30 (Eastern time) tomorrow afternoon.

Road Work Progressing.

Work is progressing on the improvement of the road between Laughlin's corner and Clinton, Pa. The highway is part of the Lincoln highway route between Chester and Pittsburgh.

Engineers Making Survey.

Engineers connected with the state road commission are making a survey of the road between Chester and the Pennsylvania state line which will be improved to join with the Lincoln highway.

C. E. Members Meet.

Members of the Christian Endeavor of the First Christian church met last night in the parlors of the church. Plans were completed for a supper to be held Friday night in the church.

Mid-Week Services.

Mid-week prayer services will be held tonight in the Chester churches in charge of the respective pastors.

ILLINOIS BARS BANTAM CHAMP

By Gene Hoffman.

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Chicago fight fans were reeling today from the knockout blow administered by the Illinois athletic commission when that body late yesterday announced that the Charley Rosenberg-Bud Taylor bantamweight title match had been declared off.

The fight was scheduled for Cubs park tomorrow night. More than $50,000 worth of tickets had been sold.

Chairman O. W. Huncke, of the boxing commission, who made the startling announcement, said the commission had called off the fight because Champion Rosenberg and Harry Segal, his manager, had failed to post the forfeit required by Illinois law.

Rosenberg and Segal were both suspended for life in Illinois, the commission further ruled, and declared that Bud Taylor would be looked upon in the future as the bantam-weight champion of the world.

Chairman Huncke hinted that efforts of Rosenberg supporters, including a group of New York and Chicago gamblers, to influence through political channels the appointment of a referee, had much to do with the commission's decision to call off the fight.

The inference was made that Rosenberg and his manager delayed posting the forfeit until a referee acceptable to them could be appointed. A surprising switch in betting odds, it was reported, was also viewed significantly by the commission.

Dinner Party Held.

Annual "family dinner" party of the Philathea class was held last night in the United Presbyterian church. Diversified program was given by the members.
